Candidates line up for Village aldermen race.

Filing for election to the Salado board of aldermen closed Oct. 10 with at least 11 candidates vying for five open spots on the board. George McAulay told Salado Village Voice that he would file Oct. 10 (the last day to file).

As of presstime Oct. 9, the mayor's race had drawn only two candidates: Charlotte Douglass and Carse Williams, while only one has filed for the position of marshal: Alan Ray Rogers.

They will join 10 others who have already filed: Rick Ashe, Raymond Carver, Michael Cooper, Robert Denman, John Hall, Forrest Holloway, Vic Means, Jackie Mills, Wayne Rutherford and Jill Shipman.

McAulay, and any other candidates who file on the last day, will be featured next week.

The election Nov. 7 will fill the positions of mayor, five aldermen and a Marshall.

Early voting in the vil-

Candidate Forum Oct. 16

The Salado Chamber of Commerce will host a candidates forum 7 p.m. Oct., 16 in the Salado Civic Center Meadows Auditorium.

The candidates running for city Alderman, mayor and Marshall will be present to answer questions from the public. Salado Chamber of Commerce president Suzanne Petro will moderate the forum.

lage election will be weekdays Oct. 23-Nov. 3 at the Salado Civic Center.

Election day, polls will be open at the Salado Civic Center 7 a.m.-7 p.m.

Only registered voters living within the two-square-mile boundaries of the Village of Salado may vote in the village elections. The boundaries are on display at the Salado Civic Center and the Salado Village Voice.

A voter will choose only one person in the mayor's race and the marshal's race. A voter may vote for five or fewer candidates for alderman.

Robert Denman

Robert and Doris

Denman moved to Salado from Austin in 1977, "partly to have our son in a smaller school and to escape the fast pace of the city."

Since then, he has been very involved in many aspects of the village of Salado.

The Denmans were charter members of the Salado Merchants Association. "While I was president of the Chamber of Commerce, we integrated that organization into the Chamber and it became a committee of the Chamber," he said. He continues to be active in the Salado Business Association.

The Denmans were also charter members of

Robert Denman

Wayne Rutherford

Tablerock Festival of Salado. Both served on the board of directors.

A past president of the Salado Historical Society, Robert's interest in protecting the historic nature of Salado runs deep.

"Early history tells us that my grandfather had ties to Salado," he says. "He and my grandmother were married at Salado College on a Fifth Sunday when the Primitive Baptist congregation had services. Our lives are intertwined in Salado history."

His support for the Historical Society led him to donate the Moses Denman Log Cabin and placed it near the Boles-Aiken Cabin on the grounds of the Old Red Schoolhouse.

Robert and Doris acquired the Moses Denman Cabin, built by his great-great grandfather in 1867 at Sparta, and placed it on the grounds of the Barton House, where they lived for almost 20 years.

The Denmans have opened their Salado homes (The Barton House and more recently, The Summit) for the Historical Society's Tour of Homes.

Deputies bust methamphetamine lab southwest of Salado Oct. 3

Deputies from Precinct Four Constable Edd Melton's office executed search and arrest warrants in the pre-dawn hours of Oct. 3 at an alleged methamphetamine manufacturing operation southwest of Salado.

The warrants resulted from a month-long investigation, according to Melton's office.

Constable Melton said his office was contacted by a local ranch owner and ranch manager requesting assistance in investigating suspected drug activities.

Other agencies assisting in the investigation and the search and arrest of three suspects include the Killeen Police Department's Organized Crime Division, the Governor's Narcotics Task Force, Precinct Three Constable Bill Hartwell's office, the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration and U.S. Customs agents.

Three people were arrested and charged with conspiracy to manufacture methamphetamine and possession of methamphetamine: Joyce Lewis, Dennis Mitchell and Terry Miller.

According to Melton's office, the investigation is on-going and more arrests are expected.

About David Holt

David Holt has played music in the Himalayas and the mountains of Bolivia. He has entertained all across Europe and the U.S.

Regardless of where he plays, David performs and informs, delivering old-time mountain music with a message.

He has lived in Asheville, N.C., for many years and has collected mountain songs and stories from old timers throughout the area.

He discovered a way of life with traditions he feared would be lost, so he has become a historian and records his findings in the Library of Congress.

Those traditions, stories and songs flowed from the Scottish, English, Irish and African-American roots, coming together in the Appalachian Mountains.

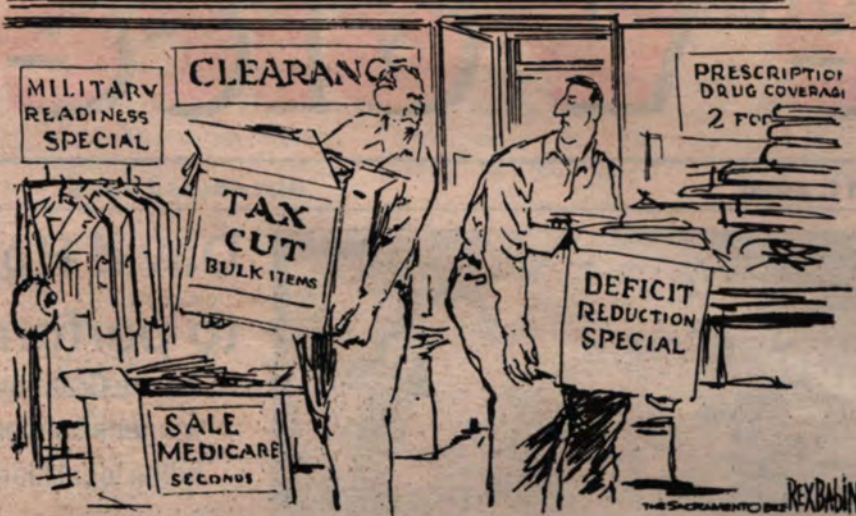

Holt has been nominated four times for a Grammy, winning twice.

He hosts "Folkways" on North Carolina Public Radio and "Riverwalk on the Landing in San Antonio" for public radio.

As for his live performances, the Boston Globe says, "He performs up a storm. Don't miss him."

The Atlanta Journal reports, "You've got to see to believe."

For more information about the performance, call Joe Holt, Salado Lions Club president, at 254/947-3154.

Family Relief Fund needs your help to provide Christmas to Salado children

Dear Fellow Saladoan,

The holiday season should be a time of celebration and joy. For most of us, it is a time spent with family and friends, enjoying the excitement and awe on children's faces as they discover what Santa Claus left for them the night before. But, for some children, Santa Claus may not come.

The goal of the Salado Family Relief Fund, Inc. is to insure that Santa visits all the homes in Salado, especially the homes of children in need. This is the sixth year that the Salado Family Relief Fund, Inc. has provided Christmas gifts and meals to families and children. Last year, the Fund assured that over 130 children had a Merry Christmas.

Each year, the number of families helped has grown. The Fund is supported completely by donations from local churches, civic groups, individuals and businesses. The Christmas effort would not be possible if not for the work of generous Santa's helpers, who adopt families, donate time and give money.

We ask your support, financially and physically as we work to bring the joy of Christmas to all homes in Salado. You may donate new toys or clothes by bringing them to the Salado Village Voice newspaper office at Salado Plaza. You can donate money at First State Bank or Compass Bank or mail checks to Salado Family Relief Fund, Inc. at P.O. Box 461, Salado, TX 76571.

You can adopt a family or a child by calling 947-5321. You can also help by being a Santa's elf and shopping for a family with Relief Funds.

If you or someone you know is in need of help this Christmas, remind them to fill out the form that will appear in the newspaper.

Miriam Ervi, vice pres.
Sandra Lastovica, volunteer

Dear Editor,

We would like to thank each and everyone of you for donating your time and effort for our benefit. The outpouring of love and kindness from our community has left us speechless. We were overwhelmed with all of the responses that we received. Words cannot express how blessed we are to have so many wonderful people who care the way you do. We wish to thank everyone for their generous donations, hard work, food, prayers, and cards. We are so appreciative and grateful for all of your thoughtfulness.

We would especially like to thank the Salado United Methodist Men for organizing the benefit; and Cathy's Boardwalk Cafe for supplying the wonderful meal during the auction. What you did was truly a miracle in itself. Thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

God Bless You All,
Wayne and Mollie Garner

An Open Exchange of Ideas

Many think VEEP hopefuls' performance "big time" better than Gore-Bush debate

Say what you will about the current rash of political debates, they do bring out a variety of opinions - pro and con - concerning both the Presidential and VEEP hopefuls.

Local political observers are no exception. Coffee drinkers including the local branch of the International Society of Do-No-Gooders (still meeting with alarming regularity at the Stagecoach Coffee Shop) as well as folks at the post office, grocery store and other village talking and watering spots have been almost unanimous in thinking that the first Al Gore-George Bush debate was less than interesting (boring is the operative word here) with statistics giving viewers that glazed "Dan Quayle" look after nearly an hour and a half of tax and spend number games and related foofaraw.

By contrast two days later, Joe Lieberman and Dick Cheney were seemingly on target. Gentlemanly, knowledgeable and statesmanlike - they gave TV viewers a strange feeling that the Demos and GOPers had somehow screwed up their tickets and had the wrong guys running for president and veepster.

Tonight's second debate should be better (with no place to go but up) for both the top contenders. We can only hope they will spare us the mantra of surplus number crunching and who-will-get-what-for-free in the years ahead.

Facts and figures are fine if they are both correct and understandable. We all know the GOP strongly believes in cutting taxes; less government; more business breaks and a strong military that is kept at home, plus privatizing both social security and prescription drug assistance.

Demos on the other hand want to give targeted tax breaks which no one understands; more government programs for those with special needs; a strong military that can be deployed around the world; strict watchdogging of business and unusual for Demos - paying off the national debt. They also want to keep social security in place with an add-on savings device while putting prescription drugs into the medicare program.

Both believe in more money for education - which is fine if we can do it without constant testing replacing teaching.

GORE-BUSH AIM AT UNDECIDEDS

Both candidates are aiming their last 27 days at the 10 to 15 percent of voters who remain undecided - mostly women and oldsters. In so doing, they would be well advised to lay off the verbosity, pomposity and exaggeration in dealing with these two groups who can see right through the fuzzy figures and dopey dialogue that Gore and Bush feel compelled to sling around as they slog through the last days of a campaign that gives every appearance of outlasting the Hundred Year's War.

In any event - the "undecideds-will-decide" - who wins and who is forced to find some sort of productive day work.

GREAT QUESTION

This column has a number of loyal readers but none so dedicated as 87 year old Susie Cabiness. She reads every word and comments freely from time to time when she agrees or questions what is written.

Last week she posed an in-depth puzzler that we all have in the back of our collective minds. One we have hesitated asking for fear of rocking the boat!

Question was simple: "How can we pay off our national debt and also make ('pie-in-sky') spending promises with a surplus that we don't have on hand or may never have ten years down the road?"

Wise observation that cuts to the heart of the political debate going on today. This wisdom from a lifelong village Democrat living among a nest of GOPers. Also someone who believes in the old-timey way of doing business - "If you have a debt, by golly pay it off before you buy something else."

Talk about a "political observer" - Susie, we salute you!

TU SALUTES EX

Texas University's Ex-Student Association saluted one of its Distinguished Alumni in a recent edition of that group's excellent magazine - "The Alcalde". The former student who went on to become the largest individual landowner in Texas, as well as Governor of the State, is Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde.

The six page spread written by Cora Oltersdorf, managing editor of the bimonthly publication, tells the story of Briscoe, TU Class of 1943. A man who has been recognized for his work in farming, ranching, statewide civic work and of course his six years as Governor.

As Briscoe's chief of staff during his two terms in Austin, I proudly called my old boss shortly after the article appeared with congratulations and a chance to reminisce.

Briscoe made a typically modest statement about the Alcalde story: "Ken, If you just live long enough, someone will say or write something nice about you!"

This pithy tongue-in-cheek comment originated from his old friend and mentor "Cactus Jack" (John Nance) Garner, who many will recall was a Uvaldean who served 31 years in Congress as a member and later Speaker and still later was elected Franklin D. Roosevelt's vice president for two terms from 1933 to 1941.

Garner broke with FDR over the third term issue and went back home to Uvalde vowing never to return to Washington - a promise he kept. Garner died in 1967 at the ripe old age of 98.

Musical Salute to Bell County

A Musical Salute to Bell County will be held 3 p.m. Oct. 15 at the Bell County Expo Center.

The program will involve approximately 1,300 high school, college and military musicians from Bell County. Every school district and college will be involved as well as Ft. Hood.

The Honorable Jon Burrows, County Judge, will be the Master of Ceremonies. A short trip down memory lane relating a brief history of the first meeting of the County Commissioners Court will be presented.

A performance of "The Bell County March" written by Julien Paul Blitz in 1907, will be a highlight of the program. Julien Paul Blitz, a music professor at Baylor Female College (UMHB) in Belton, originally created the score for piano dedicated to Mr. D. C. Burkes, Sheriff of Bell County. An original copy of the published score is owned by the Bell County museum. The score for band by Frank Coachman was arranged for Bell County's 150th birthday celebration in the year 2000.

Robert was involved in setting up the guidelines of the Salado Historic District, which was recognized by resolution of the Texas Legislature in 1989.

He has chaired the Historic District Committee as well as serving on it for several years. "Most people are eager to comply with the guidelines," It has had no authority to require compliance because we were not a municipality. Our incorporation has changed that."

Denman said that, through the village government, he wants to achieve what he has always wanted for Salado -- that is, "as near as possible to keep Salado as it is, to maintain the ambiance and integrity of the Historical District, which -- in turn-- affects the whole village."

He says by giving the Historic District guidelines "teeth," the village can determine the way in which it will grow.

"It's hard to keep a good thing a secret," he says, "so we know we are going to have growth. New people are coming in every day and more waiting in the wings," he says, adding that the vast majority of those who come "want it to stay the way it is."

"We can't shut the door on growth and not let anyone else in," he adds. "What if it had been closed 24 years ago? I couldn't have come here, or how about six years ago? Or two years ago?"

Denman said he believes that "by being good stewards of finances, we can operate the village without property taxes. We need to encourage everyone to continue to continue with their volunteerism."

Prior to coming to Salado, Denman served in the U.S. Army, and worked for 25 years with the Texas Department of transportation.

He and Doris have three children -- Cathy Sands, Christie and Larry -- and four grandchildren.

After moving to Salado and retiring from TxDOT, he and Doris opened the Royal Emporium in 1989, an antique store at the corner of Main St. and Royal St. which they continue to operate.

WAYNE RUTHERFORD

Wayne Rutherford moved to Salado 18 years ago, when he married his wife Kathy.

"She said we could live anywhere. In Salado," he said.

Rutherford has five grown daughters - Amber Hrometz and Amy Pyle, both of Salado, Tiffany Prestridge, of Rockdale, Courtney Rutherford, of Houston and Mandy Huesell, of San Antonio.

Wayne has fought fires for 19 years, 17 of those years with the City of Killeen fire department, where he is the fire rescue lieutenant.

A graduate of the Temple Fire Academy,

Rutherford has also had extensive training in rescue and emergency aid from the National Fire Academy and Central Texas College. He earned his paramedic certificate 14 years ago.

As soon as he came to Salado, he became involved with the Salado Volunteer Fire Department. Working his way up for "just a firefighter," Rutherford is now Chief of the Department, which was named First Responders of the Year in Texas in 1997.

Last year, the Department was honored as First Responders of the Year by the Central Texas Trauma Council.

During his five years as Chief, the SVFD has become one of the most well respected small departments in the state.

The department continues to upgrade both its facilities and equipment with support from the community.

Rutherford says his experience both in the volunteer fire department, as well as working in a professional fire department will be valuable to the newly formed village government.

"I know how city governments work," he says, "how zoning and safety regulations work and how building regulations work."

"This is going to be a unique time for Salado," he said, "and the groundwork laid by the first board of aldermen will be the framework we will have to live with for years to come."

That framework will include "establishing the city itself, writing the city charter, housing the city offices, finding revenue sources and spelling out what services the village is responsible for in terms of public safety, police, fire and EMS," he said.

As a property owner in the village, Rutherford said he thinks the village board should emphasize use of the sales taxes, utility franchise fees and hotel/motel taxes for revenue.

He and Kathy owned Salado Hardware for eight years. "I know what it's like to be a small business and to have the needs of a small business," he said.

Rutherford said that he wants "to keep the charm of Salado... I think we can do some of that through planning and zoning. I think my experience in city regulations would be valuable in this area."

He also wants to insure that the village government is open to all people. "We don't need divisiveness and factions," he said.

Something else Rutherford said he thinks is vital to the village is "keeping the spirit of volunteerism in the village," which is something he says he understands from 18 years of work with the SVFD.

ANNUITY OWNERS READ THIS!

Many annuity owners lose over 70% of the value of their annuity when it pays off! Will this happen to you? It's true. Annuity and IRAs can be double-taxed assets (subject to income taxes PLUS estate taxes). After estate taxes and income taxes, there can be as little as 30% of the value remaining. You can learn how to avoid the loss in the FREE educational booklet "Annuity Owner Mistakes." The booklet is free and shows how to avoid double taxation and get more benefits from your existing annuity value.

BY KEITH WARREN

I would be willing to bet that the majority of readers of this column have seen an outdoor television program within the last few years. It is real easy to do so, especially if you have cable or satellite television. There is even a channel available that has 24 hours of outdoor programming. It is for the outdoors person that just can't get enough.

Today's modern world of communication has helped bring these types of programs into your home. It is also this same space age technology that can and will spell DOOM to your favorite outdoor recreation be it hunting or fishing. Let me explain.

Communication has never been easier. With a few clicks of a mouse you can send your message to virtually anyone on the Internet. Example: a mother or father sits busily in front of their computer doing whatever needs to be done. Meanwhile the kids are in control of the television. As they surf the endless supply of programs they come across an outdoor show. Suddenly they see a deer become venison or a fish become a fillet and what happens next is scary.

The ever so involved parent breaks away from their shackles that hold them to their computer and "come to the rescue." "How dare they put that stuff on television! I'll do something about it." And they do.

They send out messages of hatred and disgust to the sponsors of the shows. It is easy because most show sponsors are linked to a single web site. In less than five minutes a negative message is now sent and received by each and every sponsor. Before the Internet, communication took up to a week and people were less likely to take the time to write, look up addresses, spend .33 cents a pop to send a message. But it is easier now than ever.

The sponsors are now in receipt of what I call "hate mail". It encourages them to pull the sponsor support and break all ties with the television program. Next the sponsors contact the show producer to see what happened. This is the position I find myself in far too often. I am explaining and defending what was on the show to someone who now believes that the viewers comments were valid.

In speaking to other outdoor television show and producers, we all are finding this to be the norm, not the exception.

What is bad, is that the attacking parent is not an outdoors person and the way it's going never will be. Odds are their children will be equally uninvolved with fishing or hunting. But they are doing everything possible to pull your favorite past time away!

I recently spoke before several hundred hunters and asked by a show of hands "who has ever watched an outdoor television program?" With pride their hands were raised high, so they could be counted. It was unanimous. I was glad because by next question would really hit home.

"Now, by a show of hands, how many of you have ever sent in a positive letter to that television show producer, sponsors or television network?" Sadly, not a hand was raised. For the next minute I was silent and just paced the floor in front of the crowd. It seemed that the crowd was expecting something of me, and they were quiet too. All I could say was "that's pretty sad."

As outdoor people we are passionate about our involvement in the outdoors. Whether you like to catch catfish from a pier or rattle up a big buck. We couldn't ever think there would come a time when we couldn't pursue what we enjoy so much. But that time is coming. By your silence and inaction, you are allowing the anti-outdoors people to win. We should all learn from the anti's "how to fight." They are passionate, so are we. They are active. We are not. They are vocal. We are not. They willingly recruit more participants to their cause. We do not. They deal with their feelings while we tend to rationalize and defend out actions with intellect."

If you love to be able to pursue and type of hunting or fishing, you need to get more active and involved in helping our numbers grow. I you don't, we are doomed. If you do, who knows, that same mother or father that sent the "hate mail" may some day be asking "would you take me and my kid fishing?" The next time your favorite outdoor show is on, right down their address and let them know you appreciate what they do. The let the sponsors know your feelings. It is nice to get an "atta boy" every once in a while.

Cox marries Winstead Oct. 7 in Allen Chapel

Wanda Kuykendall Cox, of Salado and formerly of Lampasas, became the bride of Leonard G. (Butch) Winstead at the Allen Chapel in Salado Oct. 7.

Rev. Brian Dunks officiated the wedding.

Sammie Casey, of Hamilton, was Matron of Honor. Paul Moore, of Mullen, was Best Man.

Cooper Cox, of Salado, grandson of the bride, was ring-bearer. Kena Cox, of Lampasas, and Taylor Cox, of Cleburne, granddaughters of the bride, were flower girls. Cale and Colby Cox, of Salado, grandsons of the bride, were candlelighters. David Bruton of Salado performed as usher.

The bride wore a sherbet green dupioni silk suit. She wore crystal beads and bracelet which belonged to her mother. She carried a single cala lilly with peach ribbons, as well as a white Bible and linen lace handkerchief belonging to her grandmother.

Judy Bruton, of Salado, was organist. Jordan Johnson, of Salado, was soloist

as well as accompanying on his guitar.

Following the ceremony, the couple gave a dinner and western swing dance at Jack's Barn in Salado. Randy Elmore and the Boys in the Band performed during the evening.

Following a wedding trip to St. Thoams, the couple will make their home in Salado.

St. Stephens Fall Festival held Oct. 15

St. Stephens Catholic Church in Salado announces its annual Fall Festival to be held 11a.m.-5p.m. Oct. 15.

The Fall Festival will feature chicken and sausage barbecue dinner for only $6 a plate. Generous portions include drink and dessert. The cooks will be serving 11 a.m.-1:30 p.m.

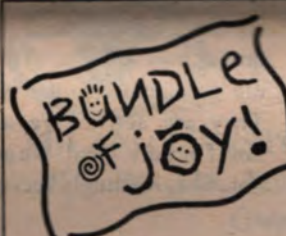

There will be fun for the whole family. Children's games for 25 cents each will include soda ring toss, duck pond, a tasty cake walk, dart throw, face painting, fishing pond, craft area and more.

Adults will enjoy the small town auction featuring items from the community. A handmade wooden rocking horse will be among the auction items.

Bingo games will be 50 cents each with great prizes.

The raffle will include a Barbecue pit valued at $300, a $250 Walmart gift certificate, a TV/VCR combo and a 4 piece Samsonite luggage set. Raffle tickets are $1 each or 6 for $5. You do not have to be present to win.

Proceeds from the Fall Festival will benefit the youth programs and building fund. For more information call the church office of Jennifer McGregor at 947-8114.

A Brief Visit With Pastor J. Floyd Franks

One of our servicemen wrote about a bit of unintended comedy during a company inspection at the Redstone Arsenal in Huntsville, Alabama, the U.S. Army's guided missile school.

The inspection was being conducted by a full colonel. Everything had gone smoothly, until the officer came to the man standing just next to the soldier who recalled the incident.

The colonel stopped, looked the man up and down and snapped, "Button that pocket, trooper!" The soldier, more than a little rattled, stammered, "Right now sir?" "Of course, right now!" was the reply. Whereupon the soldier very carefully reached out and buttoned the flap on the colonel's shirt pocket.

For some reason, peculiar to our human nature, it is always easier to see the unbuttoned pockets of others than it is to see our own. Splinters in other people's eyes seem to be more obvious than planks in our own eyes. Jesus asked, "Why do you peer at the speck in your brother's eye and overlook a log in your own eye?" (Matthew 7:3). You need not fear being judged by the folks at Cedar Valley Baptist Church on F.M. 2843. Come be with fellow "shortcomers." Hope to see you Sunday

Methodist plan Halloween fun and Fashion Fandangio

HALLOWEEN FUN FOR THE COMMUNITY

The Children's Ministry Team of Salado United Methodist Church is planning the Second Annual Halloween Fun Festival for 4-6 p.m. Oct. 28.

The festival, which is held in the Church Fellowship Hall, will include game booths with prizes, face painting, and an old fashioned cakewalk.

There will also be a costume contest for the following age categories: boys and girls pre-K and under; kindergarten through first grade; second through fourth grades, and fifth and sixth grades.

The church invites all of the children of the community to attend. An adult must accompany all children.

Heidi Couchman and Sharon Smith are co-chairs for this year's festival.

FALL FASHION FANDANGIO

SUMC's Garden Guild invites you to attend the Fifth Annual Fashion Show and Luncheon Nov. 4 at the Salado Civic Center.

The Fall Fashion Fandangio is sponsored by Cio, a dress shop in Salado Square.

A salado luncheon will be served at 1 p.m., followed by a presentation by Cio of the newest in fashions for fall and winter.

Tickets are $10 each and may be purchased at Cio, the SUMC office, or Angelic Herbs.

Mary Burgamy is Garden Guild President.

Virginia Cosper and Elizabeth Foster are owners of Cio. Jenny Medlin is manager.

YOUTH PROGRAMS

SUMC announces a variety of youth programs it is offering.

A Senior High Girls study on facing the pressures of the teen years will be offered on Wednesday nights at 6:30 p.m. Annie Hawkins, a student at University of Mary Hardin-Baylor, will lead the study.

Meeting and Growing in Christ (MAGIC) is the name of the Junior High group that meets at 6:30 p.m. on Wednesdays. Under the direction of Nancy Radebaugh, this group digs deeper into the scriptures and discusses topics that are relevant to youth today.

SUMC's Youth Director Kirk Baxley will lead Sunday Night Praise and Worship at 6 p.m. Oct. 15.

All youth in the community are invited to attend the service.

For more information on SUMC programs, please contact the Church Office at 947-5482.

Amigo's serve pancake supper before the game this week

The Amigos Ride for the "Thing"! The night Salado plays Rogers at home, before the game, 5:30 -7 p.m. Oct. 13, in the Middle School Cafeteria; there will be a "Benefit Pancake Supper" to raise funds to purchase a new "Thing" for the Coach Smith High School Gymnasium. "It hangs on the wall and lists the players' roster for volleyball and basketball games.

Ticket sales are going well but we still need to sell a lot of tickets," said School Board Member, Carse Williams. The Amigos, a very loose knit ad hoc group of Salado High School sports fans have teamed up with Jim Ward and the Booster Club to raise the $725 needed to buy a new "Thing". "The present one was donated to Salado High School by Jamie and Phyllis Bonner back in the early 80's and is almost 20 years old. It's looking a bit ragged. The old gym is looking much better now and this will really be a nice addition," said Darrell Street, head Amigo. "Several of us had talked about a benefit pancake supper and decided that is what we will do."

The $5 ticket price will include: great pancakes with syrup and margarine, Burger King Size Sausage patty and a container of Orange Juice for $5. The pancakes will be made with real eggs and milk.

Tickets are on sale now. They can be purchased at the Dairy Queen, Cathy's, Brookshire Brothers, Compass Bank, First State Bank, Village Pharmacy, The Salado High School Booster Club Members and The Amigos.

Donations so far have been made by: Burger King, Dairy Queen, General Mills and Charles Schreiner IV, Broker.

The Amigos include: Gary Bartlett, Jamie Bonner, Don Cunningham, Danny Grimm, John Preston, Charlie Schreiner, Coach Smith, Darrell Street, Carse Williams and Ken Quirk.

Lady Eagles beat Bruceville-Eddy

Salado volleyball teams beat Bruceville-Eddy teams last week in straight sets.

The varsity squad beat Bruceville-Eddy 15-3 and 15-8. Lauren Mewhinney had six assists and a kill, while Robyn Womac had three kills, an ace and a block.

Also, Lindsay Quirk had two kills, five assists and two blocks; Kate Mentzel, one kill, a block and an ace; Hope Buchanan, three aces, a kill and two blocks, and Stephanie Krueger, a kill and two digs.

The Junior Varsity lady Eagles beat Bruceville-Eddy 15-6 and 15-1.

Staci York had nine assists, three aces and two digs to lead the squad.

Also, Heather McLaughlin had four kills and five aces; Amanda Tumey, four kills; Michelle Houston, two kills and three digs; Haley Scruggs, four assists and an ace, and Brooke Sherman, one kill and a dig.

Varsity Eagles losing streak continues, Salado faces state-ranked Rogers Oct. 13

Salado Varsity Eagles extended their winless streak to five football games, falling victim to the Jarrell Cougars 52-12 last week.

Jarrell jumped out to an early lead, scoring twice within the first minute and a half of play. The Cougars never looked back from the 14-0 lead with 10:28 left in the first quarter.

Salado's two touchdowns came on runs by quarterback Stephen Fewell. Fewell returned to action this week after missing the Thorndale game due to nagging back spasms.

Salado will face the high-flying Rogers Eagles at home Oct. 13. Rogers is ranked in the top 10 in Class 2A and is undefeated, following a 42-0 thrashing of Academy last week.

Salado has been out-gunned 204-27 during the first half of the football season.

The Eagle defense has not been able to stop the running attacks of its opponents, while Salado's offensive line has not been able to dominate the line of scrimmage.

The Eagles next opponent has been able to do both on their way to a 5-0 start.

Rogers is also the Alma Mater of Salado's first-year athletic director and head football coach Jeff Cheatham.

After playing football for Rogers, Cheatham went on to play football for Sam Houston State University, where he earned both bachelor's and master's degrees.

Though he has ties to Rogers (a perennial Salado nemesis), Cheatham told Salado Village Voice when he came to the district last May, "I'm a Salado Eagle now."

Chili supper

Salado Masonic Lodge #296 will sponsor a Chili Supper Nov. 10 before Salado's final home football game. The Supper will be 5-7 p.m. at Intermediate School cafeteria. $5 tickets on sale soon at First State Bank, Salado Village Voice, or from any Lodge member. Proceeds will purchase more books for the new school library.

Local Families in Crisis staff attend Austin conference

Several members of the Families in Crisis staff recently attended the 19th Annual Statewide Family Violence Conference in Austin last month.

The conference provides family violence professionals with an opportunity to share information from experts from across the state and nations. Workshops at the conference addressed a variety of issues relating to family violence, including Crime Victims compensations, workplace violence, legislative issues, treatment programs and advocacy.

Families in Crisis, Inc., a nonprofit organization and United Way Agency, provides a safe, supportive and non-judgmental environment where victims of family violence and sexual assault can assess their individual situation, explore alternatives and develop resources to make effective choices for redirecting their lives through nonviolent means.

Families in Crisis, Inc., provides confidential and free services to victims of family violence and sexual assault, including crisis intervention counseling, support groups, legal advocacy, and information and referral for medical, legal and social services.

Families in Crisis is sponsoring Sexual Assault Advocacy Volunteer Training later in October and in November.

The training will be presented 6-9 p.m. on the following dates: Oct. 23, Oct. 30, Nov. 6, Nov. 13, Nov. 20 and Nov. 27. Training will also be offered 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Nov. 4.

The training will be presented at the Killeen Help Center, at 201 East Avenue D, at the corner of 4th Street and East Ave. D.

Topics will include legal and law enforcement issues, crisis intervention, advocacy, medical concerns, and impact on the individual and the community.

Training is open to any person interested with working with victims of sexual assault.

American diets are too high in fat. Each day we take in about 40 percent of our total calories as fat. Nutritionists recommend that we reduce the total fat in our diets to about 30 percent of total calories. To do that, each of us would have to eliminate the equivalent of about two tablespoons of fat from our daily diet.

Visible fat, such as butter, margarine and vegetable fat, accounts for less than half of the fat in the American diet. Most fat finds its way into our diet as an ingredient in food. While some of this fat is visible, other fat is hidden.

Fats are widely used in home cooking and in processed foods because of their physical characteristics. For example, fat is used in breads to produce a more tender texture, in pastry to produce a flakier product and in cakes and cookies to trap air bubbles to make a lighter product. In addition, such foods as eggs, whole milk and cheese all contain hidden fat and meat trimmed of visible fat still contains four to 12 percent fat.

Here are some tips for cutting back on fat in your diet.

- Choose low-fat milk and dairy products.
- Substitute low-fat yogurt and cottage cheese for butter, sour cream and mayonnaise.
- Choose lean, well-trimmed beef, pork and lamb.
- Bake, broil, roast or poach poultry, fish and meat.
- Flavor vegetables with herbs and spice rather than butter or margarine.

• Use sauces, dressings and spreads sparingly.

• Cut down on chocolate, pastries, cake, doughnuts and other rich baked goods.

For more information on reducing fat and cholesterol in your daily diet, contact the Bell County office of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Extension programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, national origin or disability.

Early detection critical key to increase cure

Women can survive breast cancer and lead productive, happy lives. But early detection is critical. Early detection through screening is the key to more treatment options and a dramatic increase in survival rates, and a diagnosis often does not mean removal of the breast. If cancer is found before it spreads to other parts of the body, a person has a greater chance of successful treatment and getting well.

Early detection practices are part of a good health routine that includes a mammogram and clinical breast examination. So getting a mammogram only once is not enough. The American Cancer Society (ACS) recommends that women get a mammogram and clinical breast exam every year beginning at age 40. ACS, at 1-800-ACS-2345, offers free information about all types of cancer, including breast cancer.

Women who need help paying for yearly mammograms can find low cost services in almost every community. Medicare helps pay the cost of an annual Mammogram for women age 40 or older with Medicare Part B. The Texas Department of Health (TDH) and local health care agencies across Texas offer breast exams and mammograms at no cost to women age 50 to 64 with limited incomes. For more information on this program or the name of the closest clinic, call 1-800-422-2956. Also, during October, National Breast Cancer Awareness Month, many organizations offer mammography services at low cost.

This year, 11,500 sisters, daughters, mothers and wives in Texas will be diagnosed with breast cancer. A total of 2,600 women will live to see the new year because of this disease. Breast cancer is one of the most commonly diagnosed cancers among American women and the second leading cause of cancer deaths.

The Tell-A-Friend Campaign, sponsored by the American Cancer Society, helps spread the word about the importance of early detection by enlisting volunteers to contact friends and encourage them to get a clinical breast examination and mammogram -- something all women should discuss with their doctors.

African American women should pay particular attention to the Once is Not Enough early detection message. African American women have higher death rates for breast cancer than women of other races. Many experts believe this is due to cancer being found at a later stage of development. "Our goal is to open the doors to African American women and all women," said Clare Wolf, TDH Breast and Cervical Cancer Control Program, "and make sure early detection is part of their lifestyle."

Older women of all ethnic backgrounds should also pay special attention to the early detection message. Most breast cancer occurs in women between ages 50 and 70.

Breast cancer starts as a tiny growth of abnormal cells inside the body. In time, and if not treated early, this growth can spread. It may grow as a lump inside the breast and it can spread to other parts of the body. Finding cancer late means there is less chance of successful treatment.

The Hundred Years War between England and France actually lasted 116 years.

Don't miss those precious moments due to poor eyesight. If you need cataract surgery, why not have it BEFORE you have to meet a new deductible. There are only a few more months before the new year. We are now accepting new patients and are providers under most insurance plans.

Shakespearean Fest scheduled at UMHB

The School of Fine Arts at the University of Mary-Hardin-Baylor will present a Shakespearean Festival November 30 - December 2 at 7:30 p.m. in Hughes Auditorium of Presser Hall on campus.

UMHB Vocal Workshop will join with the Division of Performance Studies to present three evenings of a Celebration of Shakespeare. The Performance Studies Division will present a 45-minute version of The Taming of the Shrew. Vocal Workshop members will sing arias and songs based on Shakespearean texts. Additionally, Dr.

Charles Taylor is to present Prospero's final monologue from The Tempest.

Performers in The Taming of the Shrew include Andrew Rey as Petruchio, Sarah Culpepper as Katherina, Melody Strickland as Bianca, Teresa Huggins as Grumella, Brandy Williams as Maria, Ben Barbarena and Wayne Roark as servants, Phillip Cooke as Biondello, Dallas Brannon as Baptista, Joseph Foster as Lucentio, and Cameron Gage as Hortensio.

Vocalists for the performance include Lori Marshall, Jeremy Thompson, Bethany Duke, Lori Marshall, Cody Parrott, Kathryn Frady, Natalia Trejo, and Deborah Ivy.

Candice Kelly is Assistant Director. Lighting Director is Tim Carpenter. Stephanie Jones and Heather Roberts are Stage Managers.

Dr. Diane Howard is the producing director, Dr. Guy Wilson is the musical director and Mr. Michael Fox is the artistic and technical director.

Tickets will be $5 for adults and $3 for students. For more information contact the School of Fine Arts office at (254)295-4678.

Mc Lane's Distance Learning Lab was dedicated at the official ribbon cutting performed by the Salado Chamber of Commerce representatives. State Rep. Suzanna Gratia Hupp and Senator Troy Fraser were on hand to offer remarks.

Homes tour features 10 stops Dec. 1-3

Salado's Christmas Home Tour will feature 10 stops Dec. 1-3, including many homes that have never been on the tour before.

The homes tour will be open 5-8 p.m. Dec. 1, 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Dec. 2 and 1-5 p.m. Dec. 3.

Tickets are $10 at the door and $8 in advance. For advance tickets call, 254/947-5718.

The tour will include the following stops: White-Aiken House, St. Joseph's Chapel, Eady Townhome, Pany Home, The Texas House, First United Methodist Church, Allen Hall, Lampasas Schoolhouse, The Rex Home and Tenroc Ranch.

Built about 1908, the White-Aiken House is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. The structure, which is the sole surviving representative in the Salado area of a 20th Century farmhouse, is located on property that is still used for ranching.

St. Joseph's Chapel was established in the Spring of 1996. The Little Chapel, which has antique pine pews and a crucifix made by a local artist, was recently enlarged.

Built in the early 1970s, the Eady Townhome provides the perfect showcases for the owner's beautiful collections of pottery and art. Its sumptuous decor will help you get into the Christmas spirit.

Creek. This charming stone house features bright, sunny colors with a touch of French Country.

The Texas House was originally built in 1982 to provide retail space for fine antiques and space for woodworking. Today, it is an elegant bed and breakfast inn. One of its many unique features is an old English-styled Rumford fireplace with a copper-plated hearth.

The Salado Methodist Church was built in 1890 in a frame Carpenter Gothic style. It has received a Texas Historical Commission marker and is listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

The Allen Chapel was built in 1901 and named in honor of Richard Allen, founder of the A.M.E. Church. The building was moved from its original site in Davilla to the Inn at Salado in 1989. It functions as a wedding and meeting facility for the Inn and has been the home of the Presbyterian Church of Salado.

The 100-year-old Lampasas Schoolhouse was built for migrant workers' children. It was constructed on Mill Valley Ranch in Lampasas and moved to become part of StoneCreek Settlement Bed and Breakfast in 1999. Wood that was salvaged from outbuilding on the ranch was used to restore the interior of the structure.

The Rex Home was originally built as a sound studio by a local musician.

Overlooking Salado Creek, the recently-remodeled Texas Hill Country home features beaded boards, barn wood, ceramic tile and the center court from the old Salado High School gym as the living room floor.

Tenroc Ranch is a working ranch and business, as well as family home to Mike and Shirley Cornet. It is reminiscent of a luxury resort. A beautiful pool graces one end of the house and a large outdoor living area stretches across the back.

Learn how to cook with herbs at Herb Festival

Lampasas' Sixth Annual Herb and Art Festival Oct. 14 will offer guest speakers, cooking with herbs demonstrations, seminars, children's activities and fine art and crafts items for purchase and display.

Howard Garrett, the Dirt Doctor from WBAP Radio in Dallas, is the featured guest speaker. He will lecture on "Gardening Naturally" 11 a.m.-1 p.m. Garrett also writes The Natural Way weekly for the Dallas Morning News, as well as a monthly column for Acres USA, a national eco-agriculture publication. He has published 10 gardening books and manuals. He has three more in current production.

Garrett is a landscape architect with extensive experience in landscape contracting, greenhouse growing, golf course planning and maintenance and organic product development. He has converted many corporations to organics, including Frito-Lay Headquarters in Plano and Johnson and Johnson Medical in Arlington.

Other guest speakers for the 200 Herb and Art Festival are these:

- Laura Carlton, presenting growing and Cooking with Herbs for Nutrition 9:45-10:45 a.m.
- Scott Ogden, a garden consultant and writer, presenting Bulbs for the South 1:30-2:30 p.m.
- John Dromgoole, owner of Natural Gardener in Austin, presents The Basics of Organic Gardening 3-4 p.m.

A pedestal from Phoenix Carved Stone Register will be given as a door prize from registrants at the Lampasas Chamber booth. Three garden tours, as well as tours of the historic Lampasas courthouse will also be provided free.

Nancy Gray, an award-winning artist from Lampasas, is the featured artist for this year's festival. Gray, who graduated from the University of Texas at Austin with a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree, has her art studio in Lampasas. Her work consists of abstract and figural compositions, landscape paintings and reversible triptychs - paintings that are large enough to be room dividers.

The Keystone Museum in Lampasas will showcase an exhibit entitled Standing Proud, displaying World War I and World War II items that have recently been submitted to the museum.

A historical marker will be dedicated at 10:30 a.m. at the old Lampasas Saloon, the location of the Horrell-Higgins Feud and Gunfight. The famous gunfight will be reenacted at the time.

Several musicians will perform on the bandstand by the courthouse.

Performances include these: First Street Church of Christ Men's Chorus, 9:30 a.m.; Shurtleff Family, 11 a.m.; Rachel Reed, 12:30 p.m.; Jody Mullins, 2 p.m.; Reid Schaub family, 3:30 p.m. and Third Degree Zydeco, 5 p.m.

The festival will be open 9 a.m.-7 p.m. on the Courtyard Square in historic downtown Lampasas.

Food and beverage vendors, as well as local restaurants will be ready for hungry visitors.

With arts and crafts, herbs, Texas native plants, antique roses, herbal foods, cooking demonstrations, gardening items, grasses, seminars, musical performances, children's activities and a traveling zoo display from Waco's Cameron Park, the Lampasas Herb and Art Festival offers something for everyone in the family.

Cutting down on telemarketing calls

Tired of annoying telemarketing calls that interrupt you at home?

There are some things you should know that might help cut down on the number of telephone solicitations you receive.

There is certain information telemarketers must provide you- their name, the purpose of the call, the identity of the business on whose behalf they are calling and the telephone number at which the caller or the business can be reached.

You should get the name of the solicitor and the purpose of the call before providing any information to the caller. Most legitimate telemarketers will provide you with an address and phone number to contact them if you have questions.

Some telemarketing is done with automatic dialing/announcing device (ADAD), which provides a recorded message. The machine must disconnect from your line within five seconds after termination of the call. If the device cannot disconnect within five seconds, a live operator must introduce the call and receive the consent of the customer before beginning the message.

Any recorded ADA solicitation message must be shorter than 30 seconds or be able to recognize a customer's answering machine and terminate the call within 30 seconds.

Be very cautious about leaving your name and telephone number on the message portion of an automated solicitation call. It could lead to "cramming," having unauthorized services billed to your phone.

If you have Caller ID, you may be able to identify telemarketing calls and avoid answering. Telemarketers are prohibited from blocking their names and phone numbers from Caller ID devices.

Remember, telephone solicitors cannot call a residence before 9 a.m. or after 9 p.m. on weekdays and Saturdays and before noon and after 9 p.m. on Sundays.

Get the name of the solicitor, and if possible, the phone number.

Ask the solicitor to place you on the company's do not call list.

If calls persist, contact the PUC.

To file a telephone solicitation complaint or if you have other questions about your telephone or electric service, call the Public Utility Commission toll-free at 1-888-PUC-TIPS (1-888-782-8477).

You may also write the Customer Protection Division at PO Box 13326, Austin, Texas 78711-3326.

UMHB presents annual Broadway concert

The University of Mary Hardin-Baylor Concert Choir will present their annual Broadway Spectacular on Oct. 19-21. The show will be presented in Hughes Recital Hall in Presser Auditorium on the UMHB campus. Show times are 8 p.m. on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, as well as a 6 p.m. matinee on Saturday. This year's review will feature numbers from musicals such as "Grease," "Annie," "Into The Woods," "Newsies," "Annie Get Your Gun," and an extended set from "Fiddler On The Roof." The show is completely student produced and directed. Amy Pierce, senior Music Education major from Duncanville is this year's student director. "Each year Broadway Spectacular gets bigger and better. UMHB has the greatest and most talented students around and this show reveals that," says UMHB Choral Director David Guess. Each year Broadway Spectacular is sold out, so it is important to get tickets early. Tickets are $6 for adults and $3 for students and children of any age. To purchase tickets or get information about Broadway Spectacular contact the School of Fine Arts office at (254) 295-4678 or stop by Presser Hall Room 204.

Humane Society dinner and auction set for Oct. 17

The Salado Humane Society is holding its annual benefit dinner and auction Oct. 17 at the Salado Mansion.

The evening starts at 6:30 p.m. with a preview of auction items, followed by a Mexican buffet that will begin around 7 p.m.

Following dinner auctioneer Bill Hall will take control of the evening.

The shopkeeper of Salado have donated many items and Bill makes the bidding process a lot of fun.

The $25 tickets are available at the door. All proceeds go to help pay veterinarian bills, advertising expenses incurred while seeking homes and food for the dogs and cats.

Burson fundraiser set for Oct. 12 in Harker Heights

Employees to Re-elect Janelle Burson will hold a barbecue fund-raiser 6-8 p.m. Oct. 12 in Harker Heights.

The fund-raiser will be held at the Cen-Tex Homebuilders Association Building at 435 E. Centex Expressway in Harker Heights.

Food will be prepared by Bobby Grant, County Democratic Party Chair, and Gil Roberts.

Burson, who lives in the Salado area, is seeking re-election as County Tax Assessor.

Live music and entertainment will be a part of the evening. There will be no admission charge, but a donation to Burson's campaign will be accepted.

To facilitate food preparation, attendees are urged to call any of the following numbers: 933-1907, 554-6110 or 634-6461.

Smith presents new discoveries of man's origin in Americas

Calvin Smith, director of Baylor University's Strecker Museum, will present "Reaching the New World: How Did Early Man Get Here?" 7 p.m. Oct. 19 at the Bell County Museum.

The program commemorates October as Texas Archeology Awareness Month.

Smith will discuss new ideas and new discoveries concerning the origins of the first populations of the Americas during his lecture and slide presentation.

Since 1983, Smith has been the director of the Strecker Museum Complex at Baylor University. He is also the chairman and associate professor of the Baylor University Department of Museum Studies.

His areas of expertise are in archeology (concentrating on Paleo-Americans and a prehistoric sequence based on the material culture of south-eastern New Mexico and west Texas) and ecology (focusing on the vertebrates of the southwest, particularly as related to sand dune regions and parasitic causes of blindness in ungulates).

In the 1980s, Smith reopened the Waco Mammoth Site, which has become the largest concentration known to science of a single herd dying from the same event.

He co-hosted the national symposium, "Mammoths, Mastodons and Human Interaction" and coedited the proceedings.

In over 30 years of museum work, Smith has directed the relocation and restoration of the Governor Bill and Vera Daniel Historic Village in Waco, and also supervised the reconstruction of the 14-building outdoor museum, Gladys City Boomtown. Smith also served as director of the Central Texas Regional Science fair for 10 years, and organized and became the first director of the Heart of Texas Regional History Fair.

Smith serves on numerous national museum-related committees and also on the International Council of Museums.

Bell County Museum is located at 201 N. Main in Belton. It is fully accessible and admission is free.

TUMBLEWEED SMITH

Shug Mauldin of Driftwood has people all over the world working on her internet site (texaschannel.com). It started September first and features all sorts of Texas things. "Don't ever underestimate a Texas cowgirl," she announced at the beginning of my interview with her. "I am a Texas cowgirl with a software company."

She says Texans are great idea people and always find a way to make things happen.

"On the Texas Channel you can watch and hear some great Texas programs, play a game of dominoes in the Texas Domino Parlor, explore and travel the state and cruise the Texas Channel Mall and get all sorts of

Antiques and more

Formal dinner parties were an important part of the life of a well-to-do Victorian couple. The rules of etiquette and good taste dictated the dinner table's look. Collectors now find many pieces of silver serving dishes and large, carved furniture that were made for a Victorian feast.

The dining room had large furniture. There was often a sideboard with carvings of dead game birds, animals and symbols of the food to be served. The sideboard held large pieces of silver that were to be used during dinner. Examples of fine silver, crystal or china were also on display. The table was in the center of the room under a large, decorative chandelier. Ground-glass globes were preferred because they made the lighting more flattering. The long table was surrounded by matching carved chairs. The table was covered with a white damask cloth that was ironed and the crease was placed exactly in the middle, going the length of the table. The center of the table held a flower arrangement.

Dinners often had 12

Texas merchandise."

She has gone around the state and gathered some of the most talented people and put them on her channel. "My channel will promote Texas goods and services, tourism, and the wonderful diverse cultures all over the state. We're never going to run out of content because there are so many unique stories in Texas. We want to cover anything that happens within the state of Texas, or to a Texan who might be in another country that has an unusual experience."

She has already had response from several foreign countries. "You mention Texas anywhere on earth and it brings some kind of picture to mind, like oil wells pumping in everybody's back yard, or every Texan is rich and smokes big cigars."

Shug is a singer-songwriter with some hefty credentials in that area.

She has spent some time in Nashville and New York. She had a manager in Dallas who took her to a private party in New York City. "Andy Warhol was there, Halston was there, and there were all sorts of famous people at this party. I wanted to call home, so I went to the phone and Halston was using it. I told him to get off the phone, that I had to call home and tell my family I was all right. And he said, 'Honey, I am Halston.' I said 'I am Shug and hang up that darn phone.'"

"Anyway, I sang my six best songs at that party. We served them Texas Tea Punch which has tequila and beer in it. I had a dance contest at the end and those fellows with the three piece suits and diamond pinkie rings had their vests open, their ties off, their sleeves rolled up and they were stompin' around to Faded love. Andy Warhol was wearing leopard skin pants and was dancing with two girls at the same time." The man who was in the process of opening the Lone Star Cafe was at that party and he asked Shug to come open it up. She did and was sold out for six weeks. She returned to New York City three times the first year the Lone Star Cafe was open and played to full houses every night. Once Willie Nelson opened for her.

She would crease hats for customers by twirling her six shooter and banging it on the crown of the hat. "They looked like the hats Tom Mix wore."

The following recipe was taken from the cookbook "Salado Country Cooking." It was sponsored by the members and friends of the Monday Club from the Salado United Methodist Church.

Chicken Italiano

Patsy Sanford

1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
2 T. minced parsley 1 tsp. dried oregano
1/2 tsp. minced garlic 1/4 tsp. pepper
Milk, for dipping 2-3 T. oleo, melted
4 skinned, deboned chicken breast halves

In a small, shallow bowl, combine first 5 ingredients. Dip chicken in milk, then in cheese mixture. Place in shallow baking dish, which has been sprayed with Pam. Drizzle oleo over top of chicken. Bake at 375 degrees for 25 minutes, or until tender. Yield: 4 servings

UMHB fall homecoming begins Oct. 30

All alumni of the University of Mary Hardin-Baylor are invited to the third-ever fall homecoming slated for the week of October 30.

The actual football game against Hardin Simmons University will be at 2 p.m. Nov. 4, at Belton Tiger Stadium, but there will be many activities throughout the week leading up to the football game.

On Oct. 30, university students will be decorating both the city of Belton and the university with ribbons, balloons, and homecoming signs. There will also be a poetry coffeehouse done in "Edgar Allen Poe" style in the sub of the Mabee Student Center at 9 p.m.

On Oct 31, Baptist Student Ministries and the Resident Housing Association will sponsor Crusader Candy Land. This event will allow local children to trick-or-treat in UMHB dorms. The children will meet at 6 p.m. in the Amphitheater on campus, and then be guided through the dorms by BSM students.

The night of Nov. 1, everyone is invited to attend Focus Bible Study at 8:30 p.m. in Shelton Theater of the Mabee Student Center. This is a weekly Bible study held on campus.

November 2, faculty and staff will decorate their respective offices in the spirit of support for Homecoming. 7:14 p.m. Bible Study, another weekly Bible study, will be held at 8 p.m. at First Baptist Church, Belton. Then, at 9:15 p.m., the "Lighting of the Letters" will be held at the outdoor basketball court behind Mabee Gym. This event will be a pep rally during which football players will light the UMHB letters. The community is welcome to participate and be a part of the excitement.

"Show Your Colors Day" is scheduled for Nov. 3. Students and faculty are encouraged to dress in purple and gold to show their UMHB spirit. At 11 a.m., the musical ensemble, One Voice, will perform in Homecoming Chapel, which is open to the public. That evening a Royal Banquet will be held in Shelton Theater for past and current Homecoming court members.

Friday evening at 8 p.m. the junior class will sponsor Medieval Court.

Challenge, an event that includes such contest as jousting and spam molding.

This event will be held in W.W. Walton Chapel and is open to the public.

Nov. 4, is Homecoming day. A pre-game lunch will be provided at 11:30 a.m. at Tiger Stadium in Belton. Tickets are available to the public for $5. Bruce Copeland will be providing musical entertainment.

Judging of the "Still Life" floats, an event sponsored by the sophomore class, will take place at this time as well. Pre-game activities will also be available for children, such as inflatables and face painting.

Kick-off will be at 2 p.m., the UMHB Crusaders will take on the Cowboys of Hardin Simmons University at Tiger Stadium in Belton. Homecoming King and Queen will be crowned at halftime of the game. At 5:30 p.m. an Alumni Post-Game Tail Gate party will be held at Tiger Stadium.

For more information call the Information Station at (254)295-5054.

Flu vaccine delivery late

No flu shots will be given at Scott & White before mid-November this year, due to a delay in influenza vaccine delivery, according to Craig Clanton, M.D., associate medical director for medical operations, networks and pharmacy.

The Center for Disease Control in Atlanta has reported that lower than anticipated production yields and manufacturing problems have caused nationwide distribution delays and shortages of the influenza vaccine.

"Although we ordered 80,000 doses of the vaccine, we will receive only 68,000 doses," said Barb Symm, R.N. M.S., Scott & White administrator, preventive care. She said the FluMist trial for children will continue with expanded locations but will also be delayed until mid-November.

Influenza virus infections lead to 20,000 deaths and 110,000 hospitalizations each year in this country. An outbreak of influenza A occurred at a children's camp in Eddy earlier in the summer but was quickly controlled.

"Scott and White is well-known for its strong flu shot efforts," Symm said. "Scott & White normally launches its flu immunization campaign by October each year. However, due to the delay and shortage, this year will require a different strategy."

Those who would be high priority for receiving the flu vaccine include people over age 65 and people with high-risk conditions, such as heart/lung conditions or anything that would make them susceptible to influenza, Dr. Clanton said. Also health-care workers, community workers such as police officers, firefighters, teachers, etc., and those who live or work with high-risk patients would also be advised to be vaccinated.

According to the CDC, it is particularly important for young children at high risk who are receiving the vaccine for the first time and who require two doses.

Symm advises people to watch the newspapers for announcements of flu vaccine arrival. In addition, Scott & White will have the flu line, 724-4FLU, set up within the next few days to provide the most current information about flu shots. Outside of the local calling area, the number will be 1-800-724-4FLU.

Chamber Mixer on Oct. 17

The Salado Chamber of Commerce will hold its second Chamber Mixer for 2000 7 p.m. Oct. 17. The mixer will be held at the Mill Creek Club house. The staff of Mill Creek will be our host.

Rodeo to benefit Peaceable Kingdom Children's Retreat

Wild Thing Rodeo will bring to Texas a brand new event Oct. 14: The Running of the Bulls - Texas Style.

Texans will now have their opportunity to Run with the Bulls, just like they do in Spain.

The Running of the Bulls Texas-Style will take place just outside of Jarrell on the Gibbs Ranch, according to Derik Strelsky, of Wild Thing Rodeo.

Partial proceeds from the event will benefit Peaceable Kingdom Retreat for Children, a special retreat center for children with special needs. The Retreat is located northwest of Salado.

According to Strelsky, an event like this has taken place only twice before in the United States. The first year saw 600 contestants and over 6,000 spectators. The second year had almost 10,000 spectators. Both events were held in Mesquite, Nevada, sponsored by another promoter.

"With our event scheduled to take place in Jarrell," Strelsky said, "we believe that we will have a huge draw from the Austin area as well as the Temple, Killeen and Waco areas."

He added that he expects many contestants to come from Ft. Hood.

Computer classes at Public Library offered on Lap Tops

As part of its continuing education initiative, the Salado Public Library is offering two evening courses starting in early October. One class will cover the basics and use of Microsoft Word and the second class will cover the use and applications of Microsoft Excel. Both classes will last six weeks with each weekly session lasting one and one half hours each evening. Classes will be held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings starting at 7 p.m. All classes will be limited to 10 students and taught by instructors from the Salado School District.

All classes are hands on utilizing laptops and LCD projector acquired through the Library's recent TIF Grant award. There will be a $30 fee for each class with the library covering the cost for instructors.

To register please call the library at 947-9191. Applicants are accepted on a first call basis. For additional information on classes please contact Lynn Epps at lepps@vvm.com or call 947-5554.

Belton Fire Dept. host Garage Sale for equipment

Belton Volunteer Fire Department hosts its Third Annual County-Wide Garage Sale 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Oct. 28 at the Bell County Expo Center.

The Garage Sale will have over 100 vendors selling everything from antiques, collectibles and furniture to glassware, toys, tools, jewelry and household bargains.

Admission is $1.50 for adults with children under 12 free.

Proceeds from the Garage Sale are used to purchase and update fire fighting equipment for the Belton Fire Department.

HURRY! HURRY!!

Private and Wooded

Do not miss this opportunity to purchase your own private estate or gather four to five of your friends to build your own mini estates with a pool and tennis court, etc. to cherish the rest of your life. A very unique opportunity on heavily wooded grounds. Great development potential! Approximately 20 acres.

Tenroc bull top performer

Texas Angus News reported that a bull from a Salado ranch was the top winner in the recent bull performance test at the Beef Development and Research Center of Texas near Navasota.

The bull, Tenroc 1483 4159, comes from Mike Cornett's Tenroc Ranch in Salado.

It was selected following a 112-day test during which a total of 304 bulls were tested. Of those tested, 213 were Angus bulls.

The bulls were developed on a silage-based ration and kept in 10-acre traps. Their ration was designed to prepare the bull for a life on forage. The bulls were split into two groups: senior and junior bulls.

Cornett's bull took top rank in the junior bull division with a bull sired by Sedgwick's 1483 5376.

At the end of the 112-day test, the bulls were ultrasounded for backfat, marbling and ribeye area. Data was collected and compiled with the assistance of Texas A&M University. The top 70 percent of each bull division was eligible for the annual bull sale.

Cornett's bull is scheduled to be sold in the All-Breed Sale on Nov. 11 at the Four County Auction Sale in Industry.

Tenroc Ranch is a 2,000-acre ranch off Thomas Arnold Rd. owned by Mike and Shirley Cornett.
