A ROCKEFELLER CENTER CHRISTMAS TREE Stocks surge to new record

The Markets

The U.S. stock market, as measured by the S&P 500 Stock Index (SPX), closed out the foreshortened Thanksgiving week at an all-time high of 3638.35, up 2.27% for the week. The new record close puts the SPX up 12.62% yearto-date, almost ten points of which were gained in the days since the election. While we don't normally report on the other widely followed index, the venerable Dow Jones Industrial Average of 30 stocks topped a milestone, crossing the 30000 mark for the firsttime mid-week, although it sagged back to 29910 by the close on Friday. The CRSP U.S. Value Index continued to play catch-up to the SPX, rising 2.74% to 2022.87.

The surge in stock values this week was widely credited to optimism about the potential for a full economic recovery and more as widespread vaccination becomes a reality in 2021, combined with the market's approval of the moderate, generally pro-business choices President-elect Biden is making for his key economic cabinet positions. The stock market is, in essence, anticipating record high corporate earnings in 2022, and stock prices are discounting those earnings in 2020.

The U.S. Treasury tenyear note yield joined in the celebration of good times to come with a 2% increase to yield 0.846%, still down from its recent highs but well above the half to three-quarter percent yields at which it traded for most of the year. Oil prices enthusiastically joined in the Thanksgiving party, rising 8% to $45.52 per barrel for West Texas Intermediate (WTI) crude.

Market & Economic Update

lus/relief bill combined with record numbers of both new COVID-19 infections and hospitalizations is having an effect on the economy, The Labor Department reported new claims for state unemployment insurance rose to 778,000 for the week, up for the second week in a row for the first time since July. As we wrote last week, while the week's jobless claims were nowhere near as high as the multi-million layoffs we saw in the spring, current weekly job losses still dramatically exceed the records we have seen in previous recessions. Before the pandemic, the record was held by the 1982 recession at 695,000 and the average in 2019 was about 210,000 per week.

The job losses and lack of a relief bill appear to be showing up in other areas too. According to the Commerce Department, consumer spending growth, the primary driver in our economy, slowed to 0.5% in October compared with Septembers 1.2% and personal incomes dropped by an average of 0.7%. Unless Congress acts within the next month, two more federally funded jobless programs will expire at the end of December, potentially having a seriously negative economic effect on about 12 million people and potentially halting the recovery. In a bit of good news for those who do have adequate income, the Personal Consumption Expenditures Index, which the Federal Reserve uses for its calculation of inflation, is only up 1.2% from a year ago. More good news came from the Commerce Department's report that U.S. durable goods orders increased 1.3% for October. Core capital goods, longer-term equipment constituting a form of business investment, shipments rose, 2.3%, suggesting that manufacturers, like the stock market, see far better times coming next year and beyond.

Confirming that impression, HIS Markit announced on Monday that its composite index of U.S. business activity, coming from purchasing managers of both manufacturing and services companies, rose to 57.9 in November, following the election, from October's 56.3 on a scale where numbers above 50 indicate growth. That was the strongest number since 2015 and indicates a deep-seated business recovery is underway although the total activity remains below where it was in February. That positive reading contrasts strongly with Europe where the index has fallen below 50 for both the manufacturing and services industries in the face of a surge in the coronavirus pandemic.

If the infection, hospialization, and death rates continue to rise and the Senate continues to refuse to pass a relief bill, there is a very real possibility of a return to negative GDP numbers in the first quarter of 2021. Longer term, once widespread vaccination is in place, which is likely to be mid-year at the earliest, we continue to anticipate a full recovery and a potential burst of pent-up growth by the second half of next year.

An Open Exchange of Ideas

Racial politics then and now

In my hometown of Little Rock, Arkansas, back in the late 1950s they closed the public schools down rather than desegregate. But since high-school sports were as big as in Texas, they kept the football season going. The saying around town that year was that the teams were "Undefeated, Untied and Uneducated."

Fast-forward 60-plus years. This year, so many schools are once again closed, but at least some of their teams are also not playing football, nor any sports. It's too dangerous, thanks to the pandemic.

Now we are overwhelmed with more than a quarter-million people killed by the coronavirus and more than 13 million cases in the United States since the plague began. And, yes there is a racism factor involved: The infection rate disproportionately affects minorities, largely due to the fact that they are among the nation's poorer citizens.

To say that the Trump administration's response to this crisis has been dismal understates disastrous. From day one, it has been a tragedy of errors. Nearly every responsible government agency has been irresponsible, near every decision has been wrong and/or carried out in ways that give new meaning to the word "in-

Those who know what they're doing have been sidelined because they were unwilling to parrot the party line that the coronavirus was no big deal. And we are talking about the Trump party here, with one member. Since the beginning, President Donald Trump has insisted that the invisible attacker would have minimal effect, would "miraculously" disappear after a brief period, and it wasn't worth getting our protective gear in a knot about it.

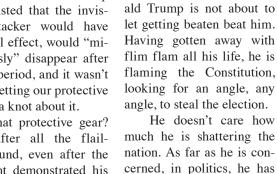

What protective gear? Even after all the flailing around, even after the president demonstrated his nonstop ignorance, he was able to intimidate many governors and local officials to prematurely abandon the lockdown, which was wreaking havoc on the economy but which was starting to work. Eleven months later, the invisible viral enemy is still mercilessly slaughtering our citi-

The coming anti-COVID restriction backlash

It already seems clear that the first major political and culture eruption of the Biden years will be a roiling populist backlash against the next round of COVID restrictions.

We saw this sentiment play out in sporadic anti-lockdown demonstrations last spring and it has driven ongoing resistance to masks, but it is, in all likelihood, about to reach an entirely new level - fueled by exhaustion with the virus, elite hypocrisy and the shattered credibility of the public-health establishment. The ascension of Joe Biden will add force to the reaction. It is an iron law of American politics that whichever party doesn't control the presidency will suspect the other of plotting to impose a tyranny, so the fear and loathing of COVID restrictions, somewhat muted on the right while Donald Trump was president, will deepen and intensify. The right's populism limited-government and impulse, which separated in the Trump years, will presumably be reunited in the push against lockdowns in a way that they haven't been since the Tea Party. "Lockdowns. Mask police. Curfews. What about freedom?" asked conservative Rep. Jim Jordan in a recent tweet, forecasting things to come.

pandemic enters its worst phase and as new vaccines arrive that will soon start changing everything. But a significant segment of the American public has lost its patience with a new normal that has, at times, been arbitrary and poorly thought through. When the new virus first hit our shores and we knew much less about it, the case for lockdowns was strong to keep the health-care system from getting overwhelmed and to play for time (and better treatments). In retrospect, though, the nationwide lockdowns of the spring closed down some states before they experienced their initial waves of the disease, imposing economic, mental health and medical costs without much upside.

mal Thanksgiving plans. Particularly if they include guests that do not live in your immediate household." Yet just days earlier she happily had joined a crowd celebrating Joe Biden's election victory During this moment, the political class should have been especially sensitive to playing by its own rules, when those rules have been so relatively easy to bear for the elite and so punishing for ordinary workers. To simplify and generalize, at the start of this year, they downplayed the virus for fear that it would stoke xenophobia. Then, they lurched into fivealarm-fire mode. They poured cold water on masks before turning around and insisting on them despite ambiguous evidence on the efficacy of cloth masks. They preached the gospel of social distancing until mass Black Lives Matter protests erupted, blessing these huge, often unruly gatherings because fighting racism is supposedly a paramount public-health issue. The upshot will be poisonous contention in the months ahead before the advent of that most American solution - the clever technological fix, in the form of transformative vaccines.

After that kind of sacrifice, it's hard to double-dip and ask people to do it again.

Lighthouse Bright Light Christmas kicks off

In an effort to let these children know that people care and they are not alone, Lighthouse Family Network is providing you the opportunity to show these foster children that they are special and valuable through their "Bright Light Tree" program.

"Bright Light" Christmas trees will be located at Brookshire Brothers, Anytime Fitness, Horizon Bank, and Hot2Tot. The Bright Light Christmas Tree is a Christmas tree decorated with ornaments giving the first name and age of a child in the foster care system and some ideas of things he or she would like to receive for Christmas.

Interested individuals may select an ornament from any of these "Bright Light" tree and then purchase a gift(s) for the child named on the ornament. The Lighthouse staff asks that the gifts be returned to their office in Salado Plaza Shopping Center no later than Dec. 18 so they can be hand delivered to the children across the state before Christmas Eve.

Lighthouse Family Network, Inc. in Salado, is a Christian child-placing agency that is currently providing therapeutic foster care to approximately 60 severely abused children throughout Texas. It is a 501 (c) (3) non-profit organization; all donations are tax deductible. For information, call 254-947-3152.

Heart & Hands ministries serves area with food

It got its start in a shed on the property of First Baptist Church two decades ago.

From there, the Heart & Hands Ministries has grown into a functioning food and clothes pantry that serves more than 50 families (120-130 individuals) twice a month.

With the financial impact of COVID-19, the need for the food pantry has increased dramatically in the last year.

Heart & Hands Ministries celebrates three years in its permanent location at 213 Mill Creek Dr. Suite #135, where it distributes more than 1,500 pounds of food each month, as well as 7,000 articles of clothing each year.

Due to COVID-19 social distancing restrictions, Heart & Hands distribution of clothing has been limited this year.

Heart & Hands is open 9-11 a.m. on the second and fourth Saturday of the month. However, for the month of December, distribution is set for Dec. 5 and Dec. 19.

Posada recreates journey of Joseph, Mary

Las Posadas, the nine day Christmas tradition observed in Spain, Mexico and the Southwest United States, will be celebrated as La Posada, a one day event, in Salado during the community's Christmas Stroll. La Posada will be from 6:30-8:30 p.m. on Dec. 12. The public is invited to take part.

The Spanish term means inn, place of lodging or accommodations. In some ways the spirit of Las Posadas is similar to the English custom of caroling. It dates back 400 years in Mexico and recreates the journey of Joseph and Mary to Bethlehem.

Each year the same drama is played out. Though thoroughly rehearsed, what will happen will seem fresh and exciting to the young people taking part. Dressed in period clothing, they will begin at Rio Salado on Royal St. and then lead a candle light procession down Main Street a distance of two miles. Along the way they will stop to ask for lodging and a place to rest. Of course there is no room at any inn until they reach St. Joseph's Episcopal Church. There, too, Father John Williams will apologize at first for the lack of lodging. Then Father Williams will have a thought. He will lead the couple to a stable behind the church. There he will offer to settle them in for the night in mounds of hay.

Afterwards they gather in the church courtyard for tamales, empanadas, hot chocolate with cinnamon and fruit punch.

Salado ISD to host Rotary District 5870 training events

By Carson Stephens Salado Rotary Club

Henry Ford famously said, "If everyone is moving forward together, then success takes care of itself." If anyone knew the power of those words, it was Henry Ford. His introduction of the assembly line reduced the time to build a car from 12 hours to an hour and 33 minutes.

Few may know that the Rotary Club in small town Salado is really part of a vast network of clubs scattered across the entire globe. Working together, the more than 35,000 clubs that make up Rotary International are making an impact locally as well as globally. An example of its many initiatives is Rotary's work, supported by the Gates Foundation, to eradicate polio from every nation on earth.

Rotary is organized into Districts, and the Salado club is one of 56 clubs in 23 Texas counties that make up Rotary District 5870 Central Texas. From Itasca in the north to Yoakum in the south, and from Marble Falls in the west to Fairfield in the east, Rotary District 5870 occupies the big Heart of Texas.

Rotary's leadership, from international down to the club level, rotates every year. And every year incoming leaders participate in leadership training. For the last several years, the two training sessions for Salado's district leadership have been held in Killeen. But this year both sessions will be held in Salado.

On Dec. 5, District-Governor-Elect Beverly Luedke of Belton, will call together 12 district leaders for training at the Salado ISD Administration Building.

Those attending the training will include the Lieutenant Governors, Assistant Governors, and District Committee Chairs. These 12 leaders will be attending informative training in preparation for the Rotary year 2021-22 which begins on July 1, 2021. District Governor Elect Luedke and her Committee Chairs will be preparing District Leadership with up-to-date Rotary International Information and District plans for Service, Projects, Events and Training.

Then on Jan. 30, 2021, Presidents-Elect from all 56 Rotary Clubs of District 5870 will participate in small group leadership training which will be held at the Salado Middle School. Also attending will be the ten District Leadership Team and Committee Chairs who will lead preparatory training for the President Elects who will assume their leadership positions on July 1, 2021. This training will prepare the President Elects for their successful and impactful Rotary Club year. Areas of focus will include Membership Growth and Retention, How to Promote the Rotary Club in the Community, Fundraising with a Cause, Rotary Education and Rotary Foundation Giving and its Impact.

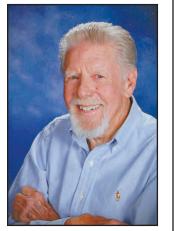

The Salado Rotary Club and Rotary District 5870 would like to thank Salado Rotarian and Salado ISD Superintendent, Dr. Michael Novotny, for the school district hosting these training events.

Club pool, where he was a lifeguard. He drove her home that afternoon, and she knew she had just met the man she would marry. She was right, and they married on June 8, 1956. They lived a rich and full life together for the next 64 years, raising three children, adjusting careers, sharing faith and friendship, and gathering a broad spectrum of close friends along the way, all of it centered in a deep and deepening faith and the relationship Sam and Missie shared with each other.

Sam was a life-long scholar, lawyer, minister, and teacher. His breadth of interests ranged from collecting rare books and maps (mostly in the field of Texana), printing and binding books, designing and making jewelry in their business "The Shout of Joy Artisans," and knot-tying in various formats.

In his career as a minister in the Presbyterian Church, he served three congregations as pastor: West Isle Presbyterian Church in Galveston, St. Philip Presbyterian Church in Houston (where he was named Pastor Emeritus), and Memorial Presbyterian Church in Fredericksburg, Texas.

While in Fredericksburg, he also served his alma mater, Schreiner University, as a professor of humanities, teaching students how to observe and gather information to further their learning, much as it had furthered his own. His Jan-term course in Japanese bookbinding filled up quickly whenever he taught it. And he received the student selected Harriet Garrett Excellence in Teaching Award several times in his career.

People were drawn to Sam. If you are reading this, you may be one of those people. He was a Renaissance Man, making his mark in each of his careers and hobbies. His scholarly interests intertwined with his observation of the world. When something captured his attention, he wanted to learn everything he could about it. The Shout of Joy Artisans were born when he discovered the Egyptian pictograph for "a shout of joy" in a book on extinct languages. He turned the image into a jewelry design. Before you knew it, the family den became a studio where silver and gold jewelry was being created.

Sam's love of learning was infectious. He was a gifted teacher. And he had a wide variety of interests. You may have learned any number of things from him at Mo-Ranch, Laity Lodge, Schreiner University, or at church - from jewelry making to bookbinding, from real estate law to biblical studies. He ran marathons and helped start the Galveston Marathon. He rode many miles on his bicycle through the Texas hill country.

Sam was spiritual and faithful and lived as Christ called him. He cared about people, and you knew he cared about you. While serving West Isle Church he was drawn to a nearby fishing village community because he recognized the people there as salt-of-the-earth folk, just like those who were the core of Jesus' community. That community welcomed him because he loved them just as they were and are.

When he was called to ministry at St. Philip Church in 1971, Sam and Missie and the congregation clicked. So much ministry was done, much of it centered in embodying God's justice. Feeding ministries, connecting with the San Marcos Presbyterian Church, welcoming to gay Presbyterians, being involved in developing and supporting the Interface Counseling Ministry, connecting with Mo-Ranch. These are a few of the important witnesses Sam led this congregation through during this season, founded on God's Scripture.

Because of his years in ministry - including his life as a lawyer and a college professor - he went through life's mysteries with many folks. People loved him for the closeness he shared with them in those times. There is something miraculous about having a faithful companion come alongside you in the important experiences of marriage, birth, baptism, life, death, divorce, sorrow, and grief. Maybe you experienced connection with him in one of your life's passages.

Sam loved his family, especially his grandchildren and great-grandchildren, who all called him "Pappy." Nothing pleased him more than to teach them how to fill the bird feeders, how to make a book, how to read maps, or who knows what else!

Sam is honored at Presbyterian Mo-Ranch Assembly in the St. Philip Garden with a stone marker which reads: "In Honor of Sam Lanham - Preacher, Teacher, Craftsman, Friend."

While all of these successes and many others make us marvel, Sam would be the first to affirm that it was the constant and life-long love that he and Missie shared that made everything in his life possible. From the very moment they met, their world was united and filled with a new vision.

Sam is survived by Missie, his wife of 64 years; his brother Mike and his wife Mary Lanham of Waco; his son Sam and his wife Cathey Lanham of Lubbock; his daughter Brooks and her husband Mick McCorcle of Fredericksburg; his daughter Claire and her husband Bill Hartman of Salado; grandchildren, step-grandchildren, great-grandchildren, nieces and nephews aplenty.

His ashes will be interred in Oakwood Cemetery in Waco, Texas in the family plot.

Memorials may be made to Schreiner University in Kerrville, Texas or to the church of your choice. Services are in charge of Broecker Funeral Home of Salado.

It is difficult to visualize a national team-of-four championship with hundreds of teams participating. Yet that is precisely what happens every year when the American Contract Bridge League conducts its annual Grand National Teams tournament.

Eventually, after many months of play, the field is reduced to two survivors playing for the national championship. That was the scenario back in another from Washington, D.C., faced off in a 96-deal match.

The Texas team won that year's event but did not exactly overwhelm its opponents. The final score was Texas 100 (International Match Points), Washington 99! Considering the number of deals played, this was a remarkably low score, reflecting a very high caliber of play by both sides.

The bidding shown here is typical of the excellent form shown by the two teams. At both tables, South employed the Grand Slam Force convention by leaping to five notrump after North had bid two diamonds over West's one-spade overcall.

Five notrump asked North to bid seven diamonds if he had two of the three top diamond honors. Both Norths dutifully bid seven diamonds, and there is no doubt that they would have made the grand slam and scored 2,140 points had the bidding ended then and there.

But at both tables, East-West refused to quit at this point! Both Easts bid seven spades, convinced that they would lose less points at that contract - even though doubled and vulnerable — than they would if they allowed North to play seven diamonds. Both East-West pairs then went down five, losing "only" 1,400 points instead of 2,140, and the deal was a washout!

Eagles fall to Carthage, 35-7, end season with 11-2 record

By TIM FLEISCHER EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Salado Eagles' stellar season came to an end at the Randall Reed stadium in New Caney ISD as the Carthage Bulldogs, 4A-Div. 1 State Champions, look to add a another championship to their string of seven under coach Scott Surratt. Carthage won the game handily, 35-7 and will face the China Spring Cougars for the Region III Championship.

After swapping threeand-out possessions, Carthage drove 48 yards in just over three minutes, scoring on a 5-yard run by Mason Courtney. Irvin Jiminez made it 7-0 with 5:36 left in the first.

The Bulldogs defense, which shut out its last three opponents before facing Salado, forced the Eagles to another three-and-out. Wrook Brown's 49-yard punt buried the Bulldogs at their own 6 yard line, but Kai Horton hit sophomore receiver Montrel Hatton, Jr. in stride going untouched for the touchdown. Jiminez made it 14-0 with 2:38 left in the first.

Carthage went up 21-0 with 9:38 left in the first half following a three-and-out and 42 yard punt by Brown gave them the ball at their own 32-yard line. Eight plays later, Horton hit Craig McNew for a 5-yard strike on third and goal. Jiminez made the PAT kick for Carthage.

Kip Lewis fell on a Salado fumble at the Eagles' 34 yard line. On first down, Horton hit Kavonte Brown-Hoskins for a 34-yard strike. Jiminez booted the PAT at 8:35 for a 28-0 lead that Carthage carried into the lockers.

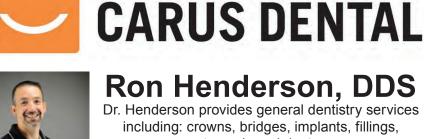

Salado took the second half kickoff and drove to near midfield, turning the ball over on downs as the stingy Bulldog defense held on a fourth-and-1 quarterback sneak by Hutton Haire.

Horton hit McNew for a 44 yard pass to set up first and goal at the Salado 7 yard line. Four plays later, Courtney ran in from the 2 yard line. Jiminez made it 35-0 with 7:21 left in the third.

Salado answered, driving from their own 25 yard line to the Carthage 45, where they set up to punt on fourth and 4. Noah Mescher, however, took the direct snap through the middle of the Carthage defense for a 45yard touchdown with 1:18 left in the third. Brown toed the extra point, making it 35-7.

Carthage proved how punishing and relentless a team they are by going for it on a fourth and 5 at the Salado 7 yard line, but the Eagle defense stuffed Courtney to take over on downs midway through the fourth.

The Eagles ate the remainder of the clock driving from their own 5 yard line to the Carthage 18 before the timeclock clicked zero. The Eagles got five first downs on the drive, more than they were able to get in the first 41 minutes of the game. The Eagles end their season 11-2 with their only losses to 3A-Div. 1 defending two-time State Champions Grandview Zebras in the second week of the season and the season-ending loss to Carthage.

Communities in Schools collects children's shoes

munities In Schools (CIS) Shoes 4 Kids shoe drive is underway now through Dec. 17. CIS is accepting donations of new or gentlyworn shoes for elementary, middle school and high school, children registered in the CIS program. Donations of shoes for all sizes and ages from youth size 10 to adult size 15 will be accepted. Tennis shoes/sneakers must be appropriate for school-aged children.

The goal of Shoes 4 Kids is to help ensure students in the CIS program have a decent pair of shoes for everyday use or for necessities such as a dress-up affair or a P.E. class. Many of these students have outgrown their shoes or have no choice but to wear what is available to them which, in many cases, are handme-down pairs or borrowed shoes that don't fit properly.

"A lot of our CIS families simply cannot afford to go out and buy new shoes as their children outgrow them or wear them out," said Michael Dewees, CIS ex-

The 13th annual Com- ecutive director. "And that is even more difficult now as parents find themselves out of work due to the CO-VID-19 pandemic. We want to help these families by ensuring their children have a decent pair of shoes for everyday wear, athletic activities or other school function or event in which they participate."

> CIS also hopes to make a few Christmas wishes come true for students in need as a popular wish for students in the program is a new pair of shoes. "A lot of our students would rather have a decent pair of shoes instead of toys or games for Christmas," said Dewees. "If we are able to fulfill that wish, hopefully we can help that build child's self-esteem as well. When students have comfortable, well-fitting shoes, they are able to attend school with a little more dignity."

> Donations for the CIS shoe drive are accepted at the Communities In Schools office located in Killeen at 4520 E. Central Texas Expressway, Suite 106. To fol low safety protocols, donors should call the CIS office at 254-554-2132 to schedule a drop-off appointment. CIS will also accept monetary donations to purchase shoes for those kids whose shoe size was not met with the shoe collection. Monetary donations can be mailed to the CIS office at the above address.

New shoes can also be dropped off at Thomas Arnold Elementary, Building #2, according to Jessica Halfmann, Communities in Schools coordinator for Salado ISD.

CIS is dedicated to impacting the lives of children in a positive way, helping them achieve the success they often find unattainable.

Last year, CIS assisted more than 5,000 students.

The local agency, serves Killeen, Copperas Cove, Temple, Belton, Salado and Jarrell independent school districts.

Since 2006, CIS has case managed more than 75,000 students deemed at-risk or in social or economic need.
