

Town hall meeting set for appraisals

Local property owners received their Bell County Appraisal District Notice of Appraisals last week and for some of them it seemed like a bad April Fools' joke.

Turns out, the increase of more than 30 percent in some reported cases in the Salado area, is no joke.

Bell County Commissioner Bobby Whitson has organized a town hall meeting 6:30 p.m. April 11 at the Salado Intermediate School cafeteria to discuss the dramatic increase in property values between 2018 and 2019.

Billy White, Chief Appraiser for Bell County Tax Appraisal Office will be presenting information on the Property Tax process.

"Property taxes are something we all dread, but in Texas, it is the primary source of funding for municipalities, counties, school districts, and other specially districts that provide public services," Whitson said. "The process can be complicated, but it can be understood and a variety of exemptions are available."

"In recent years, Salado property values have risen dramatically causing property taxes to rise right along with them," he added.

Whitson has also invited Shay Leudeke, Bell County Tax Assessor/Collector, Michael Novotny, Salado ISD Superintendent, and Salado Aldermen to be present to answer questions on behalf of those taxing entities.

The notices of appraised value were mailed to single-family residence homestead property owners on April 1. Other property owners will receive their notices of appraised value on May 1.

On April 30, the Bell County Chief Appraiser will certify the values and send those certified values to the taxing entities in Bell County.

Between May 1 and May 15, Appraisal District must publish in a newspaper of general circulation within the County the notice about taxpayer protests process.

The typical filing deadline for taxpayer protests in midnight on May 15, or 30 days after notice of appraised value is delivered, whichever is later.

Protests are heard by the Appraisal Review Board. The Bell County Appraisal District Appraisal Review Board is composed of Chairman Jack Folsom, Secretary John Odom, Dorothy Coppin, Eddie Oliver and Jeremy Samu.

Protest forms can be found on the Bell County Appraisal District website at bellcad.org or the Comptroller's Website: comptroller.texas.gov/forms/50-132.

However, according to the Comptroller's website, notice of protest need not be on the form. According to the website: "Your notice of protest is sufficient if it identifies (1) the protesting person claiming an ownership interest in the property, (2) the property that is the subject of the protest and (3) dissatisfaction with a determination of the appraisal district."

The Comptroller's website states "You may protest the value on your property in the following situations:

- the value the appraisal district placed on your property is too high;
- your property is unequally appraised;
- the appraisal district denied a special appraisal, such as open-space land, or incorrectly denied your exemption application;
- the appraisal district failed to provide you with required notices; or
- other matters prescribed by Tax Code Section 41.41(a)."

Last year, more than 6,000 property owners filed protests to the Bell CAD appraisals.

Spring cleaning time for Salado

Spring has arrived and so has the time for another community cleanup day in Salado. Residents are encouraged to take part in the Salado Spring Sweep and Texas Trash-Off Day sponsored by Keep Salado Beautiful on April 13.

"This is a great opportunity for Salado residents to do their part to help keep our community a clean and attractive place to live, work and visit," said Keep Salado Beautiful Coordinator Lisa Nix. "Volunteers of all ages are welcome to participate in the event."

Individuals interested in taking part in the clean-up are asked to gather at 8:30 a.m. April 13 at the Salado Civic Center located at 601 N. Main Street. After registering, participants will be provided trash bags and trash pickers and then dispatched to designated locations in the community to pick up trash and debris. Hecho en Queso will provide breakfast bites. Bring your container for coffee, hot chocolate, and water.

Eagle Disposal will provide dumpsters in the parking lot of the Civic Center where volunteers can deposit their bags of collected litter and recyclable goods. Drop off your used electronics for the Salado High School Robotics Team. There will be prizes for the most unusual item and the most collected.

"Our volunteers make such a difference in Salado," Nix said. "Fanning out across the Village and collecting trash along the roadsides, creek banks and in other public areas in our community is a great way to spend a Saturday in April, while giving back to your community."

Local Scouts, as well as representatives of local service organizations, are expected to join other volunteers in the community clean-up effort that will last from 8:30 a.m. to noon.

The Spring Clean-Up is a community-wide collaborative project coordinated and sponsored by Keep Salado Beautiful.

Saladoans took the opportunity to meet the new Police Chief Pat Boone during an informal reception on April 4. Boone started work in Salado on April 1.

Before coming to Salado, Boone was the Director of the Central Texas College Police Academy, a position he has held since 2013. Prior to assuming his position with the College, he spent 17 years with the Killeen Police Department where he rose to the rank of Lieutenant. In his years with the Killeen Police Department, Boone worked as a Patrol Officer, Shift Sergeant, Polygraph Examiner, Detective, SWAT Team Leader, and Supervisor of the Organized Crime Unit.

Salado police investigating death of 13 year old boy

Village of Salado Police responded to a 911 call at approximately 11:30 a.m. April 7. The call came from family members who discovered the body of a 13 year old at their home.

Justice of the Peace Cliff Coleman pronounced the young man dead after responding to the call shortly after 12:30 p.m. He ordered an autopsy to be performed.

Police Chief Pat Boone said that the Salado Police Department is conducting an investigation into the death of the young man, but provided no other details at this time.

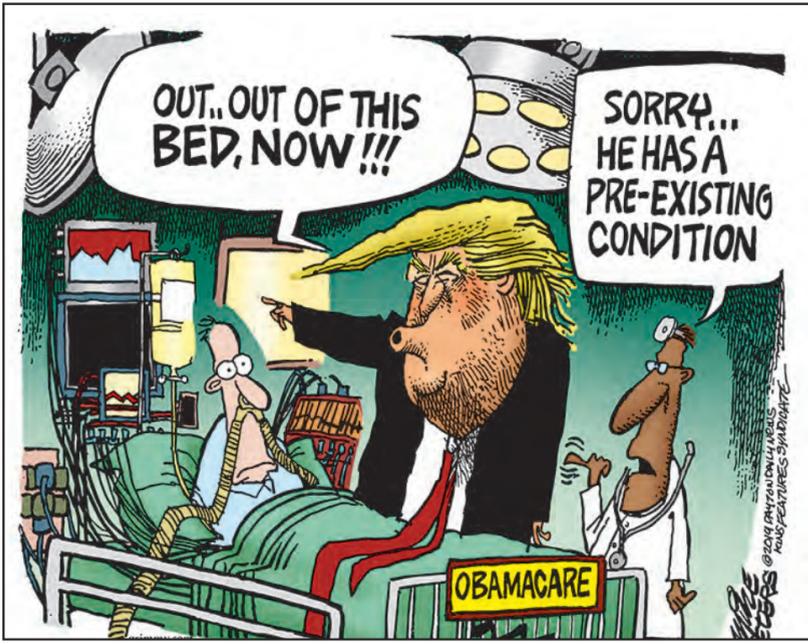

In an email to Salado students, Superintendent Michael Novotny stated that "one of our 7th grade students, Landon Sellers, has died. Our thoughts and sympathies are with his family and friends."

"Counselors will be available at the schools to meet with students individually and in groups tomorrow as well as over the coming days and weeks," Dr. Novotny stated in the email. "Contact the school office if you feel your child is in need of additional assistance; we have a list of school and community mental health resources."

A Rosary for Landon will be held at 6 p.m. April 15 at Broecker Funeral Home on West Village Road. Mass will be 10 a.m. April 16 at St. Stephen Catholic Church with burial to follow at Salado Cemetery. Funeral under direction of Broecker Funeral Home.

"If your child wishes to attend, we strongly encourage you to accompany him or her to the service," Dr. Novotny stated. "If the funeral is scheduled during school hours, students who wish to attend will need parental permission to be released from school."

SISD students excel despite lower funding

Superintendent's Corner

by Dr. Michael Novotny

Our students continue to excel academically, artistically, and athletically every year. Their incredible success is a result of their hard work, along with teachers that are caring and hard-working, and parents that are involved and supportive of their education. I am very fortunate to have all three of my sons receiving an education in this school district.

However, my greatest challenge as a superintendent is to continue to provide the best possible education to our students with very limited funds. It often feels like we are trying to provide a "Cadillac" education on a "Chevrolet" budget. (Disclaimer to Chevrolet owners – please don't be offended by that analogy as all three of the vehicles that my wife, son, and I drive are Chevrolets).

My claim that our district has very limited funds might seem ironic given the increase most of you saw in your appraised value statement you received in the mail from the Bell County Appraisal District last week. However, what you probably don't realize is that those additional local tax dollars for our school district every year are offset by a reduction in state funding.

Texas public school funding per student is well below the national average. Based on the most recently available (2016) data from the Census Bureau, Texas public schools receive an average of $9,016 per student, as compared to the national average of $11,762 per student. Based on our enrollment, this difference of $2,746 per student would translate to over $5 million of additional funding per year for our school district.

Unfortunately, our school district's funding challenges are exacerbated by the fact that we also receive one of the lowest amounts of funding per student out of the over 1,000 school districts in Texas.

The following chart is a comparison of the funding per student each year for all 16 school districts in which part of all of the district's boundaries are in Bell County. The funding per student is actually funding per "Average Daily Attendance" (ADA), because we only receive funding for students on the days they attend school. The enrollments of these districts vary considerably – from Bartlett with 320 students to Killeen with 40,593 students. In order to better compare them to our district, I also calculated what their total funding per year would be based on our enrollment of 1,957 students.

The average funding per student of the other 15 school districts is $9,708, which is $1,861 per student above our school district. If Salado was funded based on the average per student funding of these other districts, our district would receive an additional $3,642,368 per year in funding. That would be a 23.7% increase in funding for our school district. It is very challenging to maintain competitive salaries for our teachers and other employees, manageable class sizes, and quality curricular and extracurricular programs given this financial disadvantage we have compared to most of the school districts in Texas and all of the school districts in our area.

Some of these differences in funding are based on student demographics. School districts receive additional funding for some students based on their demographics or the programs they qualify for, such as special education and English as a Second Language (ESL), and our district has a lower percentage of students that qualify for this additional funding. However, other differences in funding are based on the inequities in the school finance formulas.

All of these comparisons are based on Maintenance and Operations (M&O) funding, which is the total of local property taxes and state funding. They do not include federal funding, including Title I, Title II, Title III, special education, and Impact Aid funding. For example, Killeen ISD receives approximately $50 million per year in Impact Aid for the enrollment of federally connected children, including children of active duty military. While I don't have the data available to compare the federal funding that all of these other 15 school districts receive, I am very confident that our district also receives the lowest amount per student of federal funding, which is yet another financial disadvantage that our school district experiences every year as compared to other districts.

In my column next week, I will continue this discussion regarding school funding and focus on the school funding bill (House Bill 3) that was approved last week on a vote of 148-1 in the Texas House.

West Texas Crude continues to climb as IOPEC throttles production output

The Markets

The oldest and our most favorite U.S. stock market index, the Standard & Poor's 500 Stock Index (SPX) turned in a week of good work, rising 2.06% to close on the fifth at 2892.74. That two percent climb added to the 2019 total to put a year-to-date rise of 15.39% on the books. The SPX is now up just over 11% for one year but still 38 points or about 1.3% below where it was in late September of last year. The catalyst for the rise was widely held to be the improving rumors about a possible end to the U.S. China trade war.

The ten-year U.S. Treasury note yield joined in the party, rising 4.9 basis points to 2.491% after briefly rising above 2.5% mid-week. That rise puts the 10-year yield above the 2.422% yield on the 3-month T-bill, thus ending the brief but scary inverted yield curve. The ominous dip in yields from 2 to 5 years remains in place, suggesting an economic slowdown in the next couple of years is still in the bond market tea-leaves.

West Texas Crude continued its ascending trajectory over the week, closing out on Friday at $63.28, up 5% for the week and 34.5% this year as OPEC continues to throttle back on production. Gold was almost unchanged at $1,295.70 and remains down about 5.5% from a year ago. The dollar rose about 0.2%, still up about 7.5% from a year ago.

The Economy

The U.S. labor market surged back after the shockingly low 33,000 net new hires in February (adjusted from the earlier estimate of 20,000) to a whopping 196,000 new jobs in March. The major gains in March were similar to what we have seen for the past several years with health care, professional, and technical services leading the way. Construction employment edged up, but manufacturing employment fell by 6,000 after averaging a 22,000 per month gain over the past year. Average hourly earning rates were up 3.2% from a year earlier. The short story on employment is that while the moving averages suggest a slowing rate of growth, growth is still there and rolling along at a faster rate than many thought was possible.

Moody's Economics' high-frequency GDP indicator estimates the annualized GDP growth for the first quarter will be between 1.6% and 2.0%, higher than had been forecast previously but lower than any quarter in 2018. The reason for the upgrade was a surge in inventory buildup following the President's threat to close the U.S. Mexican border. It is worth remembering that a year ago, following the tax cuts and a dramatic increase in deficit-funded spending, the U.S. economic growth jumped to a 4% annualized rate but has been slowing each quarter since.

Economists generally agree that the maximum sustainable rate of U.S. GDP growth, given the constraints imposed by our infrastructure and employment base, is about 1.8% per year. Any sustained growth above that number would then be effectively borrowed from future years, or at least that is how the theory goes. The Trump administration and Republicans in Congress have effectively made a bet that economic theory is wrong, and a faster economic growth rate can be sustained by dramatically increased government borrowing and spending. Thus, we are witnessing a grand experiment, testing generally accepted economic theory. The jury is still out as we can see conflicting signals. The employment numbers suggest a rapidly growing economy with good momentum is in place. The record import volume tells us the same story. On the other hand, we are seeing retail sales growth appearing to reverse and decline and the bond market suggesting that borrowing for new purchases and business expansion is declining.

In the final, for the moment, analysis, we continue to believe that an end to the threatened and actual trade war actions could spark a final economic surge in this cycle and that surge might be accompanied by stock indices breaking through to new highs and a decent long-term gain. The reverse side to that coin is that a negative trade shock from the threatened 25% import tariffs or closing of the U.S. Mexican border, or both, could easily trigger a recession sooner than the bond market is predicting. It all bears watching. The longer-term outlook is exceptionally good. Manufacturing employment is dropping not because we are in a manufacturing slump but because manufacturing is transitioning to more automated systems just as will transportation and a host of other areas we can only imagine. In the end that will be good for us collectively but a difficult transition for those in menial, repetitive jobs that can and will be done by computer-controlled machines.

Drug manufacturers blame PBMs rather than themselves for prescription hikes

To the Editor:

One just needs take a deep breath to realize that 2020's political season is warming up, and as one old politico would say, "The rats are running, and the finger pointing has begun." It seems the multinational drug manufacturing cartel has finally crossed the line on pricing, and since Bernie Sanders, et al, are stirring the drug price pot (i.e. in the drug industry's lingo, "rabble rousing"), the cartel and its affiliates have decided it's better to lose a nickel than a dollar. Needing someone other than themselves to blame, manufacturers are targeting their historic drug rebates to PBMs like Express Scripts and a multitude of others. Having interfaced with PBMs for decades, I have no problem with that. I can think of nothing good to say about them, but PBMs are a minor part of the pricing problem. Not so, says Peter Pitts in the April 4 edition of Salado Village Voice.

It has long been the drug cartel's lobbying ploy to establish, use and/or fund focus entities with high-sounding names, so it's always interesting to see who is paying their bills. Peter J. Pitts is president and co-founder of the Center for Medicine in the Public Interest (CMPI). Funders of CMPI include Pfizer, the world's largest drug company with 2017 revenue of more than $52 billion (with a B), and Pharmaceutical Research and Manufacturers of America (PhRMA),

Your Voice

Letters to the Editor

the trade group for the U.S. pharmaceutical industry and the U.S. promoter of cartel interests.

Pitts' "new" position on PBM discounts is strange, since his benefactor, PhRMA, originally fought giving direct discounts for Medicare drug pricing and allegedly rewarded ex-Louisiana Congressman, Billy Tauzin, for advancing its interests. Tauzin played a key role in shepherding through Congress the 2003 Medicare Prescription Drug Bill - often considered "a give-away to the drugmakers" - because, unlike Veterans Administration agreements, it prohibited Medicare from negotiating discounted drug prices. The cartel-designed bill was passed in a controversial session with heavy pressure from drug companies. In January 2005, the day after his term in Congress ended, Tauzin was anointed head of PhRMA, and according to Wikipedia, received a salary estimated at $2 million a year, and he received $11.6 million from PhRMA in 2010.

Now the cartel has apparently decided to "throw a bone" to President Trump, who among other promises, said he would lower drug prices. As has been Trump's wont, he put a fox in the hen house - HHS Secretary Alex Azar, who spent much of his time lobbying for the drug industry as well as five years as president of Eli Lilly, a global pharmaceutical company with 2017 revenue of almost $23 billion. Pitts credits Trump and Azar with this new anti-PBM rebate scheme.

Pitts claims that the average PBM rebate knocks off nearly 40 percent of its brand name drugs' costs. (Believable - as a hospital and HMO pharmacist, I routinely negotiated up to 80 or 90 percent off the list price of a drug.) However, based on this, a legitimate argument is: If Pfizer can generate over $50 billion and Lilly more than $20 billion annually while discounting 40 percent to PBMs, they can surely afford to drop their prices by 1/2 to everyone in the U.S. Don't hold your breath - and of course, Pitts opposes the importation of drugs from other countries in order to lower prices in the United States - countries that often achieve that 50% off or even less.

If the Trump and Azar plan described by Pitts takes effect, PBMs will "no longer get rebates for prescription drugs in the Part D program." Fine, they probably don't earn them anyway.

Pitts also posits that "if just one third of the total discounts PBMs now negotiate for (their) Part D plans was passed on to patients at the pharmacy counter, Medicare beneficiaries would have an extra $20 billion in their bank accounts over the next ten years." Guess who keeps the other two thirds. Now do the math: $2 billion in annual discounts for Medicare patients versus over $70 billion a year in revenue for just these two members of the drug manufacturing cartel. Yep, the drug cartel will gladly give up a few nickels to keep a lot of dollars.

Reichert will attend Naval Academy

ANNAPOLIS, Md. – David Reichert will be inducted into the Naval Academy Class of 2023 on June 27, and will begin six challenging weeks of basic midshipman training as part of Plebe Summer. Reichert will graduate from Jesuit College Preparatory School in Gunter, Texas this spring. Reichert is the son of Josh and Natalie Reichert of Gunter. He is the grandson of Don Clapp of Salado and Andra and Ralph Williams of Gunter. He is the great grandson of Melba and the late Ken Clapp, of Salado and Ted and Ferndale Sul-lins of Dallas.

Approximately 1,200 candidates are selected each year for the Academy's "plebe" or freshman class, and each student is required to participate in Plebe Summer. Last year the Naval Academy received over 16,000 applications for the Class of 2022.

Reichert received four nominations to service academies, one from Senator John Cornyn and three from U.S. Rep. John Ratcliffe (TX-04) to USNA, US Military Academy, and to the US Merchant Marine Academy.

He interviewed with and received a recommendation from Gen. James Thurman of Salado.

While attending Jesuit College Preparatory, Reichert played football, wrestling, soccer and water polo.

He was named to the Academic All-State football team and the honor roll at Jesuit for four years. He earned the Presidential Volunteer Service Award – Bronze Medal (2018-Present), President's Outstanding Academic Achievement Award (2018), American Citizenship Award (2018) and the Jesuit High School "Man for Others" Award as well as the Campus Ministry Award. Reichert was also a summer camp leader for the Catholic Diocese of Dallas, a campus ministry coordinator, chaplain for the football and wrestling teams, wrestling captain, church youth group leader and church lead altar server.

Plebe Summer During the time at Plebe Summer, plebes have no access to television, movies, the internet or music, and restricted access to cell phones. They are only permitted to make three calls during the six weeks of Plebe Summer.

The pressure and rigor of Plebe Summer is carefully designed to help plebes prepare for their first academic year at the Naval Academy and the four years of challenge, which awaits them.

New midshipmen rapidly assimilate basic skills in seamanship, navigation, damage control, sailing, and handling yard patrol craft. Plebes also learn infantry drill and how to shoot 9 mm pistols and M-16 rifles.

United Way of Central Texas is teaming up Senior Care Centers of Western Hills for United Way Day of Action to conduct a fan benefiting United Way of Central Texas (UWCT), April 9-12. The event will take place at Senior Care Centers in Temple, from 10 a.m.-1 p.m.

The purpose of the fan drive is to help the elderly, those without air conditioning or with medical conditions, stay cool and comfortable during the hot summer months. Some recipients are on fixed incomes and rely solely on the fans to keep them comfortable. That alone speaks volumes about the need and benefit of the fan drive. "We felt like this was a great way to give back to the community and make an immediate impact in homes, said Lauren Myers, Area Director with Senior Care Centers. The goal is to collect 100 fans. "We collected 156 fans last year," said Veshell Greene, VP of Resource Development with United Way of Central Texas. Fans help keep homes cool by making the air feel 10 degrees cooler, and they allow customers to remain comfortable at a higher thermostat setting. Fans can be dropped off at the following location:

- 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Thursday, April 11, Marlandwood West, 1700 Marlandwood Rd., 254-743-6200
- 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Friday, April 12, Western Hills, 512 Draper Drive, Temple, 254-742-7500

Clinic To Present “Veritas” in Concert

Belton, Texas, April 3, 2019 – The Body of Christ Community Clinic will hold its 6th annual fundraiser with a special event on May 3, 2019. The Clinic will host a concert featuring the musical group Veritas. The concert will be held at the Sue and Frank Mayborn Performing Arts Center on the campus of the University of Mary Hardin Baylor in Belton at 7 p.m. R.K. Bass Electric, Inc., of Harker Heights, is the featured concert sponsor.

Veritas is a contemporary singing group who bring a strong message of hope through their music and their personal stories. They have released several CDs and have appeared in Carnegie Hall and many other venues throughout the United States. With their most recent album, Hope Survives, the men of Veritas—Jeff Anderson, James Berrian, Andrew Goodwin, Jordan Johnson and Lucas Scott Lawrence are wielding their powerful, dramatic musical arsenal to communicate the hope expressed by their fans, as well as the hope which guides each of their lives. “We get so many messages from people on social media, and lots of emails telling us how they were going through a horrible time, and our music reminded them of God’s love for them,” Lawrence said. “It gave them hope.”

Individual tickets are $40, and they may be purchased directly from the University of Mary Hardin Baylor Ticket Office at (254) 295-5999. All net proceeds from the concert will go to support the medical and dental clinic operations of the Body of Christ Community Clinic. An online auction will also be held in conjunction with the event, with proceeds benefiting the Clinic.

About the BOCCC: It is a medical and dental ministry which opened its doors in 2010 to provide care to the underserved populations who live in the Belton or Salado ISD. It is a 501(c)(3) not for profit organization and is sponsored by 13 area churches of various Christian denominations and is supported by the Central Texas United Way. Since opening the clinic has had nearly 10,000 patient visits and has grown from three hours a week to fifteen hours a week, and now operates two clinics, one for medical care and one for dental services. It is staffed primarily by unpaid volunteers. For any questions, contact Donna Dunn at (254) 939-9500 or at dunn@bodyofchristclinic.org

Ladies fall to Wimberley

Salado Lady Eagles fell to Wimberley in the Regional Quarterfinal Round on April 5. Salado lost the hard fought soccer match 1-0. Salado ended its season with a 20-7-2 record and went a round deeper than last year.

The girls beat Taylor 3-0 on April 2 to become Area Champions.

Against Taylor Lady Ducks, the Lady Eagles came out strong and took the lead 6 minutes into the game on a goal from Grace Graham.

Salado added a goal two minutes before halftime with Hannah Reavis scoring on an assist by Presley Maddux.

In the second half, Salado continued to push and increased the lead in the 68th minute to 3-0 on a goal from Caelan Teer that was assisted by Aubrey Heffner.

The shutout was recorded by Avery Wright.

Eagles split games with Taylor, Burnet

Salado Eagles varsity baseball seemed to be a split personality last week as they split games with Burnet and Taylor. In one game, they had just one hit and in the other, nine hits and 10 runs.

| Salado | 0 |
| Burnet | 1 |

Usually when you allow just three hits and one run and strike out seven batters, you will get the win on the mound.

But for pitcher Garrett Knight, the Salado bats were silent as Burnet pitchers Eric Paye struck out nine and allowed just one hit and closer Hunter King struck out one to give the Burnet Bulldogs a narrow 1-0 win over the visiting Salado Eagles April 5.

In the top of the first inning, the Eagles loaded the bases when Dalton Hawes, David Heath and Rustin Hale all earned walks.

Burnet scored a run in the bottom of the first after Knight struck out the first two Bulldog batters. Riley Catlett singled to left and Paye singled to right. Griffen Parker singled to center to plate the runner.

Ethan Scott got the only hit of the game for Salado in the top of the second, hitting to left for a two-out single. He was left on base.

In the fifth, Hunter Turk was hit by the pitcher and advanced on errors but was stranded on third.

Meet the candidates for SISD School Board of Trustees

Two three-year terms on the Salado ISD Board of Trustees will be up for election on May 4. Early voting starts on April 22 and continues through April 30. Three candidates have filed for the election and will appear on the ballot: Jeff Kelley, Amy McLane and Brand Webb.

Salado Village Voice introduces the candidates for Salado ISD this week. We will have Q&A in the coming editions: April 18, April 25 and May 2.

JEFF KELLEY

My name is Jeff Kelley and moved into the Salado community in 1972 when I was 10 years old. I graduated from Salado HS in 1980. After graduating I started working for another plumbing company that lasted for 7 years before opening my own company - Salado Plumbing in 1987. I am married to Charla Kelley a teacher at Salado HS and have three children: Madison Rheume, Chase Manning and Heidi Kelley. Our oldest is married and living in Ft. Worth area. Chase was a 2014 graduate of Salado HS and is currently a student at Central Texas

A&M campus in Killeen. My daughter Heidi Kelley is currently a junior at Salado HS where she is involved in cheerleading, band and the One Act Play.

While living in Salado the last 47 years I have been involved in various community organizations. I was on the volunteer fire department for 10 years, a part of the Salado Family Relief organization, member of the Salado United Methodist church where I have served on the financial board and have been a school board member for a total of 12 years.

I feel as being a business owner in this town and being raised in this community I understand the history and the future needs of our school. Having been on the school board currently and previously I feel it has given the opportunity to see the inner workings of our school system. I would like to continue on the school board to see through the construction of the new school.

AMY McLANE

My name is Amy McLane and I am running for SISD School Board. My family and I have lived in Salado for 13 years. My husband, Drayton, and I have three boys who attend Salado schools.

I am running for school board because I was actively involved in the bond process in May 2018 and I want to see the project to completion. Last year, I served as the co-chair for both the Long-Range Planning Committee and the Political Action Committee for the SISD Bond.

I am running for school board to ensure the plan put together by the long-range committee is completed. Our committee of 50 was comprised of parents, local business owners, school staff and various community members. We developed a building plan that we felt best used the tax money in the most efficient way and the plan needs to be accomplished.

Our district is growing and we need to accommodate each student. In addition,

I have served on the District Site-Based Planning Committee, the District Strategic Planning Committee, PTO officer, and room parent.

Prior to moving to Salado, I taught ESL in the Arlington Independent School District in Arlington, Texas.

BRAND WEBB

My name is Brand Webb and I am running in the 2019 election for a seat on the Salado ISD school board.

As a parent with two daughters attending SISD, I have direct interest in helping to guide the district now and into the future by making sure that all who share an interest in the district have a voice that is heard.

Salado ISD covers over 133 square miles and the actual Village of Salado represents only about three square miles of that area. However, a significant number of students in our district reside outside of Salado. Not only do I want to be a voice for those students and their families who live in the Village of Salado, but equally important, I want to ensure that those students and their families who live in the far reaches of the district have a voice on the board and have their concerns and interests represented as well.

For me, ensuring a safe educational environment for all students and employees, ensuring that our students are challenged academically, ensuring that educational funds are used to provide a maximum number of educational opportunities for our students, ensuring that teacher salaries are fair and competitive with other schools in our area, establishing that teachers have the resources they need to enable SISD to exceed state performance standards, and, finally, ensuring that we as a district are prepared to accommodate an increase in student enrollment with physical space and academically over the next few years are the most important issues we face.

I am employed by Burlington Northern Sante Fe Railway as a Sr. Special Agent for the Central Texas Area. I have held that position for eleven years. Prior, I was an Investigator with the Cooke County District Attorney's Office. I am a graduate of Sul Ross State University Police Academy and graduate of SRSU with a Bachelor's degree in Criminal Justice and a Master's degree in Range Animal Science. Also, I am a graduate of Leadership Gainesville.

I have served in several board capacities: President of the Sul Ross State University Alumni Association, President of the Woodbine Water Supply Corporation in Cooke County, and Chair for the Callisburg Church Administrative Counsel. I currently serve on the Salado First Baptist Church Transportation Committee.

My wife Donneé, who works at Thomas Arnold Elementary, and I along with our daughters, Preslee and Kirbee, have lived in Salado for six years and are members of First Baptist Church of Salado.

Meet the candidates for Village of Salado Board of Aldermen

Four candidates have filed for three two-year terms on the Village of Salado Board of Aldermen: Rodney W. Bell, John Cole, Dr. Amber Preston-Dankert and Linda Reynolds. The election will be May 4 with early voting April 22-30. Below is an introduction of the candidates.

In the coming editions, we will feature Q&A forums with the candidates on April 18, 25 and May 2.

the values and expectations of our community.

JOHN COLE

Allow me to introduce myself, my name is John Cole. You have probably seen me on the streets walking our dogs in the wagon, and I am still not sure who walks who; anyway.

Twenty-three years ago, my wife and I made Salado our home and we have watched it grow from a quiet village into a vibrant little city. After 10 years of active duty military service with the US Army, and 36 years of Systems Engineering and Analysis, it was time to retire. Now, I am ready to serve the city that has been our home for two decades as a member of city council.

I hold a bachelor's degree in Systems Engineering, an associate degree in Applied Sciences, and have served two years as the MCCA Liaison to City Council, all of which fully support my efforts to perform the duties of Alderman. My concerns for the city and reasons for seeking office are very diverse; city expansion, city budget concerns, the new waste water system, police force stability, road conditions, existing businesses-new business and city improvements, just to name a few. We must all look far ahead and plant the shade trees today, for the Salado of tomorrow, that is what we are supposed to do.

Remember, for every action there is an equal and opposite reaction. Every decision your city council makes will have a direct impact on you. My name is Cole and I am running for Alderman.

DR. AMBER PRESTON-DANKERT

My name is Dr. Amber Preston Dankert and I am a home-grown, third-generation Saladoan. A 1998 graduate of Salado High School, I obtained a Bachelor of Science degree in Agricultural Journalism, a Master of Education degree in Agricultural Education, and a Doctor of Education degree in Agricultural Education from Texas A&M University, as well as a Doctor of Education degree in Agricultural Science and Natural Resources from Texas Tech University. I have worked for the Department of Defense – Army since 2005, and currently serve as the Supervisor of Wildlife Management at Fort Hood.

As a lifelong Saladoan, I have witnessed growth and change both within and surrounding the Village. I served two terms on the Board of Aldermen, but did not seek a third term last year. Separating from the BOA for a year was a good break, but I quickly realized that the changes and issues I had been so passionate about were changing under new leadership. I want to be more involved in the big issues, such as the completion of the sewer and the mandates that are being placed on individuals and businesses, bringing in businesses along the west side, monitoring and supporting positive, thoughtful growth of new homes and businesses, and many other issues that face our Village today.

It is time to support local people, and businesses, and not over-regulate those who have already chosen Salado as their destination. The regulation needs to come in the form of monitoring new growth. After all, Salado is growing, and without taking the right steps today, we will have no control over the Salado we see tomorrow. We have to have a plan today, and not just "let growth happen". New businesses are the best way to offset the high cost of the new sewer, and we cannot wait around for development that has been discussed, but have not yet started construction.

Finally, more committees must be formed to help with issues in the Village. The Village staff and the Aldermen will never have all the answers, and both new AND old residents must have their voices heard. That said, the BOA must outline expectations and then sit back and support committee decisions! After all, the BOA is elected by the people and should support them.

Thank you for your support, and I hope to be elected as your next Alderman.

LINDA REYNOLDS

I moved to Salado in 2011 after a 35 year career in education. My plan was to retire and help my mother stay out of a nursing home. She's 95 and going strong, so that plan is working!

My only other plan was to read all the books I missed while working. When my husband died, my daughter was 12 and I had two house mortgages and college expenses to manage.

Today, my daughter is in the medical field in Austin, and I have no debt.

My life events made me a fiscal conservative, and that's how I would approach my duties as an alderman.

I will support a 10% across the board (except for the volunteer fire department) tax roll back. My research tells me the BOA has wasted a great deal of money with little accomplished to improve livability and safety in the village.

We rely on many wonderful volunteers to keep Salado beautiful, but as young families with two working parents move in, their priorities may be different than the retired volunteers.

Of course, some residents want more services from the village, and tell me they think taxes should increase. Having your taxes frozen when you turn 65 may make some more willing to call for an increase which doesn't affect them.

I worry about the young families who will face a large school tax increase in Fall 2019, and the business property owners who are also facing huge impact fees just to connect to the sewer.

The village can help mitigate the financial shock of our growth with a little belt tightening.

I've been there and done that in my own life, so let me help the village acquire a little real life financial wisdom.

Thank you for your support.

Summer is well on its way, and already I am looking forward to some of the sounds that go with it. One such sound is the melancholy ooah-woo-woo-woo that resonates in the air as a male Mourning Dove calls during the summer breeding season.

The Mourning Dove (Zenaidura macroura) is a large species of dove whose natural range encompasses more territory of North America than any native dove species. It can be observed from southern Canada southward throughout the continental United States continuing southward to southern Mexico and Central America. Only the non-native and established Rock Dove (or pigeon) has a larger range. It is a permanent resident in the vast majority of this area, including all of Texas. It is a migratory species only in the extreme northern portions of its range.

At first glance, this large species is somewhat drab in coloration, like most other doves. However, it has a beauty that has been described as delicate. The large brown eyes surrounded with a light blue ring combined with the pinkish coloration of the crown of the head and breast only enhance that description. It has grayish brown upper and underparts with a few large black spots on the upper wings. There is also a distinctive black spot on the cheek, and usually another one right behind the eye. It also has smaller, less noticeable white tips on the on the relatively long and pointed tail. The bill is dark, and only slightly curved, while the legs are comparatively short and pink colored. With a body length of about twelve inches and a wingspan that approaches nineteen inches, it is the largest species of native dove that can be encountered in west Texas.

Wild About Texas

While the Mourning Dove can occasionally be seen in small groups, it is not a gregarious species like its close relative the White-winged Dove. In fact, most male Mourning Doves will aggressively protect their territory. Typically only when feeding at the same field or drinking at the same pond are more than two or three found together. They feed almost exclusively on grains and other seeds. The flight pattern is easily recognizable as it is a direct path, although many times the bird will zig-zag in the air with strong and rapid wing-beats. The strength of the wingbeats is often heard in the sound of whistle as the bird flies by.

This species of bird pairs up during the breeding season, with the male and female remaining monogamous. It has been reported that this species of dove may pair up with a partner for life. The nest is placed either near the ground in various cacti plants or shrubs, or more commonly, in trees up to fifty feet above ground. The saucer-shaped and rather flimsy nest is made up of grasses, sticks and stems. More often than not, the male gathers the materials while the female is charged with the nest building. The two eggs are medium-sized (just over one inch in length) and unmarked and white. These eggs hatch in about two weeks after the male and female alike take turns at incubating them. After hatching, both sexes continue to tend to the helpless young until they leave the nest just two weeks after hatching. During this time, the young are fed with what has been called "pigeons milk". This "milk" is produced in the crop of the parents and then subsequently regurgitated into the mouths of the hungry offspring. Juveniles are colored similar to the adults, and up to five broods per year have been recorded in Texas.

The Mourning Dove is a common bird whose population numbers appear to be increasing. Like other doves, it has adapted well to habitat changes by humans. The use of bird feeding stations with small seeds such as millet and sunflower seeds will attract this common species of dove to your yard for closer observation.

In thirty-one of the forty-eight continental states where it occurs it is managed as a game species, meaning that it is legal to hunt for short periods of time. It has been estimated that over thirty million individuals are legally harvested annually by hunters.

The 31st Annual Tri-Regional meet of the Lincoln and Continentals Owners Club will be April 26-28 in Salado.

Lincolns, Continentals and owners gather April 26-28

The Tri-Regional Lincoln and Continental Owners Club Meet will be returning to Salado on April 26-28 for the 31st Annual all Texas LCOC meet. This year it will be held at the Holiday Inn Express Hotel in the Village of Salado.

For over three decades, the three Texas Regions of the Lincoln and Continental Owners Club have joined to put on a car show in Salado.

The Friday night welcoming party started out in the hospitality suite at the Stagecoach Inn. As the gathering grew, it became so crowded we had to make other arrangements.

Doc and Micki Ellis, long time Salado residents, were gracious enough to let the group have the party at their garage facility called the "City Garage" on I-35 just down the highway from the Stagecoach Inn. The "City Garage" is an old-timey garage from the 1940's era and for many years housed the Ellis' collection of vintage automobiles and memorabilia from the golden era of the roadside garage.

In late 2017 the Ellises sold the "City Garage" to Ron Harrison, a vintage and classic car restorer.

Ron and his wife are again allowing the Lincoln and Continental Owners Club to have its Meet and Greet party on Friday night April 26 at the "City Garage."

The Lincoln and Continental meet has drawn as many as 60 cars and 100 + participants. Activities include early bird tour, Friday night BBQ, seminars, Peoples Choice competition, and Saturday night banquet and awards program.

The cars are on display for the public to view at the Holiday Inn Express, 1991 N. Stagecoach Rd., exit 286, on Saturday April 27.
