

Glory to God

Across the land, let the story be told

King James Version: The Gospel According to St. Luke, Chapter 2

1 And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.

2 And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.

3 And all went to be taxed, everyone into his own city.

4 And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judaea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; because he was of the house and lineage of David;

5 To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

6 And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

7 And she brought forth her first born son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

8 And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

9 And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.

10 And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

11 For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

12 And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

13 And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

14 Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

15 And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known to us.

16 And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

17 And when they had seen it, they made known abroad they saying which was told them concerning this child.

18 And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

19 But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

20 And the shepherds

returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

21 And when eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, his name was called JESUS, which was so named of the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

Vaccines could lead to economic growth in 2021

The S&P 500 Stock Index (SPX) weaved about a bit but finally finished the week at 3709.41, up 1.25%. The rise was widely credited to sustained hope that Congress would finally reach agreement on a bill to provide further relief to the economy in the face of record numbers of COVID-19 infections, hospitalizations, and deaths. The index has risen 14.81% year-to-date and 4.27% in the last month. Leadership in the SPX returned to the few large-cap growth stocks that have dominated the index most of the year as the CRSP US Mid-Cap Value Index rose only 0.35% for the week.

The yield on the U.S. Treasury ten-year note rose 6.088% to 0.947%, once again putting it within striking distance of the elusive 1% per year yield mark. Meanwhile the 90-day T-bill, the other loan benchmark, declined slightly to yield 0.085% on an annualized basis and the yield curve remained steadfastly positive. West Texas Intermediate crude oil (WTI) once more showed more optimism than either stocks or bonds, rising 5.24% to an even $49.00 per barrel as export demand, much of it from China, continues to rise.

The Economy

The economic news was a rich mixture of short-term bad news and longer-term optimism over the week ending on the 18th. Odds are rising that U.S. nonfarm employment will decline in December. The Labor Department reported that initial claims for unemployment insurance rose to 885,000 in the week ended December 12. That latest increase is a rise of 169,000 over the claims from two weeks ago. On the other hand, housing starts rose 6.2% to 1.547 million in November, a continuing indication that the better off among us are willing to invest in the

Market & Economic Update

By Jeffrey W. McClure

future despite dire current statistics. The starts were concentrated in multi-family buildings, suggesting that investors consider the job market woes to be temporary.

The Census Bureau reported that U.S. retail and food services sales for November declined 1.1% from October, a reversal of the traditional bounce that the Thanksgiving week and Black Friday sales provide. Despite that less-than-optimal trend, sales were reported up 5.2% from the same week last year, led by online sales, up a whopping 29.2% from 2019. On the other side of the coin, IHS Markit reported that U.S. manufacturing output grew at a solid pace but slower than it has been in three months, as the Index dropped to 56.5 from last month's 56.7, but manufacturing output remained 2.7% below where it was last year at this time, while the services index declined to 55.3 from last month's 58.4. Index numbers above 50 indicate growth. Here as in other aspects of the economy, growth continues but at a slower and slowing rate.

The Federal Reserve, apparently quite concerned about the health of the U.S. economy, effectively pledged to keep short term interest rates near zero and to purchase as much government debt and mortgage securities to keep interest rates ultra-low for as long as was needed until we see a full recovery. The central bank has been buying about $80 billion in Treasuries and $40 billion in mortgage bonds each month since June. It pledged to continue the purchases "over the coming months." Separately, a Wall Street Journal survey of economists indicated that the consensus was that employment would fall below 4% and inflation would hit the Fed's goal of 2% by the end of 2023, marking a full recovery.

There are some very practical takeaways from that news. Savings interest rates are going to remain low, very low, and probably below inflation for at least the next couple of years. You may be tempted to succumb to offers of what even a year ago was considered a reasonable rate, but with even a 1.5% or 2% rate will come risk of loss. It is good to remember that the purpose of savings is not to earn interest at a good rate but rather to avoid loss. Another critical nugget is that when interest rates rise, the value of a bond or a portfolio of bonds fall. With interest rates at record lows and a consensus that within the next couple of years they will rise, bonds could be a dangerous place to put savings that you might need before the maturity date of those bonds.

The bottom line this week will sound familiar. In the short term, things could turn unpleasant but with two vaccines now deploying, the outlook is that by mid-2021 enough of us will be vaccinated to begin a jump start of the economy. That jump start will likely be fueled by the record quantities of cash stored up in this pandemic year by households and corporations alike and may well constitute the entry point for the roaring 20s of the 21st century.

An Open Exchange of Ideas

Use of license plate cameras

To the Editor,

Although I disagree with the Aldermen's decision to proceed with a program placing automated license plate reader (ALPR) cameras (Flock Safety, Atlanta GA) monitoring travel in and out of Salado, I appreciate the opportunity to express my opinion in a citizen-friendly manner via Zoom meeting, and I very much appreciate their service to our Village out of their own time.

While my personal reservation with this program is on the basis of privacy, I acknowledge that there is room for differing perspectives and reasoned debate on that subject. Regardless, there are financial and practical dimensions to making any decision in stewardship of our Village's resources, and I am concerned that there is insufficient justification for this program on those bases.

It is my understanding that the agreement with Flock Safety includes a 30-day trial period, at the end of which the Village may decide to either cancel the program at no cost or to enter into a year-long contract. While I am further skeptical of anyone selling me anything with a "30-day Money Back Guarantee," I believe this offers the Village an opportunity to subject this program to more rigorous analysis such that a transparent, evidence-based decision can be made, rather than acting on a marketing, anecdotal, or hypothetical basis. As such, I have respectfully requested that our Village administration utilize this 30-day trial period to:

Letters to the Editor

-- Establish and collect data on measurable and objective criteria by which to evaluate the performance of the system in terms of economic and material benefit to the Village during the trial period (expected number and type of flags, flags made during high risk hours, flags made during low on-duty census, expected false-positives, expected officer time for interventions, expected averted criminal activity, etc.).

-- Obtain anonymized data from Flock regarding the number of plates detected and number and type of flags made during the trial period.

-- Obtain anonymized data from Flock and SPD regarding which flagged incidents are acted upon by SPD, preliminary results of the action, resident vs. out of town vehicle, and any errors encountered (plate detection error, plate-auto mismatch, vehicle-driver mismatch, etc.).

-- Obtain information regarding any Flock system downtime, malfunction, or maintenance/repair incidents.

-- Obtain data from Flock regarding the amount and type of data from the system shared with other jurisdictions/systems outside of Salado, if any (i.e. TALON program).

-- Make this information available to citizens and BOA members well in advance of the BOA meeting at which the decision will be made regarding continuing/cancelling the program.

Additionally, should the system be retained, I respectfully requested that anonymized data (number of flags, type of flag, whether investigated) from the system be regularly reported as a separate section of the SPD Chief's Report in the Salado Village Voice.

I believe that this sort of analysis would be beneficial not only to the Village in weighing whether the program is of sufficient value to be continued, but also in helping citizens understand the operation, purpose, and effectiveness of this system with transparency.

ESD Board named by Commissioners

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Bell County Commissioners at their Dec. 21 meeting appointed five members to the newly-created Bell County Emergency Services District #1 Board of Commissioners Serving an initial two-year term are Ashley Liebig, Allan Dillon and David Matthews.

Serving an initial one-year term are Don Engleking and Don Hogue.

Commissioner Bill Schumann asked his fellow court members if there is an industry standard "for evaluating EMT calls. How is that evaluated?"

"Currently, when an emergency call comes in, we have volunteers who respond from wherever they are. They have to drive to the fire house, gear up and then go to the call," said Commissioner Bobby Whitson, who is also a member of the Salado Volunteer Fire Department, adding that this could add several minutes to response time.

"Having staff manning the fire department will lower that response time," he added.

"When you talk about someone having a heart attack or a stroke, if you don't reach them in those first few minutes, it could be too late," Whitson said.

"I am not aware of any nationalized or state standard the emergency services must meet," said County Judge David Blackburn, who served as city manager of Killeen and Temple during his career. "That is a decision made by each locality. Those metrics and the resources devoted to emergency services are decisions made locally. There are different metrics and standards based on resources."

Blackburn said that the county received 17 applications for the ESD Board. After conducting interviews last week, the commissioners chose the ESD commissioners. "The entire group was a really good pool," Judge Blackburn said. "All would have served us well."

The next step for the ESD Commissioners is to receive training, organize the board, adopt a fiscal year and interim budget, conduct a needs assessment and budget and set a tax rate.

ESD Board meetings operate by the Texas Open Meetings Act.

Despite challenges of COVID, SISD has much to be grateful for

Superintendent's Corner

by Dr. Michael Novotny

Even though COVID-19 has made things very challenging, we have so much to be thankful for during this past year. While all of the schools in Texas were closed the last several weeks of the 2019-2020 school year, our teachers provided remote instruction to our students during that time. Our Salado High School Class of 2020 graduates were able to participate in a commencement ceremony outside at the University of Mary Hardin-Baylor's Crusader stadium in June.

This 2020-2021 school year we are offering our students the option to attend school in person or remotely. We opened our beautiful new middle school in September. Our cross country teams, football teams, volleyball teams, marching band, and FFA all had phenomenal seasons this fall. Our new high school dance team is also having a great first year. Our basketball teams and soccer teams are already off to a great start.

Thankfully our COVID-19 numbers have remained low enough so we have not had to close school or cancel any extracurricular activities. While we have had 42 students and 25 employees that have tested positive for COVID-19 since March, thankfully all of them have recovered so far.

several groups of people for making this another great school year for our students and school district:

- Our teachers, librarians, and classroom aides for continuing to provide a quality education to our students
- Our school counselors for providing academic and emotional support to our students
- Our school nurses for providing medical care to our students
- Our cafeteria workers for feeding breakfast and lunch to our students
- Our bus drivers for safely transporting our students to and from school
- Our custodians and maintenance workers for providing clean and safe facilities
- Our clerical staff for assisting all of our employees, students, and parents
- Our administrators for leading and supporting their campuses and departments
- Our school board members for their volunteer service on behalf of all of our students and employees

I hope all of our students and employees are having a wonderful Christmas break with their families. Bob Hope once said, "My idea of Christmas, whether old-fashioned or modern, is very simple: loving others. Come to think of it, why do we have to wait for Christmas to do that?"

I would like to thank
