Sanctuary agreements top BOA agenda as deadline looms

By Tim Fleischer
Editor-in-Chief

Salado aldermen will take up three agreements with The Sanctuary Development during their regular meeting 6:30 p.m. Sept. 3 at the municipal building.

The agreements up for discussion and possible action include these:

• The Donation Agreement between the Village of Salado and Billie Hanks, Jr. and Salado Utility Company for six acres of land and Water Quality Permit No. WQ0014898001

• Wastewater Service Agreement between the Village of Salado and Sanctuary Development Company, LLC. for the funding and constructing of improvements to the Village's wastewater collection, pumping, treatment, and disposal system, and the terms and conditions for retail wastewater services to the proposed 297 acre development to be constructed by Sanctuary Development Co.; and

• Development Agreement between the Village of Salado and Sanctuary Development Company, LLC. for the terms and conditions of economic development incentives related to the proposed 297 acre development to be constructed by Sanctuary Development Co.

Aldermen approved two of the agreements during a called meeting Aug. 17, but they were not signed by Mayor Skip Blancett.

Salado aldermen voted unanimously Aug. 27 to postpone action regarding the wastewater services agreement, the donation agreement, the warranty deed and the development agreement with The Sanctuary Development until Sept. 3 at which time any agreements between the Village and the developer may dissolve.

Neither the wastewater agreement nor donation agreement have been signed by Mayor Skip Blancett, even though the board of aldermen directed the mayor to execute the agreements by Aug. 20. At a special meeting on Aug. 17, aldermen voted to approve the agreements in principle with instructions for Village staff and attorneys to draft language to reflect agreements that they understood at the time of the motion to be agreed upon by both parties.

There were two provisions that aldermen wanted included in the wastewater agreement when they voted in favor of it. The board wanted language inserted into the agreement that the gravity line on Royal Street would be "paid for" through the Public Improvement District (PID) financing if it were legal to do so. The cost for the gravity line is estimated at $600,000.

The other provision for negotiation that has not been addressed is the discharge line for the wastewater treatment plant and

Parking, access to businesses top concerns about Main St. project

By Tim Fleischer
Editor-in-Chief

Adequate parking and access to Salado businesses appeared to be the top concerns of the 50 residents and business owners who attended public meetings this week on Phase I of Main Street Initiative that will make use of the Main Street right-of-way.

Phase I proposes to utilize the right-of-way for a vehicle traffic lane in both directions, a bicycle traffic lane in both directions, a parallel parking lane in both directions and current drainage swells to separate the vehicle traffic from pedestrian sidewalks and trails on each side of Main Street.

According to City Manager Kim Foutz, the basic design fits within 92 feet of the 100 feet of the state's right of way. "TXDOT has told us repeatedly that when they improve Main Street, nose in parking will go away," Foutz said of the design which proposes parallel parking along Main Street.

The Department of Transportation, Foutz said, "consistently has the rule that if there are improvements made to a state right-of-way, head-in parking is not allowed. Their rules are very explicit."

The proposal allows for limited parallel parking with setbacks of 75 feet at each intersection.

"That is assuming if they will allow the parking lane at all," Foutz said. "We are going to try for it but not sure if they will be amenable to it or not."

Business owner Lisa Jackens asked if the Village had a count of how many cars can currently park nose in at the current time and how many parking spaces will be lost on Main Street with the parallel parking.

"We do not have a count at this time, but it will be in place before we submit it to TXDOT," Foutz said.

Jackens enquired about the need for additional parking in the village. "The plans that have been drawn up by the A&M students identify areas that could be used for parking," Foutz said.

Another property owner asked who would be financially responsible for the construction project.

"We don't have the answer to that yet," Foutz said. "We have to ask first. TXDOT is only committed to the clean up overlay on the traffic lanes and two outside bicycle lanes."

She added that once the village has decided on a profile, then it can pursue cost estimates. "We have a small fund set up," she said, adding that the village would pursue "grant funds of 80-20 match from TXDOT. In order to apply for those grants, we have to have a full estimate in line."

The local match of 20 percent would come from the Village general revenue funds.

Because of the close proximity of buildings to the road south of the Salado Creek bridge, the profile of street, bike lane and sidewalks will be "north of the bridge. There will have to be different plans south of the bridge because of how tight it is there."

She added that the plan will have to fluctuate in areas that are affected by the varying width of right-of-way and other issues.

"We are asking TXDOT to push back the Main Street work so that we can better leverage our wastewater line project so that we will not have to tear up what has just been done," she said.

"Oh absolutely not," Foutz replied to a question about the use of eminent domain for right of way acquisition for the street project.

She explained that the Village is working with TXDOT for having the collection system for the sewer placed with the state utility right-of-way. This would be utilized for the softer parts of the road project, such as the drainage or walk paths.

Dave Broecker said that if you consider the right of way as roughly being "from telephone pole to telephone across the street," that there are several areas of Main Street where there is not the distance required for the street and sidewalk profiles.

"You're absolutely right," Foutz said, adding that "this is a concept. We need to address if we want sidewalks and the character of what we want to try to accomplish."

"We need to decide if we are going to continue to be a car-driven, auto-centric town or one that is friendly to cyclists and walkers. What sacrifices will we make to get there and who will make those decisions," KD Hill said.

Foutz said that TXDOT is working in all of its projects toward multi-modal systems that incorporate vehicle traffic and other modes, including bicycles and pedestrian.

"They are being asked by statute to look at other forms of travel as opposed to just vehicular," she said. "A lot of grant programs are being geared toward those projects."

"Scaring people off from Salado because there is nowhere to park is the last thing we want to do right now," Jackens said.

"Parallel parking can be very dangerous as well," Sheryl Russell said, "when there is room for the cars to pass. If we are going to have parallel parking, we need to have room for it. Could we have parking on one side of the street?" She added that parking could alternate sides of the street every block or so.

"The Salado of tomorrow will have more trails, more walkways and will be a more pedestrian friendly town," Grant Flynn said. He added that as an avid cyclist, the greatest danger he faces "is not the moving car, but the parked car." He asked if the bicycle lane might be moved to be next to the walking lanes.

"If we can get them out of their cars," business owner Ron Cunningham said, "then we can get them in our businesses. That is the key."

Stabbing suspect remains in custody

Stanley Polk, Jr., of Las Vegas, remains in Bell County Jail on $1 million bail after he was arrested Aug. 28 and charged with murder.

Polk has been charged with murder in the Aug. 27 death of Ronald Ruiz of South Bend, Indiana.

Ruiz was stabbed repeatedly in the chest at a rest stop south of Salado.

Ruiz and Polk were both truck drivers with Werner Enterprises. Ruiz was training Polk when an argument started between the two men.

An I-35 construction worker called 911 at about 7 p.m. Aug. 27 to report the stabbing. When Bell County deputies arrived, they found Ruiz, who had been stabbed multiple times. Witnesses reported that Ruiz was stabbed by a black man wearing black shorts and shirt and white shoes, according to Bell County Sheriff Public Information Office Lt. T.J. Cruz.

Ruiz was airlifted to Baylor Scott & White Memorial Hospital, but died later from the injuries. He was pronounced dead by Justice of the Peace G.W. Ivey at 8:18 p.m. Aug. 27.

Witnesses reported that the attacker fled the rest area after the stabbing. Multiple agencies, including the Bell County Sheriff's Department, Salado Police Dpeartment, Texas Rangers, Texas Department of Public Safety and Temple Police Department, took part in the manhunt.

Polk was reported to police as being seen around the Holiday Inn Express at the north end of Salado at about 4:35 a.m. Aug. 28, where he was apprehended.

Village revisits deer feeding, harvesting ordinance

By Tim Fleischer
Editor-in-Chief

Salado aldermen will discuss the "The Intentional Feeding and Management of Deer" ordinance on Sept. 3 that it defeated following a public hearing July 16 with Michael McDougal, Frank Coachman, and Fred Brown voting against.

The agenda item was added at the request of Aldermen Amber Preston-Dankert and David Williams, who voted in favor of the ordinance in July.

The Ordinance will prohibit the feeding of deer within the limits of the Village of Salado, making it an offense with a fine of $75 to $125.

The proposed ordinance states: "Any deer harvest inside the Village will only be allowed through the Managed Lands Deer Program. Other management of deer is prohibited in the Village."

The proposed ordinance also requires the Village Administrator to "establish and implement a program to educate the community about the overpopulation of deer in urban and suburban areas."

The ordinance allows for exceptions to feeding deer to apply to "an animal control officer, veterinarian, peace officer, City employee, federal or state wildlife official, or property owner who is participating in a program authorized by a local, state, or federal government to treat, manage, capture, trap, hunt, or remove deer and who is acting within the scope of the person's authority."

The ordinance defines the intentional feeding of deer: "if the person places food, or causes food to be placed, on the ground outdoors or on any outdoor platform that stands fewer than five feet above the ground."

It defines food as "corn, fruit, oats, hay, nuts, wheat, alfalfa, salt blocks, grain, vegetables, and commercially sold wildlife feed, birdseed or livestock feed, but excludes shrubs, live crops, plants, flowers, vegetation, gardens, trees, and fruit or nuts that have fallen on the ground from existing trees on site."

The Managed Lands Deer Program regulates the harvesting of deer by bowhunters within the Village limits.

Aldermen will meet at 6:30 p.m. Sept. 3 at the Village Municipal Building, 301 N. Stagecoach Rd.

Yes, Pander to Trump on Immigration

Rich Lowry

Donald Trump's rise in the polls is inextricably linked to the issue of immigration.

He probably wouldn't have achieved liftoff without it, and now that his campaign has entered a new phase of semi-attempted seriousness, it is fitting that an immigration plan is the first policy proposal he has committed to paper.

Amid the bar-stool bombast about deporting all illegal immigrants already here is the core of a program that is more sensible than the "comprehensive" solution offered by the political establishment.

What Trump offers is an entirely different framework for considering the issue. It is populist rather than elitist, and nationalist rather than cosmopolitan. It rejects the status quo rather than attempting to codify it. It puts enforcement first and dares to ask whether current high levels of legal immigration serve the country's interest. In short, it takes a needed sledgehammer to the lazy establishment consensus on immigration. First, at the beginning of the Trump plan is a statement so uncontroversial that it should qualify as pablum: "Real immigration reform puts the needs of working people first -- not wealthy globe-trotting donors." Who could disagree?

Second, at the heart of Trump's written immigration-plan policy are enforcement measures that should be the lowest common denominator for Republicans: E-Verify, more Immigration and Customs Enforcement agents, an end to catch-and-release at the border, and a crackdown on sanctuary cities.

They aren't accompanied with any assurances of various pathways for illegal immigrants, and this is as it should be. Enforcement of our laws should come first, so any eventual amnesty of current illegals doesn't draw yet another population of illegal immigrants.

Finally, the written plan calls for allowing "record immigration levels to subside to more moderate historical averages." This is an aspect of the immigration debate that almost no one else will touch. But why should we blithely accept historically high levels of legal immigration with almost no discussion? Conventional wisdom assumes that the Trump plan is a political train wreck. The thrust of it isn't.

Byron York of the Washington Examiner points to an academic paper that recounts the public reaction to a full gamut of seven possible immigration policies, ranging from open borders to a shutdown of the border coupled with deportation of illegal immigrants.

As York notes, the largest plurality, about a quarter of people, favor the strictest option. If you add in those favoring the two next most restrictive options -- basically allowing high-skilled immigration but building a wall or deporting current illegal immigrants -- you get a majority of 55 percent.

A Vox analysis looked at the public-opinion data and concluded, "There is very little support for any policy that the public perceives as increasing immigration."

Trump is giving voice to a popular impulse almost entirely absent from the elite policy discussion. Other Republican candidates shouldn't seek to mimic his witless bravado, nor should they follow him down the rabbit hole of his ill-considered fixations (like getting Mexico to pay for a border wall, or revoking birthright citizenship).

But they should learn from his approach, which is a blunderbuss corrective to polite opinion.

Time to cut ties to Sanctuary

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

There's nothing worse than elected officials who continue to supply our community with misinformation. Considering our alderman's backgrounds are made up of military, former school administrators and professional business people you would think the disinformation coming from them would stop. As one Alderman has said to me for the last six months we will break ground in 11/15 on a new sewer system when nothing could be further from the truth.

It's time Alderman like this quit misleading the community and start telling the truth there is no plan accepted by the Board of Alderman at this time. Not to mention a reasonable solution moving forward as we continue to deal with the "Sanctuary".

It's time to cut bait from the Sanctuary and be responsible to the citizens of Salado as our PROPERTY TAXES increase and connect to the Belton Plant. We may pay more for this option initially but 20 years from now we will be working with professionals and have no limitations on what we produce.

Don't garble the message

Mayor Skip Blancett

"Don't garble the message."

We learn this in Kindergarten; forget it as adults.

We hear one thing, then pass on a slightly different version. Sometimes by accident; sometimes by choice. Different ears, different minds, different mouths; it is amazing how the original story appears after it goes through its verbal metamorphosis. Example:

A Colonel tells his Deputy:

"Tomorrow evening approximately 2000 hours, Halley's Comet will be visible in this area, an event which occurs every seventy-five years. Have the Soldiers fall out in the battalion area, and I will explain the rare phenomenon. In case of rain, assemble the Soldiers in the theater and I will show them a film of it."

The Deputy to the Company Commander:

"By the order of the Colonel, tomorrow at 2000 hours, Halley's Comet will appear above the battalion area. If it rains, march the Soldiers to the theater where the rare phenomenon will take place, something which takes place once every seventy-five years."

Company Commander to Lieutenant:

"By order of the Colonel at 2000 tomorrow evening, the phenomenal Halley's Comet will appear in the theater. In case of rain the Colonel will give another order, something which occurs every seventy-five years."

Lieutenant to Sergeant:

"Tomorrow at 2000 hours, the Colonel, will appear in the theater with Halley's Comet, something which happens every seventy-five years. If it rains, the Colonel will order the Comet into the battalion area.

Sergeant to Soldiers:

"When it rains tomorrow at 2000 hours, the phenomenal seventy-five-year-old, General Halley, accompanied by the Colonel, will drive his Comet through the battalion theater."

An old story with a great message: "Get the story straight before you repeat it. Other wise, it will come back to embarrass you. It will also hurt the Village."

The GOP Whiffs Again on Health Care

Republicans are mounting yet another legal challenge to President Obama's signature legislative achievement.

Jim Hightower

In advice to baseball rookies, Hall of Fame star Ted Williams said: "If you don't think too good, don't think too much."

This should be taken to heart by bush-league congressional leader John Boehner. The Republican speaker of the House keeps thinking he can knock President Barack Obama out of the game by killing his signature Affordable Care Act.

Even though the landmark law was passed by Congress, has now been upheld twice by the Supreme Court, and is providing essential coverage for millions of previously uninsured Americans, Boehner is still swatting at it. With his Koch-funded tea party majority in control, the House has now swung mightily at Obamacare at least 67 times — and 67 times they've whiffed.

Unable to win on the legislative field of play, the speaker thought and thought… and suddenly, eureka! The way to beat Obama, he decided, is to get the judicial umpires of America's constitutional game — the Supreme Court — not just to umpire, but to join his team as partisan players.

So Boehner and his lawyers have again run to the courts, throwing a political tantrum over some funds that Obama spent to administer an obscure provision in the health care law.

The president threw an illegal spitter at us, they cried. By spending that money, he usurped Congress' authority over appropriations. They're pleading with the judges to do what their own sorry team can't get done, despite having control of both houses of Congress.

What a bunch of losers. Where were they when the Bush-Cheney regime was autocratically flouting congressional authority? Cheering them on, that's where.

And yet they wonder why the GOP-led Congress' approval rating is hovering around 14 percent — and the people who approve are probably family members, anti-Obama nuts, or corporate lobbyists.

Agreements

the proportional share in paying for the discharge line. The discharge line will carry the treated effluent from the treatment plant on the northern side of the Sanctuary to the western side of the development. The cost for the line is estimated at $500,000.

The agreements and warranty deed are also incomplete in terms of a survey of the property to be donated to the Village and an appraised value of the property.

Village attorney Leah Hayes told aldermen that they could accept the gift without having an appraisal of the property. She added that the survey was important to have to protect the interests of the Village.

The original agreements approved Aug. 17 set a Sept. 3 deadline for other agreements to be reached between the Village and the Sanctuary. Those other agreements are a Development Agreement that will address the design, land usage and annexation of the Sanctuary property as well as economic incentives to Sanctuary and an agreement on public financing, which will be through the formation of a Public Improvement District (PID).

Sanctuary Development asked to amend the unsigned Aug. 17 agreements to extend the deadline on the Development Agreement until Sept. 30.

Attorney Leah Hayes told aldermen that the Aug. 17 agreements had not been signed into execution by Mayor Blancett because there were "terms that we were unable to reach a meeting of the minds" as well as the failure to have the exhibits (survey and appraisal) completed.

She said that the Village had not "received a draft" of the Development Agreement from The Sanctuary yet.

Aldermen questioned Hayes and Foutz about whether the survey or appraisal could be completed by the deadline to complete the agreements.

"We had reason to believe that the survey work had started in July," Hayes said, "so we were surprised that it was not completed yet."

She said that there has been some correspondence from the Sanctuary to have the exhibits for the appraisal removed from the deed and donation agreement. "An appraisal is not required for our purposes," she said.

"We will be lucky to have it by October 30 much less September 30," Alderman Frank Coachman said of the missing documents and agreements.

Hayes said that the Letter of Intent required both parties to negotiate and act in what she called "good faith" and that any action they take must be in "good faith to come to terms on these agreements."

She explained that good faith is that both "parties believe they are operating with intent to come to agreement and meeting of the minds on certain conditions. You have participated in those meetings. You were there in order to arrive at an agreement that you understood and other party understood."

She added that as long as neither party was acting in other motives or putting in onerous provision that "there is no humanly way of meeting," then they were meeting the requirements of acting in good faith.

"We have already done that," Alderman Fred Brown. "We have acted in good faith."

"We have been negotiating since Moby Dick was a minnow," he added. "Every time we come to an agreement, something changes a week later and it is like we are starting fresh every week. It gets to the point where we have to question why are we doing this? I'm worn out doing this."

Alderman David Williams asked if the Village could take the wastewater agreement "off the plate" and work on the other agreements.

Hayes said that the board could instruct her to continue work on the development agreement and incorporate a wastewater service agreement into it. At one time, "that was the preferred manner to go forward in negotiations," she said.

Foutz told aldermen that correspondence from Sanctuary tells the city that "they are not intending to negotiate any further on the wastewater agreement." Foutz added that the amendment requested by the Sanctuary mentions nothing about the provisions for the gravity line or the discharge line.

Aldermen may walk away from negotiations with Sanctuary on Sept. 3 if the provisions of the agreement are not met. How this will impact the construction of a sewer for the business district and west side of I-35 remains to be seen. If the Village walks away from negotiations with Sanctuary, it will lose a wastewater discharge permit as well as a possible site for the construction of a 300,000 gallon per day wastewater treatment plant.

St.Joseph's Episcopal presents concert series

St. Joseph's Episcopal Church in Salado, is continuing its free Quarterly Concert Series 6:30 p.m. Sept. 12, with a round of performances from some of Central Texas' best. St. Joseph's is taking Psalm 144:9, which says to sing to the Lord a new song, to the next level. The small congregation hopes that the music provided through this free series brings people together to celebrate different music styles.

Richard Paul Thomas, a native of Milwaukee, has lived and worked in Salado over 30 years. Thomas' music explores a wide range of music from rock to melodic ballads to folk music. He finds new inspiration each time he sits down with his guitar to write a new song. His thought provoking lyrics examine the joys of life and speak to the soul. Thomas' song "Salado" was officially adopted by the Village of Salado and captures the town's unique character.

The Blackfoot Daisies will open for Thomas with their own unique blend of music. The Blackfoot Daisies are Tracy McLoud, Roxann Patrick, and Angela Kay, a group that formed when the members held a weekly tradition of sharing joy through music with residents of a local nursing home. Says Davis, "We continue to share joy through music at public venues and are delighted to join up with St. Joseph's Episcopal Church in Salado for a musical event that will help raise money so they may continue their ongoing charitable efforts." The trio of women play traditional, folk, and bluegrass music.

Any donations collected during the concert series benefit the missions at St. Joseph's, to include a rice and beans ministry. The Blackfoot Daisies will open for Richard Paul Thomas at 6:30 pm. Bishop Vasquez to dedicate the new St. Stephen Catholic Church building

Bishop Joe S. Vásquez of the Catholic Diocese of Austin will be in Salado on September 26 to dedicate the new Saint Stephen Catholic Church. The dedication will be at 10 a.m. Sept. 26, at the church, 601 FM 2268.

The $1.7 million project at the church campus along Farm to Market 2268 will accommodate the growing parish, which now totals more than 220 families. The new church seats 400. "The design goal has been for beauty and noble simplicity, and we believe we have achieved that goal," Father Aloysius Nzekwe said.

The new building is in the Romanesque style of architecture with stained glass windows, arches, pews with kneelers and statues. The overall design is intended to preserve a sense of community, church officials said. "Like the churches of old, every part of this building tells an inspiring story, incorporating the past and present." said Glenn Pritchett, the church's director of development.

Saint Stephen also has a fully developed Spanish language ministry and offers one of its Sunday masses in Spanish.

To learn more about the church and see a 3-D video flythrough of the project, please go to: www.saintstephenchurch.org

New laws affecting traffic, driver license requirements go into effect

The Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS) highlighted notable traffic and driver license laws that went into effect on Sept. 1.

Traffic

HB 2194 creates an exemption to current statute that allows a vehicle to be left running and unattended if the operator starts the engine of the vehicle by using a remote starter or other similar device.

SB 1918 amends current statute to authorize the use of LED ground-effect lighting equipment on a motorcycle. In accordance with this provision, such lighting is only permissible if it illuminates the body or ground below a motorcycle, and if it emits a non-flashing amber or white light. These limitations are designed to ensure the LED lights are not mistaken as the flashing lights of an emergency vehicle.

Driver License

SB 1934 amends current statute to require social security numbers or proof that the applicant is not eligible for a social security number for all personal identification card issuances. It also limits the issuance of one Texas driver license or ID card per person and discontinues the issuance of no-expire ID cards for persons age 60 or older.

HB 2246 amends current statute to require a judge to restrict any person whose license has been suspended after the conviction of an intoxication offense to the operation of a motor vehicle equipped with an ignition interlock device. Once suspended for the intoxication-related offense, a defendant may only operate a motor vehicle during the suspension period if an ignition interlock device is obtained and an occupational driver license is issued with the proper designation. The bill also requires the court to order the ignition interlock device to remain installed for the duration of the suspension, instead of the prior requirement of at least half of the suspension period. The applicable offenses include driving while intoxicated, driving while intoxicated with a child passenger, flying while intoxicated, boating while intoxicated, assembling or operating an amusement ride while intoxicated, intoxication assault or intoxication manslaughter.

Troy takes season opener from Salado 24-9

Salado Eagles struggled with penalties and ball control in their 24-9 season-opening loss to the Troy Trojans at University of Mary Hardin Baylor Crusader Stadium in Belton Aug. 28.

The Eagles defense also struggled with the run-heavy Trojan offense, although Troy scored its first touchdown on an 18 yard pass from Elijah Saldana to Anthony Avila on a fourth down and goal on their first possession of the game.

The Trojans quickly added two more points when the snap from the Salado center flew over the punter's head and into the endzone where it resulted in a safety and a 9-0 lead for Troy with 6:53 left in the first period.

Both teams struggled for consistent plays in the second quarter and Troy took a 9-0 lead into the lockers.

The Trojans scored 15 points in the third on a ground game that ate up time and artificial turf.

Garret Qualey got the lion's share of the work with 153 yards on 33 carries, his longest a 21 yard run. He also lost a fumble in the game. The Trojans had 200 yards on the ground and another 118 in the air.

The Eagles had a miserable time on the ground with just 74 yards on 22 attempts.

Troy led by as much as 24-0 with just five seconds left in the third quarter when a substitute center for the Trojans snapped the ball over the punters head and 30 yards into the end zone for a safety.

Trey Sheppard added a touchdown on a 41 yard run with 10:02 left in the game.

Salado wide receiver Cutter Hudgens leaps over two Troy Trojan defenders to try to catch a pass during the Eagles' 24-9 loss.

Seniors Paul Hutchinson and Coby Chambliss dive into the tackle as the Eagle defensive line holds the Trojan offense midfield.

Learn more about 4-H opportunities!

What is 4-H? 4-H is... Learning by doing, and is available to all boys and girls in the 3rd through 12th grades, from urban, suburban and rural areas. First, an adult leader brings together youth that have common interests. Second, the youth choose one or more projects. Projects are chosen from among 100 project areas offered, or if you don't see the one you like, you can create your own project. Third, the group enrolls as a club, and fourth meets together to learn and have FUN. Clubs are able to explore 4-H activities, events and trips. In 4-H, there are events happening all year round.

Who is 4-H for? The 4-H program is a great way to involve all the family because 4-H is for all youth and adults. The 4-H membership includes: Grades K-2: Clover Kids (non-competitive activities), Grades 3-5: Juniors, Grades 6-8: Intermediates and Grades 9-12: Senior 4-H members.

How do I enroll or re-enroll into 4-H? The NEW 4-H year just started August 15, 2015! All 4-H members, clover kids, and adult volunteers who enrolled last year will have to re-enroll for the 2015-2016 year. To enroll, please visit our 4-H website at: http://agrilife.org/bell4h/ and click on "Learn more about 4-H and how to enroll!!!" on the front page. This website will give you a step by step process on how to be a part of the 4-H program. There is also a link on there to enroll in 4-H. Once you start the enrollment process, you will set up a new profile if you are a new 4-H family or put the email you had last year in 4-H as a family and press forgot password. (All 4-H members coming back this year: you already have a profile. If you set up a new profile, you will be charged extra, so do not recreate a profile). You will set up your family profile and then add family members. Renewing members will edit their family profile and re-enroll each member in their family. Adults are $5 to join (will include screening), members will pay a $20 participation fee per member, and clover kids (age 5-8) will also be free. If you do have a child who is 8 and in the 3rd grade, they will be eligible to be a 4-H member and will need to pay the participation fee but need to wait till September 1st to enroll or they will not be included as a 4-H member. After October 31st, all members will need to pay $25. So, enroll SOON!!!

What do I do next? As soon as you complete your enrollment online, we will email you with 4-H weekly updates each week with 4-H information going on in the County and the 4-H Newsletter each month where more 4-H opportunities are outlined for clubs, county, district, state and national levels. The most current and older 4-H newsletters and calendars are also available under the newsletter tab on the website. After you have also enrolled, the next step is to go to your club meetings each month and read the newsletter. This will provide you with all the opportunities that are available in the 4-H program. You can pick and choose what activities and projects to be a part of. The 4-H program gives you the freedom to choose what you want to do and so therefore we do not have scheduled required meetings and activities unless you are heavily involved as an officer or leader. You must attend 2 meetings from August through December to participate in the Bell County Youth Fair.

How do I learn more about 4-H? The 2015-2016 4-H year has started and to recruit and gain new membership, the Bell County 4-H will be hosting a FREE 4-H Open House on Wednesday, September 9, 2015 from 5:30-8:00pm at the Bell County Expo Assembly Hall. The Open House will give parents and children; kindergarten (age 5) through the twelve grade (age 18) to come and learn about 4-H, its programs, and opportunities. This will be a come and go event with members of Bell County 4-H clubs providing project booths for the public to view and learn about the various activities within 4-H. Some of the booths to be exhibited at our Open House will include: food and nutrition, photography, consumer education, dog, vet science, clothing and textiles, camps and activities, livestock, Bell County Youth Fair, Horse, Public Speaking, Leadership, 4-H Exchange, and many more. Participants will learn about 4-H and have the opportunity to sign up and join a Bell County 4-H club when they get home via the internet. Come and learn more about 4-H and sign up for the new calendar year!

For more information about Bell County 4-H, please call the Bell County Extension Office at 933-5305 or email Sheryl Raley, 4-H Agent, at siraley@ag.tamu.edu. You can also look up 4-H on the internet by going to: http://agrilife.org/bell4h/. On the front page will be instructions on how to enroll in 4-H for the new year!

New teen driver program

The Texas Department of Public Safety announced the implementation of the Impact Texas Teen Driver program (ITTD), which is a new requirement for driver license applicants who complete a teen driver education course. The two-hour ITTD program contains several videos that provide awareness about the dangers of distracted driving.

"Driving is one of the most dangerous things teens do on a daily basis, and it should command their undivided attention," said DPS Director Steven McCraw. "This new component of teen driver education underscores the risks of distracted driving, and is designed to provide young and inexperienced drivers with additional information and skills to help keep them and others safe on the road."

Beginning September 1, 2015, anyone who takes a teen driver education course – including Parent Taught Driver Education – must also complete the ITTD program, which consists of watching the video and printing out the ITTD completion certificate. ITTD should be completed after the classroom hours and all behind-the-wheel instruction, and it is the last step before taking the driving skills examination. (Individuals aged 18-24, who choose to complete a teen driver education course, must also complete the ITTD program.)

In order to take the driver skills examination, student drivers must present the ITTD completion certificate along with their driver's education course certificate of completion. The skills examination must be completed within 90 days of date on the ITTD certificate of completion. DPS has been providing information about ITTD when student drivers apply for their learner's permit.

For more information about ITTD or to complete the course, visit https://impacttexasteendrivers.dps.texas.gov/. You can also visit http://www.dps.texas.gov/DriverLicense/ittdPrgm.htm.

Teaming up to fight childhood cancer

Typically fans will never wear the colors of opposing but local Salado Eagles fans and Texas high school football fans around central Texas are encouraged to do just that to show unity with the community of Rockdale.

Head Football Coach Jeff Miller's 15 year old son Gunner was diagnosed with Ewing Sarcoma, a rare bone cancer that affects children.

September is Childhood Cancer Awareness month and the Miller family has created a campaign, Go Gold for a Cure, to raise funds for childhood cancer research.

The Go Gold for a Cure campaign is selling T-shirts for $10 each with 60 percent of all sales going toward research funding, the other 40 percent covering the cost.

All fans who buy the shits are encouraged to wear them on Sept. 25.

"We have contacted Gatesville as well so they can help us fill the stadium for this great cause," said Seth Chambliss, Salado Eagle football liaison for the Salado Athletic Boosters.

T-shirt order forms are available at Salado High School office. Checks should be made payable to Teaming Up for a Cure. The deadline to pay for the T-shirt order is Sept. 4. T-shirts will be delivered to Salado High School in time for the Sept. 25 game.

Our Salado Heritage speaks

Historic Old Salado Graveyard Walking Tour

Hans and Judy Fields

In the dusky evening of Saturday, Nov. 7, the Salado pioneers who are buried in-the Historic Salado Old Graveyard will come to life to tell their stories. They will tell how they came to Texas, when they came to Salado, and how they served their community and their country. Some will tell of other relatives who are buried next to them. Some will tell all; others will keep their secrets buried.

Salado Historical Society and Tablerock are sponsoring a walking tour of the Old Salado Graveyard on Nov. 7, from 5-6:30 p.m. The historic Old Salado Graveyard is on Baines Street The program is titled "Our Salado Heritage Speaks" referring to the lives of Salado settlers buried in the Old Graveyard who will have their biographies presented by historical re-enactors. The program is scheduled to begin at dusk and will conclude before dark.

Sixteen early pioneers designated historically significant to the founding and early settlement of Salado are the focus of the walking tour. Seven grave sites have Texas Historical Commission markers, two have markers on their Salado homes, two have family markers , and five are remaining to be researched for markers. The early pioneers on the tour are: Col. Hermon Aiken, Dr. Welborn and Louisa Barton, Captain Milton Damron, Rev. James and Fannie Ferguson, Capt. Robert Bonner Halley, Dr. Samuel Jones, Professor James Lowry Smith? James Anderson, Rev. George Washington Baines, Dr. Benjamin McKie, Archibald J. Rose, Leroy A. Griffith, John Paine, John Wesley Ray, Charley Schoepf, and Emily Bumpass Stockton. Besides being noted Salado pioneers, these individuals made significant contributions to the educational, religious, political, and civic lives of people in the county and the State of Texas.

Tickets will cost $5 for adults and $3 for children 12 and under. Tickets can be purchased at the cemetery on the night of the program. Parking will be on site. Cars will not be permitted in the cemetery during the program. For information, call Jackie Mills at 254-947-9205. The Salado Historical Society website is: www.saladohistoricalsociety.org.

Contract Bridge

By Steve Becker

The aim of an elimination play is to compel a defender -- when he is given the lead later in the play -- to make a return that costs his side a trick. Take this case where South is in four spades and West leads the K-Q-A of clubs, declarer ruffing the third club.

South leads the trump queen, on which West plays the five. It would be wrong to finesse, considering West's three-club bid, because West would have opened one club, not three, had he held the guarded king of spades and A-K-Q-10-8-3 of clubs.

So South goes up with the ace, hoping either to catch the singleton king or to develop an endplay against East later on. After East follows low to the ace, South cashes the A-K of diamonds, eliminating that suit, and then puts East on lead with a trump.

East is now endplayed. If he returns a diamond, South ruffs it in his hand, discarding the heart nine from dummy. A subsequent heart finesse brings home the contract.

West dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

	NORTH
	♠A 9 7 4 2 ♥Q J 9 ♦Q 8 ♣J 6 2
WEST		EAST
♠5 ♥10 8 6 ♦10 7 3 ♣A K Q 10 8 3		♠K 6 ♥K 5 3 ♦J 9 6 5 4 2 ♣9 4
	SOUTH ♠Q J 10 8 3 ♥A 7 4 2 ♦A K ♣7 5

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
3♣	Pass	Pass	3♠
Pass	4♠

Opening lead — king of clubs.

Note that if South takes the trump finesse at trick four, he goes down one. East wins with the king and returns a trump, and East-West score a heart trick eventually, assuming they defend correctly.

Oddly enough, the contract can be defeated if East makes the extraordinary play of ruffing his partner's ace of clubs with the king of spades at trick three and returns a trump or a diamond. Declarer is helpless against this defense.

It just goes to show that it sometimes pays to trump partner's ace. The trick is to know when to do it.

The class is limited to 10 people and is priced at $29.95 per person.

The second class is geared towards adults, where the chocolate creations that they will be making are alcohol-infused. You must be 21 and older to participate in this event. The class will be limited to 10 people and costs $39.95 per person. Tickets must be purcahsed at eventbrite.com.

Later in the day, the Chocolate Trail will take participants to stops that include Salado Wine Seller, The Shoppes on Main, Prellop Fine Art Gallery, 21 Main, Salado Lone Star Winery, Mud Pies Pottery, Springhouse, OoLaLa and Brookshire Brothers. The village trolley will carry travelers to each of the locations 2-6 p.m. Sept. 19. Tickets must be purchase in advance at eventbrite.com

Star parties hosted by Central Texas Astronomical Society Sept. 5

The Central Texas Astronomical Society will host free public star parties Saturday, Sept. 5, from 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. at Overlook Park near Belton. CTAS members will provide telescopes to view the visible planets and a selection of stars, star clusters, nebulas, and galaxies.

A total eclipse of the Super Moon will occur this month, on the evening of Sept. 27. The eclipse will begin shortly before moonrise in central Texas, but lasts for 5 hours. Totality will begin at 9:47 p.m .CDT and end at 10:23 p.m. The moon will reach its closest approach to the earth just 59 minutes before totality, so this will be the largest eclipsed moon to be seen in our lifetimes. An eclipsed moon is always full, rising near sunset and setting near dawn.

Blue-grey Neptune, in the constellation Aquarius, reached opposition and peak visibility on the last day of August. Methane in Neptune's upper atmosphere absorbs red and reflects blue light. Colorful Saturn and largest moon Titan are in the constellation Libra.

Participants will look at these and many other celestial objects this month. Check the web site, http://www.centexastronomy.org, for more information and directions to the site closest to you. A flashlight, lawn chair, and mosquito repellant can make viewing more comfortable. In the event of unfavorable weather, a cancellation notice will be posted on the CTAS website homepage by 7 p.m

Don't fall for ticket scams this season

BBB offers advice for safely purchasing event tickets this fall.

Fall is quickly approaching, which means consumers are in the market for football season tickets and tickets for annual events like Austin City Limits and Fun Fun Fun Fest. Better Business Bureau serving Central, Coastal, Southwest Texas and the Permian Basin is warning consumers to be on alert for fake event tickets.

Many consumers go online to purchase tickets — it is convenient, and some websites may offer opportunities to purchase tickets before box office sales start. Many sites also offer buyer protections and money-back guarantees. Remember, when purchasing tickets online it is important to know you are working with a trustworthy seller.

There there are currently thousands of game day tickets listed on classifieds sites — however, they offer no guarantees and do not require identification from sellers. Buying tickets in person is not always a sure thing either, as it has become easier for scammers to make fake tickets look real.

Last year, BBB received over 2,200 complaints nationally against event ticket sales and ticket brokers. Common complaints allege people paid for invalid tickets or paid in advance for tickets that never arrived. Legitimate ticket brokers should be happy to answer questions, send a receipt and verify business information.

BBB offers the following tips for safe ticket purchases:

Do your research. When purchasing tickets through an online broker. Check out their BBB Business Review at bbb.org for details about the company, history of complaints and customer reviews. You can also check to see if they are a member of the National Association of Ticket Brokers, an organization that works with law enforcement agencies, professional sports teams and other organizations to fight against counterfeit tickets. Check policies. Research the ticket broker's refund policy before purchasing. Assess the company's policy for customer satisfaction and details on reimbursement for cancelled events.

Verify the tickets are real. Search for guidance online about how the tickets should look and compare them to the ones you want to buy. Also, compare the price of the tickets to the price of others being sold. Scam artists will often list tickets at a very low price to lure victims. Remember, if it sounds too good to be true, it probably is.

Pay with a credit card. Always use a credit card so you have additional protection. Never pay with cash or wire money. There is little to no way of getting your money back if the tickets do not arrive.

Watch for hidden fees. Some websites include service charges and additional shipping fees. While these charges should be identified on the website and disclosed to you before the transaction is finalized, read the fine print to make sure you know the total cost that will be billed to your account.

Never wire money. Money sent via wire transfer service is extremely difficult to retrieve. Once the scammers have picked it up, there is little recourse, if any, for getting your money back.

Additionally, BBB advises you to watch out for these red flags:

The ticket seller prefers to communicate via email. If the seller doesn't provide a physical address or phone number as another option to communicate, that's a red flag. With email, there's no way to tell where the person is emailing from, or who the person is. Ask questions! The ticket seller cannot provide additional photos or information. Request more photos of the property, or ask to be given a virtual tour via webcam. Ask for specific details about the package or tickets you are purchasing. Legitimate owners and/or sellers will be happy to oblige.

Fire FROM, 4D

Once removed all units cleared. 4 units, 9 personnel.

Aug. 29

Planting with Earth-kind in Mind at Master Garden Plant Sale

Remember the water shortage of the past few years. How soon we forget. Even in this time of weeks without rainfall we want our yards looking beautiful so we irrigate without regard for the overall impact on our extended environment. With a little pre-planning we can enjoy a beautiful, earth-kind landscaped yard.

The goals of Earth-kind are water conservation, reduced fertilizer and pesticide use, energy conservation, and reduced landscape waste for the landfill. Additional resources regarding Earth-kind landscaping check out http://aggie-horticulture.tamu.edu/earthkind/.

Keeping plants with similar water requirements together in the landscape will keep some plants from drowning while others will be under-irrigated. Planting now will give the plants a head-start for next year's summer beauty and heat.

Consider low-water requirements plants grouped together. Succulents such as echeveria, sedum Mexicana, ice plant and coopers ice plant, Manfred Blood Spot and yucca would create a striking Texas-style landscape. When the soil is mulched properly, there will be little maintenance to keep out unwanted plants and keep moisture in.

Low-water requirements perennials could be interspersed to give the landscape variety and additional color. Blackfoot daisy, Mexican oregano, rosemary, red or yellow anisacanthus, hill country aster, Texas primrose, and damianita are a few of the many low-water requirements perennial choices to consider.

Grasses also make a beautiful impact on the earth-kind landscape. They bring movement and variety that catch the eye. Grasses such as grama blue, gulf muhly, Montana "Baccarat" or candelilla also could be interspersed throughout, keeping mind the height and breadth of the grown plant.

The plants listed are generally heat and drought tolerant, which is the ultimate goal to cut down on irrigation and still have an attractive landscape in our Texas heat.

Plants listed here will be available at the Bell County Master Gardener 2015 Fall Plant Sale which will be held on Saturday, September, 19, 2015 from 7:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. at the Master Gardener Building at the Bell County Extension Office at 1605 N. Main in Belton, Texas. Native perennials, organic vegetables, herbs, succulents, and native trees will be available. There will be a "Gardener's Delight" garage sale held in conjunction with the plant sale along with local vendors. There will be free information booths about composting and rain water harvesting along with the popular kids camp and Ask a Master Gardener. More information can be found at http://txmg.org/bell/.
