Cattlemen’s Ball at Tenroc Oct. 20

The Salado Education Foundation Cattlemen’s Ball will be held at Tenroc Ranch in Salado on Oct. 20 at 6:30 p.m.

This year’s annual fundraiser will feature a steak dinner grilled on site by Johnny’s Steaks and Bar-Be-Que, a Dance Contest where even losers are winners, an auction and a raffle.

Auction items that will be available for purchase during the always exciting and competitive bidding led by ace auctioneer Bill Hall include a deer blind built by students in the Ag Department, art donated by Salado students, golf clubs, jewelry, a longhorn foot stool and cow hide rug, cooking classes, a bed, and even a puppy.

Tickets for the Cattlemen’s Ball are $75 per person and are available at these local Salado businesses: Barber Barn, Century 21, First Community Title, and the Salado ISD Administrative Office on Main Street.

According to Cattlemen’s Ball event chair Lanell Campbell, “We’ll have prizes for the best and the worst dance team because at the SEF ‘Dancing Under the Stars Cattlemen’s Ball,’ because no one should go home a loser! If we raise enough money to award all of the scholarships that are requested, then none of our students will have to go home a loser either.”

The mission of the Salado Education Foundation is to provide scholarships to students based on academic achievement, need, extracurricular activities and community service. In addition, SEF awards innovative teaching grants that enable teachers to introduce new tools and techniques in the classroom and presents cash awards to students competing in the Annual Village of Salado Art Competition and Exhibition. Last year the Salado Education Foundation awarded a record $20,000 in scholarships to eleven students, including its largest single grant of $4,000.

2006-07 Scholarship Chair Chris Alexander reflected on the scholarship selection process, “It was awesome - the qual-

Friends Feeding Friends

Temple-Belton Board of Realtors® held their annual food drive on Oct. 11 benefitting local food pantries. Realtors® such as Ann Carroll and Anna Lou Raney (above) manned a donation tent at Brookshire Brothers grocery store. All food and items collected there benefit the Salado Food Pantry. Meanwhile Feed The Children, sponsored by Protect America, delivered a truck load of food and non-perishable items to the Salado Food Pantry. Salado High School coaches and athletes took a break from morning practice to unload the trailer for the pantry.

Meetings set for SH 201 expansion

The Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) will conduct two public meetings for the proposed extension of State Highway (SH) 201 from SH 195 in Killeen to IH 35 near Salado, Bell County, Texas. For the public’s convenience and to maximize public participation; TxDOT will hold two separate public meetings, covering the same information.

The first public meeting is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Nov. 13 at Salado Intermediate School located at 550 Thomas Arnold Road, in Salado. The second public meeting is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Nov. 15 at the Harker Heights High School located at 1001 FM 2410, in Harker Heights.

In March 2007, TxDOT presented the proposed project to the public. Comments received since then have allowed TxDOT to develop several preliminary alignment alternatives. The purpose of these November public meetings is to give the public an opportunity to view and comment on the proposed project’s need and purpose and the preliminary alignment alternatives, including the alternative of no action.

These public meetings are open to the public and all interested citizens are invited to attend either of these meetings and express their views. Persons interested in attending the meetings who have special communication or accommodation needs are encouraged to contact Karie Brown at (254) 867-2743 as soon as possible so arrangements can be made. Since the meetings will be conducted in English, any requests for language interpreters or other special communication needs should be made at least one week prior to the meetings. TxDOT will make every reasonable effort to accommodate these needs.

Verbal and written comments regarding the proposed project are requested.

Comments may be presented either at the meetings or in writing after the meetings.

Written statements may be submitted to Mr. Henry R. Richardson Jr., SEE SH201, PAGE 6A

Sales tax receipts continue upward trend

For the second month in a row, Salado’s sales tax receipts outpaced the state and county.

The Village of Salado received a rebate check of $25,616.16, which is 10 percent more than last October’s payment of $23,318.10. For the year, however, the Village still trails the pace of 2006; to-date the Village has received $280,317.15, while it received $284,050 through October 2006.

The Village collects a one-percent sales tax levy within its boundaries.

Salado Public Library District is outpacing the Village, as it received $21,230.51 for October, which was 26 percent more than October 2006 payment of $16,879.34. The District is running seven percent ahead of 2006: to-date the Library has received $204,174.27, while it received $190,431.83 through October 2006. The Library District levies a half-cent sales tax within its boundaries that coincide with the Salado Independent School District boundaries.

Bell County government, which levies a half-cent sales tax, received a payment of $1.04 million, which is three percent more than last year’s $1.01 million. For the year, the County is running eight percent ahead, having received $10.8 million compared to the $10 million paid through Oct. 2006.

Texas Comptroller Susan Combs reports the state took in $1.62 billion dollars in sales tax in September, a seven percent increase over September 2006.

An Open Exchange of Ideas

The Iran Exception

When five American soldiers were killed at an Iraqi government building in Karbala in January, Democratic Sens. Chris Dodd and John Kerry erupted in outrage. They both knew one of the soldiers killed, a talented West Point grad. According to The Washington Post, his loss “radicalized Dodd, energized Kerry and girded the ever-more confrontational stance of Democrats in the Senate.”

It turned out that Iran’s Quds Force helped carry out the attack, providing training to the Shiite group responsible for it. So, the Iranians had effectively killed those Americans, but Dodd and Kerry have yet to become notably energized or radicalized about counteracting Iran’s malign influence in Iraq.

Democrats angered at American casualties in Iraq can’t summon more than pro forma denunciations of one of the main forces responsible for them. It’s the Iran exception: Because our intelligence on Saddam Hussein’s weapons was flawed and the Iraq War devilishly hard, Iran has practically carte blanche from half the American political spectrum to develop a nuclear weapon, kill Americans in Iraq, pledge to wipe a nearby country off the map, arm dangerous militants throughout the region and take Westerners hostage.

These Iranian depredations usually evoke a steely Democratic resolve -- to oppose whatever measures the Bush administration might be contemplating in response. Sen. Dodd, a Democratic candidate for president (if you hadn’t noticed), wrote President Bush a letter recently complaining about “increasingly bellicose public statements by United States officials.” What was this reckless saber rattling?

It’s hard to know. Maybe they are supposed to let these acts of war pass unremarked? Meanwhile, State Department spokesman Sean McCormack has been saying that “we’re working on the elements of a resolution” for further sanctions on Iran, pending “ongoing discussions.” Scary stuff, no? It’s hardly the equivalent of “Death to America,” which Iranian President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad shouts at rallies in Iran.

Liberals like to say of the Bush administration’s allegedly militaristic foreign policy that if the only tool you have is a hammer, every problem looks like a nail. Likewise, if the only tool you have is dialogue, everyone looks like a reasonable interlocutor.

So it is that Columbia University could invite Iranian President Ahmadinejad to come speak on campus for, as President Lee Bollinger put it, “academic purposes.” As if Ahmadinejad were merely a vehement participant in the graduate seminar “Jews and Arabs: Approaches Toward a Problem.”

In the aftermath of the Vietnam War, the Democratic Party’s foreign-policy views curdled from the expansive vision of John F. Kennedy to an inward-looking disposition tinged with paranoia about our own government. The Iraq War has had the same effect on Democrats, many of whom seem to consider the Bush administration a greater threat to peace than the mullahs in Iran.

Out in the real world, Iran is a deadly enemy of the United States. Diplomacy might change its behavior, but only if backed by serious sanctions, and perhaps the credible threat of force. That’s the hard reality. The Iran exception cannot stand.

Lawmakers hurt disabled vets by fumbling Amendments 9-12

Writer’s note: This is the third, in a four part series, reviewing the 16 Constitutional Amendments facing voters on November 6. This week’s examination is unusual in that the enabling legislation to put Amendments 9-12 into statutory action - all failed!

The question “why” immediately came to mind, so we raised that point with legislators who dealt with the amendments involved in this week’s analyses. Their responses (where available) came from staff members, and are included with the appropriate amendments that follow.

* * * * *

AMENDMENT NINE

Amendment Nine would be a timely addition to our state constitution in that it improves the homestead tax exemption formula for Texas military personnel who were disabled as a result of active duty service. Unfortunately, the legislation needed to activate the amendment failed.

This proposal aligns the state’s military disability model with that of the Veteran’s Administration, to better determine a Vet’s correct homestead tax reduction.

This amendment also provides that a totally disabled veteran would receive a full exemption from all homestead property taxes.

Those who oppose this amendment, uncaringly note that an unusually high number of Iraq and Afghanistan veterans are returning home with mental-physical disabilities, and therefore the tax drain would be greatly “exacerbated.”

It has been suggested (and we agree) that a few months combat duty in Iraq might change that cruel, cold hearted attitude.

Recommendation: Amendment Nine should receive a 100 percent public vote to show our appreciation for the sacrifices the veterans of our State have made.

The enabling legislation that would have put this amendment into immediate action died in the House, during the closing day’s “rebellion” against embattled Speaker Tom Craddick. All legislative action was gavelled to a standstill, by the “belligerent” speaker, who won that battle (but may eventually lose the war). Prop-9 was an unfortunate casualty of the uprising!

There needs to be a major public outcry, specifically against Craddick and his gang of toadies, for the “shabby” treatment given our disabled veterans.

AMENDMENT TEN

Amendment Ten deletes from the Constitution the “Title” of “County Inspector of Hides and Animals” - an office that was abolished years ago.

Prop-10 was drawn to simply drop the archaic title from the constitution and statute books - and guess what happened?

The enabling legislation to remove the “Title” from the statutes (HB1631 by Rep Heflin, D-Crosbyton) zipped through the House and was ready for an uncontested vote in the Senate.

Unfortunately, Senators promoting the legalization of horse slaughtering in Texas, slyly tied their highly controversial legislation to the “Hide and Animal Inspector’s Title” bill.

Thankfully the plot was discovered and rather than wage a “horse” fight just hours before the session ended, the “damaged” Title-bill was pulled.

Recommendation: Be sure to vote for this amendment which will at least get this defunct title (Hide and Animal Inspector) out of the constitution. Rep Heflin (reportedly) plans to once again author the legislation to get the “Title” eliminated from the statutes.

Off the Record by Ken Clapp

AMENDMENT ELEVEN

Amendment Eleven is the traditional “first step” towards open government - a key tenant of democracy. If passed, this proposition would require a “record” vote on final passage of all bills and constitutional amendment resolutions.

Texas is one of only ten states that doesn’t have this needed vote requirement, which prevents “hidden vote” scandals, when “voice votes” and “presumptive voting” are permitted - as is the case in our state legislature.

Recommendation: Despite the fact that this amendment was approved unanimously in both houses of the legislature - its enabling legislation died in the House.

Regardless of this typical political hypocrisy, Texas voters should overwhelmingly approve Amendment Eleven, thereby adding it to the Constitution. By doing this, a record vote would be required “constitutionally” (not statutorily) on final reading of all (except ceremonial) legislation.

Most of our bumptious legislative leaders believe nothing “trumps” House and Senate rules, including statutes (and presumably) the constitution. But fearing they might be wrong, lawmakers junked this enabling legislation. Incidentally, it was destroyed by a lightning fast “off-record” voice vote.

We suspect this imperious attitude by lawmakers, who want to play by their own rules, has set the courthouse stage to determine which “ranks” first: House-Senate rules or the state constitution and statutes.

AMENDMENT TWELVE

Amendment Twelve would break new ground in financing our highways. Currently, new construction as well as roadway maintenance are paid from dedicated funds i.e. car registration fees, a 20 cent per gallon tax, and dwindling federal dollars.

Amendment 12 would - for the first time - allow the Texas Transportation Commission (TxDot) to issue general revenue bonds ($5 billion) to pay for road improvement projects. The bonds to be repaid from state revenues that include sales and oil taxes.

The enabling legislation for Amendment 12 was killed in the Senate, so TxDot will have to try again (in 2009) to secure new legislation permitting them to issue general obligation bonds.

NO TO PROP 12; YES TO LANDMARK LEGISLATION

It is recommended that amendment 12 be defeated! Then, leading up to the 2009 session, voters should pressure legislators to prepare (and pass) landmark legislation, that dumps the “no-new-tax” idiocy and increases gasoline taxes and vehicle registration fees.

Lawmakers must also develop laws that force large trucks to pay their rightful share of highway usage - something their industry has consistently fought, despite their own lobby’s claims to the contrary.

“Landslide” Perry should properly call a special session to address the crumbling highway situation - but he’s hung up over the (anti-tax) reactionary folly: “Toll roads checkmate new taxes.”

All of which is pure nonsense since a toll is just another type of tax!

That’s -30-

Salado Realty attends convention

Dottie Shirley, Joan Wright and Rita Oden of Salado Realty were among more than 2,000 Texas Realtors recently attending the Texas Association of Realtors (TAR) Convention and Trade Expo at the Galveston Convention Center. Exceeding attendance numbers of the last 16 years, TAR's 2007 convention featured enhanced educational opportunities and nationally recognized keynote speakers.

State Rep. John Otto was a guest speaker during the five-day event in Galveston. Meeting participants also heard from Mark Dotzour, chief economist with the Real Estate Center at Texas A&M University; Dick Gaylord, 2007 president-elect of the 1.3 million member National Association of Realtors; and Avis Wukasch, 2007 chairman of the Texas Association of Realtors.

Key topics discussed at the convention included: mortgage fraud, predatory lending, affordable housing, green building, commercial real estate trends, professional standards, technology, the future of real estate, customer service, property management, risk reduction and real estate spokesperson training.

Match financial goals with the right investments

Over the course of your life, you'll almost certainly have many different financial goals - and to help achieve them, you'll need to use many different investments.

How might you target specific investments for specific goals? Here are a few suggestions:

Saving for a home - When saving for a down payment on their first house, many people set up an account exclusively for that purpose, keeping the money separate from other investment accounts. To save for a home, you might want to use certificates of deposit (CDs) or short-term, investment-grade bonds, both of which can help preserve your principal.

Saving for retirement To enjoy a long and comfortable retirement, you'll need to build a substantial amount of financial resources. And you'll help yourself if you can accumulate those savings in tax-advantaged vehicles. If your employer offers a 401(k) or similar retirement plan, take full advantage of it. Your contributions are generally

Financial Focus

by Allen Mantanona

made with pre-tax dollars, so the more you put in, the lower your annual taxable income. Plus, your earnings can potentially grow on a tax-deferred basis, which means your money may accumulate faster than it would if placed in an investment on which you paid taxes every year. And your 401(k) or other plan may have a dozen or more investment options.

Even if you have a 401(k) or other employer-sponsored plan, you can usually contribute to an IRA as well. A traditional IRA offers tax-deferred earnings, while a Roth IRA can potentially grow tax-free, provided you don't begin taking withdrawals until you're 59 1/2 and you've had your account at least five years. And you can fund an IRA with virtually any type of investment - stocks, bonds, CDs, etc.

Saving for college - You can save for college with a Coverdell Education Savings Account or a Section 529 savings plan, both of which can provide tax-free earnings, as long as the money is used for higher education expenses. (Your earnings will be taxable if you use withdrawals for other purposes.) And if you invest in your own state's Section 529 plan, your contributions may be tax deductible. However, Section 529 plan distributions could reduce your child's ability to qualify for financial aid. Another possibility to consider is a zero-coupon bond, typically issued by the Treasury under the name of STRIPS. You buy a zero-coupon bond at a deep discount; when the bond matures (which, if you've planned carefully, will occur when your child is ready to enter college), you collect the full face value. However, you may have to pay taxes on each year's interest payments, even though you don't actually receive them until the bond matures.

Generating income during retirement - You could spend two or three decades in retirement, so you'll need a consistent income stream, which you may be able to receive from investment-grade bonds. But to fight the effects of inflation, you'll also need the potential for rising income, which you may be able to receive from dividend-producing stocks. (Keep in mind, though, that even stocks that have consistently paid dividends can decrease or eliminate them at any time without notice.)

Of course, these investments are certainly not the only ones available to you. But they do help point out the importance of identifying your various goals - and choosing the right investments to help meet them.

YOU CAN'T CONTROL THE WORLD, BUT YOU CAN CONTROL YOUR DECISIONS.

Sometimes the market reacts poorly to world events, but just because the market reacts doesn't mean you should. Still, if current events are making you feel uncertain about your finances, you should schedule a complimentary portfolio review. That way, you can make sure you're in control of where you want to go and how you get there.

MAKING SENSE OF INVESTING

Secrets of the garden

Buying and Selling

By Ryan Hodge

It's easy to understand how landscaping can enhance your home's appearance, livability, and resale value. There are many affordable improvements that will boost your curb appeal, but you can begin by investing in just a little elbow grease to trim bushes and prune dead tree limbs.

One simple project that will significantly impact your property's perceived value is planting trees. Proper installation of just three trees can cut energy bills an average of $100 to $250 annually.

Then there's the question of color, and plants like junipers and boxwood provide interest all year long. When planting flowers, you'll find that red and white colors provide the biggest impact.

Water goes hand in hand with planting and landscaping, and everyone (including the birds) loves the soothing sound of a cascading pond waterfall or fountain. Also consider ways to conserve water in the garden, like xeriscaping with drought-resistant plants.

You certainly don't have to go "whole hog," and you can cut your costs by working in stages. Of course, you can learn more about the most beneficial landscaping by visiting a botanical garden, participating in a local "garden walk," or getting advice from your neighbors.

The most important thing to keep in mind is to have fun. And who knows? Developing your green thumb

Eagles to face top offense in district

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Don't underestimate Lago Vista.

Even though the Vikings are 0-3 in district play, they have the most prolific offense in District 25-2A and the third-ranked defense in the district.

Through six weeks, the Vikings have averaged almost 350 yards total offense, most of it on the ground.

The Vikings have rushed for 1,776 yards through six weeks of play.

"They are committed to the run," said coach Jeff Cheatham of the Vikings, coached by Salado High School graduate and former SHS coach Alan Haire.

The Vikings force the ball on offense from the Wing T style lineup that has caused such havoc in recent years on defenses.

Devin Brown gets most of the carries for the Vikings. He leads the district with 1,002 yards on 164 carries.

"He is strong and very quick," Cheatham said. "We not only have to be good up front but on the edges as well."

Fortunately, the Vikings strength on offense

Eagles continue romping through district foes, beat Rogers 35-3

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Salado Eagles put up 14 points in less than half a minute, enough to secure their victory over the Rogers Eagles Oct. 12, but the hosting and district-leading Salado went on to score three more touchdowns for a 35-3 whooping of their district rivals.

After a 28 yard field goal by Rogers, Salado's Clayton Whitmire took the ensuing kick-off from the seven yard line, split between defenders in the wedge and sprinted downfield for a touchdown with 5:34 left in the first quarter. Leo Galvan, who hasn't missed an extra point yet this season, booted the PAT for a 7-3 lead.

Three plays later, Jerod Lutz grabbed Rogers quarterback Jonathan Bane's pass at the 40 yard line, when Bane's receiver zigged instead of zagging (or vice versa) on his route and ran it into the endzone at 5:11 in the half. Galvan made the score 14-3.

Salado took a 21-3 lead into the lockers based on three big plays. The third big play of the half for Salado was an 80-yard touchdown reception by Seth Collins, who also rushed for 106 yards on the night on just nine touches. With 2:26 left in the half, Salado drove 91 yards on four plays, three rushes and the pass from David Rosenau to Collins. Rosenau hit Collins at 15 yards deep. Collins took the ball in stride coming across the field and outran the secondary defenders along the sidelines. Galvan booted the PAT for the 21-3 lead.

The hosting Eagles scored twice in the third period. Salado drove 80 yards in 11 plays to score on a one-yard dive by Galvan. Rosenau, who threw the ball for 187 yards on 11 completions, hit Galvan for a 14-yard screen on fourth down and 14 to go at the Rogers 39 yard line to keep the drive alive. Collins scampered on second down for 19 yards to move the ball to the goalline, from which Galvan punched the ball in for the touchdown with 4:22 in the third. Galvan then added the extra point for the 28-3 lead.

Dallas Butts falls on a fumble by Rogers running back Donovan Chappell. Leo Galvan caused the fumble for Salado. The Salado defense gave up only 205 yards of total offense on the night. Butts made six tackles and hurried the quarterback once, in addition to falling on the fumble.

After forcing Rogers to punt, Salado then drove 82 yards in three plays, all carries by Collins. Collins scored on a 63-yard run, getting open field blocks by Denny Jordan and Blake Heller. Galvan added the point-after for the final lead of the night 35-3 at 1:42 left in the game.

The Eagles did not score in the fourth quarter, having pulled the starters for most of the period.

Josh Bush led the Eagles defense with 15 assisted tackles (AT), and two solo tackles (ST).

Matt Fritsch has 10 AT and three ST on the night.

Colin Smith had one of his best nights in the season with eight AT, a tackle for loss (TFL), a fumble recovery and two quarterback hurries.

Leo Galvan had seven ATs, an ST and a big hit.

Dallas Butts registered five ATs, an ST, a hurry and a fumble recovery.

Tyler Coker registered five AT, one ST, a TFL and a big hit.

John Cruz made five ATs and an ST.

Blake Heller made four ATs, two STs, sacked the quarterback and hurried the quarterback.

Caleb Little had four ATs, one ST, a TFL and two hurries.

Garret Ward made two ATs, an ST and knocked down two passes.

Jerod Lutz registered

two ATs, knocked down three passes and returned an interception for a touchdown.

Also registering tackles were these: Ryan Wooley, three ATs; Josh Marquez, two ATs Clayton Whitmire, two ATs and Seth Collins, one AT.

Salado sits atop the district at 6-0, 3-0 in district play. The Eagles share the district lead with Troy after Florence lost to Academy 22-12 tonight to drop to 2-1 in district play and Troy defeated Lago Vista 23-14 to remain 3-0 in district play. Jarrell beat Rosebud-Lott 28-0 for their first district win in other district action.

Next week, the Eagles travel to Lago Vista.

Ladies beat top two teams in district to stay alive

If the girls win out this week against Rosebud-Lott and Lago Vista, they could force a tie for the third play-off spot.

As of press-time on Oct. 16, the standings in district were this: Florence, Rogers and Lago Vista knotted for the top spot at 9-3 each in district, Salado at 8-4 in district, Academy 6-6, Jarrell, 4-7, Troy 2-10 and Rosebud-Lott 1-11. Results of the Salado game against Rosebud-Lott will be posted to our website.

Converting their extra points on each of their five touchdowns proved to be the difference in a high scoring game with Rogers Oct. 11, 37-32 to improve to 4-1-1.

Salado trailed at the end of the first quarter, 13-7 but scored twice in the second quarter and tacked on two-point conversion to jump out to a 23-20

Even though the score was low, the Salado Eagles eight graders were able to move the ball well against Rogers in their 8-6 win on Oct. 11.

The Eagles scored on a 33 yard pass from Austin Silva to Payton Best. Silva ran in the two-point conversion for an 8-0 halftime lead.

“That was the big play of the night,” said coach Lyndon Clevenger, adding that “Silva broke a tackle and nearly got tackled right before he threw the ball.”

Colton Meiman had a 20 yard run to keep that scoring drive alive.

Earlier, Silva connected with Meiman for a 33 yard touchdown pass, but it was called back on a penalty.

“Silva had several runs to keep drives going,” Clevenger said. “He pounded his way through the Rogers defense.”

Other key plays of the night included a 14 yard run by Josh Painter and a 20 yard punt return by Payton Best.

Outstanding Offensive Players; Colton Meiman WR, Colby Spears QB, Sean McBride FB, Micheal Sellers OL/FB, Tyler Bridges FB, Austin Silva RB, Payton Best WR/RB, Austin Armstrong WR, Josh Painter WR, Will Cook WR, Ben Perrin WR, Kelley Jiminez WR, Dylan Danek WR, Jacob Svadlenak TE, Brenden Laird OL, Dennis Quisberry OL, Nick Castillo C, Jonny Jordan C, Jace Rex OL, Danial Goldman OL, Devan Patterson OL, Kyle Bradley OL, Jacob Conrad OL and Marcos Mendoza WR.

The eighth grade Eagles are now 4-0 and 3-0 in district play. They will face Lago Vista Oct. 18.

832 yards in the air.
With the most accurate passer in the district in David Rosenau who has thrown 96 times for 55 completions and just two interceptions, the Eagles bring a variety of threats to opposing defenses.

Running backs Seth Collins and Leo Galvan can catch the ball out of the backfield, while tight end Blake Heller is a traditional block-and-catch performer.

Clayton Whitmire also poses a threat as a receiver for Rosenau.

Averaging more than 100 yards per game, Seth Collins is the number two rusher in the district.

Both teams have big players on the line, so expect the battle lines to be drawn between the big men up front.

A battle that Salado has dominated every week thus far.

The teams kick the ball off at 7:30 p.m. at Lago Vista.

Super Lawyer: Second year for local attorney to earn honor

Local attorney Tom Normand has once again been selected as a Texas Super Lawyer and is featured in a special section of the October issue of Texas Monthly magazine. A partner in the law firm of Naman, Howell, Smith & Lee, Normand was also named as Super Lawyer last year.

Only five percent of Texas attorneys are honored in this way each year. Super Lawyers is an annual listing of outstanding lawyers who have attained a high degree of peer recognition and professional achievement. The selection process includes peer nominations, a blue ribbon panel review process and independent research on candidates by the sponsoring organization, Law & Politics, a publisher of legal magazines.

To be chosen, a candidate must first be nominated and voted on by other attorneys in the state. This year, ballots were sent to 57,000 eligible Texas attorneys who nominated candidates based on their background, experience, honors and awards, scholarly publications, representative clients and verdicts, pro bono work, and civic service, among many criteria. The nominees are then grouped into sixty areas of specialization and reviewed by a blue ribbon panel of peers.

Normand was selected in the practice area of estate planning and probate law. He and the other Super Lawyers are featured in the Texas Super Lawyers magazine and in the October issue of Texas Monthly. In addition, Super Lawyers from around the country, as well as Texas, can be viewed on the web at www.superlawyers.com.

Normand is a native of Belton and has practiced law in Temple since 1976 when he joined the firm.

of Bowmer, Courtney, & Burleson, becoming a partner in 1981. When that firm merged with Naman, Howell, Smith and Lee, he remained in the Temple office. He is certified by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization in the field of estate planning and probate law.

Normand is a graduate of the University of Texas and Baylor Law School, where he was the editor of the Baylor Law Review. He also holds a Master of Law in Taxation from George Washington University and is a member of the State Bar of Texas and the American College of Trust and Estate Counsel.

Normand has made numerous presentations and published a number of articles on tax and estate planning and has been an Adjunct Lecturer at Baylor University School of Law. He is currently on the board of directors of the Ralph Wilson Youth Clubs and is the general counsel for that organization.

What's going on lately in the world of college football? Almost all of the big, Division I teams have suffered at least one loss. Many like the idea of parity, which says that on any given day, any team can win the ballgame. Wouldn't it be great if life in general was like that kind of "level playing field?" Why not work toward making "parity" in the lives of those around you by being a blessing to them? The world will be a happier place for it.

Susie Griffith Cabaniss services held Oct. 18

Susie Griffith Cabaniss died at 6 a.m., Oct. 16 in her home. She would have been 95 years old on Dec. 28 of this year. Services will be conducted by Aubrey Jones and Steven Ash at 10 a.m. Oct. 18 at the Church of Christ in Salado. Burial will be at Cedar Knob Cemetery immediately following the service. Heartfield funeral home is handling the arrangements.

Pallbearers are Brent Cabaniss, Benny Clement, Cecil Cosper, Jimmy Kitchen, Dr. Mark Morgan and Jonny Kendall. Honorary Pallbearer is Jay Titlow.

Susie was born on Dec. 28, 1918 to Edgar and Nannie Poteet Griffith. She attended Thomas Arnold Grammer School on Old College Hill and later Salado High School before graduating from Belton High in 1931. She was raised on the family farm near Salado where she helped with all the farm work using horses and mules for power, and milking two - four cows morning and night. Susie rode the reaper during grain harvest, shocked oats and wheat in the field and operated a bundle wagon during the thrashing season. She also chopped and picked cotton and gathered corn. She plowed and planted, hauled rocks and mended harnesses. Susie died on the land she loved and where she was born.

She married Earl Claude Cabaniss in Jan. 1934 While her children were young, she continued to help her dad on the farm while building a reputation as a paper hanger. She continued this occupation for over 20 years before working at Griggs Equipment Co. the last 10 years before retirement age. For several years after retirement, Susie played the piano and sang songs, along with several members of the Church, for the residents of nursing homes in the Belton area. She spent her life in joy and good work.

Susie was preceded in death by her parents; her husband Earl in 1988; a still born daughter, Tina, in 1954; her younger sister, Doris Oswald and three older brothers Paul, Dennis and Louis Griffith. She is survived by one brother, Bill Griffith and his wife Marion of Dallas; three sons, Tempe Cabaniss and wife Lois, Dennis Cabaniss and wife Lyndal, all of Salado and Boyce Cabaniss of Austin; two daughters Leah Buzzard and Claudia Cabaniss of Salado. She is also survived by four granddaughters; Kari Stogner of Ft. Permenter discusses amenities at Holiday Inn Cathy Permenter, Manager of the local Holiday Inn Express spoke at the recent Rotary Club meeting.

Permenter said the Holiday Inn Express opened a year ago in October. She has served as Manager since the middle of May 2007. Her background in event planning, marketing, and promotions qualified her for the position.

Corporations are contracting with the Holiday Inn Express to reserve meeting rooms for large groups to hold training sessions. Permenter is also very active with coordinating art tours, historical tours, shopping and lunches for visiting tourists and customers.

Some Holiday Inn Express services include: a continental breakfast, conference room (seats up to 85 people), dining room (seats up to 60 people) anniversary parties, wedding parties. One of their ultimate goal is to serve a weekly Mexican Buffet and a Nightly Happy Hour. Holiday Inn Express has applied for a liquor license.

Prevention and proper bread choices for health

Q) Why do you give white bread such a low rating concerning nutrition and part of our everyday lifestyle?

A) Pioneering nutritionist Adelle Davis said it very well in 1947 when she wrote, "...almost all commercial bread is made of highly refined flour loaded with chemical softeners, whiteners, agers, fresheners, preservers and mold- and fungus-growth preventers."

Are you scrutinizing the ingredient labels' on your bread products to improve your health as well as the health of your family?

Healthy whole-grain/multi-grain bread should be rich, chewy, and may even be considered "thick". Take a look at the ingredient label on your bread bag, is it full of: partially hydrogenated oil (this oil is devastating to your health), caramel coloring (to color the cheap non-whole wheat bread made with refined flour), Calcium sulfate (remember plaster of paris), and Calcium propionate (mold inhibitor)? What kind of nutrients can we expect to receive from this "impoverished" food?

Refined white flour is stripped of the most nutritious parts of the grain kernel. The fiber is lost, along with essential fatty acids and most of the vitamins and minerals. The truth is, more than thirty nutrients are removed during milling. This refined flour is then required by law to be enriched meaning that five nutrients are added back (iron, niacin, thiamin, riboflavin, and — recently added to the list — folic acid).

NEWS FLASH: White bread, made with refined white flour, is no better for your health than drinking sodas and eating candy bars! If you and your family are consuming bread that lists the first ingredient as "enriched flour" you should throw it away. It is NOT beneficial but it IS very detrimental to your health.

Whole-wheat bread would be the lowest quality of bread I would ever consume on a regular basis (if I consumed bread on a regular basis, which I don't), and if you have no gluten issues you should try to experiment with multi-grain, 7-grain, 11-grain and even breads that are refrigerated and frozen as they have no preservatives added.

Hopefully you are asking yourself; "how has white bread become such a prominent food in our society?" Good question and here is a quick answer; white bread is; 1) Cheap (the quality of our food should be the last place we are pinching pennies), 2) Quick (we are the fast-food nation), 3) Doesn't spoil quickly (can sit on the shelf longer), 4) High in sugar content (fits our Carbapolic societal needs, plus white bread is high on the Glycemic index chart and whole-wheat and multi-grain breads are low), 5) Easy (doesn't need to be refrigerated or frozen) and 6) The misconception that a calorie is a calorie (white bread is just another way America is over consuming and creating a state of malnourishment while overfeeding).

LIFESTYLE AND WELLNESS

By KEVIN McCauley

Q) I don't have the time or energy to improve my health correctly, are drugs and procedures really that bad?

A) Okay, okay, this question is obviously "tongue in cheek" but I am trying to make a point. But to answer the question, "yes, they are", when that is your primary focus on improving your health. Why? The majority of medicine being practiced in America today is considered Allopathic medicine. Allopathic medicine does not improve our health by curing the cause, Allopathic medicine treats the symptoms. Because of this, unfortunately, we focus on treatment, not prevention. If we just took a small percentage of the money and time spent on treatment in this country and focused it on prevention we would all be in a better place, all of us.

The truth is, over 75% of human life should be living free of disease. This is not happening and I think the major reason is because our focus in the United States is on the "Magic Bullet", not "prevention" and a "steady dose of self-discipline". If you want to make lots of money in the health and fitness industry you do one, or a combination of, the following things: 1) Sell programs promising unreachable results with outrageous statements, 2) Sell result-oriented supplements guaranteeing unbelievable results, 3) Sell infomercial products promising drastic results in a very short period of time or 4) by just becoming a Cosmetic Surgeon specializing on the "looks" of their client, not their "health". Most people don't have enough time or energy to improve their health because they don't value their health as much as they think they do and/or they are still waiting for the "easy way out" with the introduction of a "magic bullet" into their lives. My recommendation is to reassess what is really important in your life and re-prioritize your health as I can tell you, the healthy; non-risk magic bullet everybody is waiting for is not coming in your or my lifetime!

Mary Shelly’s Monsters at Salado Silver Spur

“The Bride of Frankenstein,” director James Whale’s classic 1935 horror masterpiece, will play at the Salado Silver Spur Theatre at the $5 FilmFest 7:30p.m. Oct. 18. This is the latest offering of the Salado Silver Spur Support Service and Cinema Society. The remaining films in the series will be scheduled for Thursday nights only due to the underwhelming response of our presentations on Sunday. So catch a real classic at the Salado Silver Spur Theatre when we present “The Bride of Frankenstein.” I consider this film to be THE monster movie. There are other monster movies and there is “The Bride of Frankenstein.” Director James Whale brought the creature back in this sequel to “Frankenstein,” a sequel that’s even better than its predecessor. Novelist Mary Wollstonecraft Shelley’s creations return with Boris Karloff again the monster and Colin Clive as Baron Henry Frankenstein, both taking up where they left off in the previous film.

The 1953 ads for the movie daunted “Who will be the Bride of Frankenstein? Who will dare?” “Bolt your doors! Chain your windows! The monster is loose again, and demands a bride!” “Torn between a desire to kill, maim, destroy--and mad with love for a creature like himself!” See the ultimate Halloween love story Oct. 18 at the $5 Film Fest.

The monster, you’ll recall, had been presumed dead when a burning windmill collapsed on him. But you can’t keep a good monster down. Now he’s scorched and scarred and madder than ever. To help pacify him, the good Baron, recovered from his own near-fatal fall from the mill, is persuaded by a genuinely weird colleague, Dr. Pretorius (Ernest Thesiger), to build the monster a mate, a bride (Elsa Lanchester, who also plays Mary Shelley in the prologue). Needless to say, when the new creature meets the old creature, she finds him less than attractive. Which ticks off the old monster even more! You want to see mad? Look at a monster scorned. The movie is scary, creepy, funny, and touching by turns. Indeed, sometimes all at once. The monster’s unpleasant disposition is established the first time we see him. When two peasants investigate whether the monster is really dead, he murders them both. Then the monster charges around the countryside stirring up further trouble and killing the occasional bystander, like a little girl! Is nothing sacred? The film can be interpreted seriously or tongue-in-cheek; take your pick. Meanwhile, Henry Frankenstein has taken on a new bride, Elizabeth (Valerie Hobson), which seems to annoy the monster no end, he being alone in the world. Given the enormous success of the first “Frankenstein” movie, director Whale was provided a much larger budget for the second effort, producing a film with elaborate and ever-more peculiar sets, like the inside of the doctor’s mansion with its oddly beamed ceilings and curiously shaped rooms or a sterile forest of leafless, limbless trees. I would suggest a large box of popcorn and the beverage of your choice as you view this Science Fiction classic at the Silver Spur Theatre $5 FilmFest. The thrills and chills continue through October as they have scheduled Mel Brooks’ comedic take on this story, “Young Frankenstein” October 25th. Check out their website at Saladocinema.org or call the Silver Spur for details at 947-3456.

New products find home at Angelic Herbs & Inspiration

Angelic Herbs and Inspirations is currently highlighting two natural personal care and gift lines and a new cookbook with recipes for the body and soul. Some of the new products available include pure glycerin soaps, natural soaps and reed diffusers.

Owner CJ Harbuz says she will continue to add more of the line as customers voice their preferences. In keeping with the store’s tradition to offer natural local products, Lavender Gifts are available from Dry Creek Herb farm in Salado which includes Lavender Ties and other gifts to calm the spirit. Love and Lemon Pie, recipes for the Body and the Soul by Peggy S.Grose is a must have cookbook according to Harbuz. This book presents two ways in which we can show love—food and the loving words with which we serve it up. Grose has collected the “Recipes for the Body” for 50 years and raised four sons on them. The “Recipes for the Soul,” on the facing pages, are suggestions and instruction for communicating in loving and nurturing ways. Signed copies are available.

Friends of Library week is Oct. 21-27

By KAREN KINNISON

As you come up the sidewalk to our beautiful library please notice the sweet little statue of two children reading a book that was donated to us by our dear late friend and volunteer, Paulette Patrick. Every time we look at it we will be reminded of her quiet devotion and generosity.

Next week, Oct. 21-27, is National Friends of Libraries Week. We here at the library want to thank all our wonderful and hardworking friends. The library will be spending the entire week of Oct. 21-27 celebrating its Friends of the Library group. The Friends of Salado Public Library were re-established in 2005 and have raised over $2000 for the library to date. Currently over 175 community members contribute their time and efforts to the Friends and over 50 of these contributors actively volunteer their time to assist the group with fundraising efforts such as the annual used book sales, the Backyard Bookshop, or by working in the library. Celebration activities will include a special children's story time on Monday based on the theme of friendship, a display highlighting the Friends and a membership drive. "Love letters" to the Friends from library staff will be posted throughout the library for all to view.

And in other news, the Friends of the Library has received donations of $1,200 towards a bronze sculpture by local artist Ronnie Wells. The sculpture is called "Once Upon a Time" and depicts a mother reading to a child.

The Public Arts League of Salado donated $1,000 towards the sculpture and the Salado Chamber of Commerce donated $200.

PALS hosts various fund raisers throughout the year, such as Taste of Salado.

"This project fits into the mission of PALS to promote and acquire public art in Salado", said President Troy Kelley.

Bob Denton, President of the Friends, said the FOL is extremely grateful for this generous gift. "It is a first step towards acquiring the donations needed to purchase the sculpture", said Denton.

Wells has generously offered the sculpture to the Library for the cost of casting the bronze.

If anyone is interested in making a donation to this endeavor, please call Steve Ervin, chairman of fundraising for the Friends, or the Salado Library for more information.

A photo of the sculpture can be viewed on Wells' web site at http://www.ronniewells.com/Bronzes/once_upon_a_time.html.

bership drive are: Christie Justice and Michael Lee Bergman of Salado. They each have won a $25.00 gift certificate to Amazon! Congratulations Christie and Michael!

Here is a quick rundown of the new DVD's on the shelves this week.

PRIME SUSPECT 6: You've been waiting for the next one, haven't you? It's here. The incomparable Helen Mirren (The Queen) reprises her famous role as the gritty, hard-boiled British detective Jane Tennison. Older and wiser, the sadly flawed Jane is still feisty and as usual gives the story its tension through her reactions, her fights with the old boy network, and her myopic drive to catch the bad guys.

YOU KILL ME: Sir Ben Kingsley as a drunken assassin? What can't he do? Frank (Sir Ben) botches an assignment, leaving the mob family he works for to clean up the mess. He moves, dries out, gets a job at a mortuary and falls in love. Then things get complicated. One of those "dark, quirky" comedies.

THE HOAX: After billing his "authorized autobiography" of eccentric millionaire Howard Hughes as the 20th century's most important book, writer Clifford Irving begins to believe his own hype. But his scam soon catches up with him. Starring Marcia Gay Harden, Alfred Molina, and Richard Gere (as Clifford) this drama is full of 70's hairdos and lots of stock footage of Hughes. Remember this? I do. Yikes, it really happened!

AWAY FROM HER: This isn't just a portrait of Alzheimer's. For a generation that doesn't have a lot of marital role models, it's also a lyrical portrait of what it means to stick with a person for the long run. This is a story about a long-married couple whose lives are torn apart when one of them must enter a rest home. Olympia Dukakis co-stars with Julie Christie and Gordon Pinsent in this film inspired by an Alice Munro story. Not a downer, just true to life. Shades of The Notebook.

MIDSOMER MURDERS 9: More Midsomer murders! This is a very popular series and we are still working on getting them ALL! Here are some of the latest in the series aired on BBC in 2004. Starring John Nettles, the four mysteries here are: Things latest of another of our most popular BBC thrillers. DCI Lynley and Detective Sergeant Havers, Elizabeth George's crime cracking duo from opposite sides of the tracks are back in four new episodes. This fifth series begins with Lynley suspended from duty for alleged brutality, pending the outcome of his disciplinary hearing. Havers teams up with another DCI, Fiona Knight, to investigate the drowning of a young woman in a car. But things aren't as simple as they seem.

That Go Bump In the Night, Dead in the Water, Orchia Fatalis, and Banting Boy. As usual the cozy villagers of Midsomer County reveal their most sinister secrets in these contemporary British mysteries.

We still have lots of great new books on the shelves and lots of great old ones too.

Each Piece is Unique

The Salado Sawmill, an artisan's workshop and gallery, carries a unique line of custom furniture. Bob Pascoe, the owner, designs, builds and finishes unique furniture and other wooden items. Pascoe uses traditional construction techniques, using only solid woods. "There is no fiber board or veneering in my work," says Pascoe, "I use mortise and tenon glue joints and a minimum of mechanical fasteners." He has produced many different products including cabinets, islands, tables, breakfronts, chairs, and bookcases. You can view his work at www.saladosawmill.com.

Pascoe says he can design to your specification. "Just bring in a picture or sketch of something you're interested in and your specific requirements like dimension and wood type. I'll provide you with a bid and we can go from there."

Pascoe enjoys the challenge of custom designs. "I like to learn something with each piece I make," he says. He invites you to visit him.

The Sawmill, a division of XtraWorX, LLC, is located at 409 Salado Plaza at the entrance to Mill Creek in Salado.

Raising the Percentages

Contract Bridge

By Steve Becker

Assume you get to seven hearts on the sequence shown. Partner's bidding is certainly reasonable -- from his viewpoint, if you had a sixth heart or the jack of diamonds, you'd have 13 sure tricks. But as it is, you have a potential loser in clubs. How should you play the hand?

At first glance, it seems that the only chance to get rid of the club loser lies in finding a 3-3 division of the missing diamonds. Since this is only a 36 percent probability, you appear to be a favorite to go down one. Nevertheless, with correct play you can raise your chances to much better than 50 percent.

After taking the opening spade lead, you draw trumps, cash the ace of clubs and then run your remaining spades and hearts. This reduces your own hand to three diamonds and the queen of clubs, while dummy has the A-K-Q-5 of diamonds. Meanwhile, if either defender was originally dealt four or more diamonds and the king of clubs, he cannot discard safely on the last heart.

In the actual deal, East is the one who succumbs to the pressure. When the fifth heart is led, he is forced to discard the king of clubs -- his only hope is that his partner has the queen -- after which you take the last four tricks with the club queen and A-K-Q of diamonds. Observe that the squeeze would work exactly the same way if the East-West hands were interchanged.

Note also the critical importance of cashing dummy's ace of clubs before running all the spades and hearts. If this is not done, the squeeze won't work against East. This is because if the dummy has been reduced to the club ace and four diamonds after the first eight tricks, East can safely unguard his king of clubs, since declarer cannot get back to his hand to cash the queen of clubs.

Chamber of Commerce week declared in the state of Texas Oct. 15-19

This week, Oct. 15–19, has been officially declared ‘Chamber of Commerce Week’ in Texas.

Spearheaded by the Texas Chamber of Commerce Executives (TCCE), the oldest organization in the country for training and educating chamber professionals, Chamber of Commerce Week celebrates the 617 chambers of commerce in Texas that work diligently to create jobs, implement beautification programs, improve education, campaign for improved streets and highways, and stimulate industrial, commercial, and agricultural growth.

During Chamber Week, communities from across the state will pass proclamations that honor their chambers of commerce and the many contributions made to education, economic development, and community development.

Here in Salado, the Mayor and Board of Alderman will pass a resolution on Oct. 18 which will not only praise the Salado Chamber for its many accomplishments, but also encourage citizens to acknowledge and congratulate the Chamber’s staff and volunteers for their hard work.

In the last year alone, the Salado Chamber of Commerce has implemented a revised and renovated Visitor’s Guide that won first in the state at the annual TCCE conference held in June. 75,000 of these were printed and over 60,000 have already been distributed to the Texas Department of Transportation centers throughout the state.

The Chamber has also promoted with a new email system where events from Friends Feeding Friends held last week, to Salado Independent School System notices requesting volunteers and to include entertainment venues from Tablerock’s “Taming of the Shrew” to Salado Silver Spur’s “Complete Works of William Shakespeare (Abridged).”

“The Chamber understands the importance of getting the word out about ourselves both locally and in the State.,” said Chamber director Suzi Epps.

The Salado Chamber of Commerce has always had a strong sense of community. It was formed over 40 years ago to produce a fund raising effort to purchase the first fire truck for the Volunteer Fire Department. It was the driving force that raised funds for the renovation of the Salado Civic Center.

Prior to Salado’s incorporation in 2000, the Chamber served in many ways as the community’s government. The Chamber even paid for the street lights on Main Street.

The Chamber hosts a candidate’s forum each spring prior to early voting so our community can listen to the candidates for School Board, Library Board and the Board of Alderman.

It is the central force that brings two Art Fairs to town developing the opportunity to be a major event for other organizations within the community. The Friends of the Salado Public Library, the Salado Garden Club, the Salado Chamber of Commerce Ladies Auxiliary, the Lions Club, the Cub Scouts, PALS, the Village Artists and the Salado Humane Society all had a hand in these events this year.

Forty-eight individuals participate in the Ambassador program. These folks help support all of the events as well as helping wherever needed. You probably saw them this past weekend at Christmas in October or greeting groups coming into town. “The Salado Chamber could not function without their help,” says Epps.

“We are proud of our heritage here in Salado and would welcome the opportunity to visit with you about your concerns and ideas,” Epps said.

The next Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors meeting is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. Oct. 25 at Civic Center.

Finding Jim Killeen

by Tumbleweed
 Smith

The city of Killeen is celebrating its 125th anniversary this year. Last spring, there was a week of events.

“Everything from black tie galas to antique cars and chili cook-offs,” says Connie Kuehl, who heads up Killeen’s Convention Center. “We had arts and crafts, including antique quilts.”

Connie says there was one thing that made the event special.

“A guy from Los Angeles named Jim Killeen googled his name, just out of curiosity. He found there were six other people in the world named Jim Killeen.”

Jim Killeen of Los Angeles found Jim Killeens in Scotland, Ireland, Australia, Denver, St. Louis and New York. The LA Jim is a filmmaker, so he decided to make a documentary of his name search and subsequent events.

“In his googling, he found our 125th was going on,” says Connie, “so LA Jim flew the other six Jims to Killeen, Texas for the celebration. They were here about three or four days and were a delight. They had a blast.”

Connie says their coming was a surprise. They just called and said they were coming to the party.

The Jim Killeens were given the royal treatment during the event and they got into the spirit of things. They cooked some horrible chili, enjoyed Texas wines and met lots of people. Connie had Jim Killeen name badges made with their hometowns on them. She arranged press conferences, which the Jims loved.

Along with Killeen’s 125th anniversary, it was the Killeen rodeo’s 60th anniversary. The Jims were honored guests and showed up wearing cowboy clothes. They whooped and hollered and even rode a pygmy bull.

“They were given prime seats, but they hardly ever used them. They were on their feet most of the performance. The announcer got into it, too. He asked if there was a Jim Killeen in the audience. They all stood and waved as the crowd cheered.”

LA Jim’s film crew was on hand and Connie says they got some good footage.

“They have found some sponsors and are ready to go in to production. The name of the documentary is GOOGLE ME, THE MOVIE.”

The Jims are thinking about making Killeen, Texas the place for the movie’s premiere.

The Jim Killeen from Ireland wants to come back. He wants to bring about 100 of his kinfolk named Killeen.

During the celebration, some local historians did some research on the city’s origin. The founder of Killeen was a man named Frank Killeen, a railroad man.

“They’re not even sure he ever came to Killeen,” says Connie.

SH 201 Extension Scoping Meetings

The Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) will conduct two public meetings for the proposed extension of State Highway (SH) 201 from SH 195 in Killeen to IH 35 near Salado, Bell County, Texas. For the public's convenience and to maximize public participation; TxDOT will hold two separate public meetings, covering the same information. The first public meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, November 13, 2007 at 6:30pm at the Salado Intermediate School located at 550 Thomas Arnold Road, in Salado. The second public meeting is scheduled for Thursday, November 15, 2007 at 6:30pm at the Harker Heights High School located at 1001 FM 2410, in Harker Heights. In March 2007, TxDOT presented the proposed project to the public. Comments received since then have allowed TxDOT to develop several preliminary alignment alternatives. The purpose of these November public meetings is to give the public an opportunity to view and comment on the proposed project's need and purpose and the preliminary alignment alternatives, including the alternative of no action.

These public meetings are open to the public and all interested citizens are invited to attend either of these meetings and express their views. Persons interested in attending the meetings who have special communication or accommodation needs are encouraged to contact Karie Brown at (254) 867-2743 as soon as possible so arrangements can be made. Since the meetings will be conducted in English, any requests for language interpreters or other special communication needs should be made at least one week prior to the meetings. TxDOT will make every reasonable effort to accommodate these needs.

Verbal and written comments regarding the proposed project are requested. Comments may be presented either at the meetings or in writing after the meetings. Written statements may be submitted to Mr. Henry R. Richardson Jr., P.E., Waco District Director of Transportation Planning and Development, Texas Department of Transportation, 100 South Loop Drive, Waco, TX 76704-2858 before Monday, December 17, 2007. For information about the project, go to the TxDOT website at: www.txdot.gov. At the top of the page, click, "About Us" then click "Public Hearings and Meetings" and click on "Waco District." From this page, you can view the exhibit and submit written comments by clicking "e-mail us." In order to be included in the public meeting record all written comments must be received before the deadline.
