

Christmas parade Dec. 2 kicks off 61st annual Stroll

The 61st Annual Salado Christmas Stroll will kick off with the Christmas Parade at 6 p.m. Dec. 2.

The parade will begin at Royal and Main Streets on the South side of Salado, traveling north on Main Street and ending at the Salado Civic Center.

"We are more excited than ever to have our Christmas Parade back on the schedule after the necessary decision to cancel in 2020," said Deanna Whitson, Chairman for the Parade.

"We have a wonderful lineup of local and regional participants, including Ft. Hood 1st Calvary Horse Detachment and 3rd Calvary Regiment led by Grand Marshall Sgt. Hunter Wilson, recent recipient of 2021 FORSCOM NCO the Year," Whitson added.

Following the parade, the historic Salado Christmas Stroll will be officially started. Dates are Dec. 3-5 and Dec. 10-12.

This year's event is accented with new winding sidewalks and street lights that frame the one-mile Main Street of Stroll festivities.

"In 2020 the sidewalks and lighting were newly completed just before the holiday shopping season began," said Nancy Best, Chairman of the Chamber Board. "Now that the Stroll is back in full swing this year, we are excited to have the parade and all of the traditional Christmas Stroll events accessible on all parts of Main Street."

Salado businesses will host a variety of Stroll events both weekends including Outdoor Live Nativity at First Baptist Church, live performances of Charles Dickens "A Christmas Carol" at the Tablerock Amphitheatre of Salado and live music at various venues along the route. Tickets for Tablerock performances can be found at CentralTexas-Tickets.com.

A full list of daily events can be found on the Salado Chamber of Commerce website, www.salado.com.

A Christmas market will be hosted on both Saturdays, Dec. 4 and Dec. 11 from noon to 6:00 p.m. at Barrow Brewing Company, 108 Royal Street, Salado.

There will be FREE parking throughout the Village of Salado, including the Salado Civic Center, Brookshire Brothers, First Baptist Church of Salado, Church of Christ and more. The Village of Salado will be providing a free trolley shuttle service throughout both weekends.

Information about the 61st Annual Salado Christmas Stroll and the events listed here, and others can be found online at <https://business.salado.com/calendar>.

Justice of Peace #2 primary brings familiar faces

Two candidates have filed early in the race for Bell County Precinct 2 Justice of the Peace: incumbent Cliff Coleman and Richard Sapp.

The two may be familiar to local Republicans as they faced each other in the 2018 Republic party primary. Coleman won the primary 1,099 to 1,047 and was unopposed in the general election.

Filing for March 2022 political party primaries continues until 6 p.m. Dec. 13.

Judge Cliff Coleman, who serves as Justice of the Peace for Bell County's Precinct 2, has filed for re-election.

He was sworn into office on January 1, 2019, and serves the communities of Holland, Bartlett, Salado, and rural southeastern Bell County.

After filing, Coleman said, "I am grateful for the opportunity to serve the Bell County citizens of Precinct 2 and I am asking for your support to continue as your Justice of the Peace."

Coleman grew up in Salado and is a graduate of Salado High School. He is married to Regina and together they have five children, all of whom also graduated from Salado High School. He is a graduate of Texas A&M, served as a Houston police officer, and was a small business owner in Bell County prior to serving as Justice of the Peace. He serves as a deacon at First Baptist Church of Salado.

He and Regina are both active in numerous community organizations and are particularly passionate about scholarships for high school students pursuing post-graduate studies and work.

In addition to serving as the Precinct 2 Justice of the Peace, Judge Coleman also presides over the Bell County Truancy Court.

Cliff Coleman

Richard Sapp

"With over 75,000 students in Bell County school districts, truancy court has always been steady," Coleman said. "Because we know that poor attendance can potentially lead to educational gaps and learning loss, and the pandemic has exacerbated it even more, truancy court is being utilized even more by school districts because of the positive reinforcement from the Court and positive outcomes for students returning to class ready to learn."

Coleman works regularly across Bell County with municipal police departments and the Bell County Sheriff's Department, as well as assists Justices of the Peace in other precincts as needed.

Richard Sapp has filed as a candidate for Bell County Justice of the Peace, Precinct 2.

Richard is a lifelong resident of Bell County. He and his wife Aida have been residents of the Salado area for the past 15 years. Both serve others through their church, The Worship Place, in supporting elders and their caregivers in the community.

Sapp served the citizens of Bell County as a Law Enforcement Officer and Instructor. He completed 32½ years with the Temple Police Department and retired as a Detective. Much of his work was with youth and families. Richard also served as a mentor for numerous criminal justice students and new police officers and detectives. Additionally, he earned significant awards and citations for his professionalism throughout his tenure with the City of Temple.

Regarding his education and certifications, he earned a Master's Degree in Criminal Justice from Tarleton State University in 2001 and a Bachelor of Science Degree in Liberal Arts from Regents College, a Member of The University of the State of New York System, in 1999. Currently he holds a Master's Peace Officer certification from the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement (TCOLE) and is a licensed Peace Officer Instructor.

He has served as a college and university professor/instructor for 20 years, having taught criminal justice and law courses at various institutions of higher education. Presently, he is an adjunct faculty member in the Department of Protective Services at Central Texas College.

His professional memberships include the American Criminal Justice Association and the Texas Municipal Police Association. Previously in his career, he was an active member of the Texas Gang Investigator's Association and the Central Texas Intelligence Working Group.

"I have spent the majority of my adult life in service to Bell County citizens," he said, "and look forward to having the opportunity to continue to serve the citizens of precinct 2."

"During my time as a police detective, I forged many positive working relationships with other law enforcement officers, agencies, and county officials," he said. "I believe these relationships will further my abilities to successfully serve in the capacity of Justice of the Peace."

"I will work diligently to advocate for every citizen within Precinct 2 and conduct business in a fair, just, and unbiased common sense manner, Sapp said.

Brad Buckley files for re-election as District 54 Rep

State Representative Brad Buckley (R-Salado) filed for re-election last week to represent District 54 in the Texas House of Representatives. Buckley currently serves as Vice-Chairman of the Defense and Veteran's Affairs Committee and is a member of the Public Education Committee. He will be seeking his third term.

"I look forward to earning the trust and support of citizens across Bell County. Together we must continue to make sure our communities are prosperous, our families are safe, and opportunities are available for all," Rep. Buckley said.

"District 54 is a snapshot of Texas and I will continue to use my experience to promote economic development, fight for property tax relief, support our veterans, provide quality education, and secure a future for farmers and ranchers in Bell County," Rep. Buckley said.

Buckley reiterated his commitment to issues critical in Texas currently by stating, "In a time of rising inflation, border chaos, and attacks on our energy independence, I will stand up for Texans to protect our prosperity and secure a future for our children and grandchildren."

Representative Buckley will be on the ballot in the Republican Primary, being held March 1, 2022.

Dr. Brad Buckley was raised in rural Bell County and is a veterinarian and small business owner in Killeen.

He is married to Dr. Susan Buckley, who serves as Chief Learning Officer for Secondary Schools in the Killeen Independent School District.

The Buckleys are parents to Emily, Erin, and Bo, and are the proud grandparents of Leo.

Brad and Susan reside on their ranch in Salado where they maintain a cow-calf operation and raise and train cutting horses.

Demand for imports driving shipping prices

The Markets

The S&P 500 Stock Index (SPX), our preferred stock market indicator, rose 0.32% to 4697.96 for the week ending November 19, almost perfectly reversing the 0.31% decline last week. On Thursday, the Index hit a new record high but slipped back 0.14% on Friday, reportedly because of lockdowns in Europe generated by new COVID outbreaks and a decline in oil prices. The SPX ended the week up over 25% year-to-date and over 32% from this time last year. The CRSP Mid-Cap Value index reversed course, dropping 1.4% for the week.

The yield on the benchmark 10-year U.S. Treasury note also fell, declining just under 1% to 1.549% as the 30-year T-bond yield slipped downward to 1.919%. The bond market continues to signal that it does not consider high intermediate or long-term inflation to be likely and better economic times lie ahead. West Texas Intermediate crude oil (WTI) joined in with its price per barrel declining to $76.11 on news that both the U.S. and Chinese governments will be releasing oil from their strategic reserves in a move designed to drive down oil prices.

The Economy

The biggest noise in the financial press for the week was once more about the supposedly looming threat of inflation. The fear expressed in the print and broadcast media was that the recent reports of increased prices for things bought both here and around the world would cause the U.S. Federal Reserve to prematurely raise interest rates, choking off the expansion. As we opined last week, there is little evidence of entrenched inflationary tendencies in either the U.S. or other developed countries, but perhaps because we are in a bull market, pundits apparently need something to worry about, so inflation is the thing.

Market & Economic Update

By Jeffrey W. McClure

In fact, there are signs that one of the larger issues that created that big year-over-year inflation number is abating. A big cause of higher prices is simply that there is a lot of demand for imported items, causing shipping prices to rise to record highs. The good news is that the cost of shipping a container of those goods across the Pacific dropped by a quarter last week, the biggest decline in two years. The logjam of ships waiting to unload on the West coast has not shrunk, but shipping companies apparently are seeing relief, causing them to lower prices to attract more business. Shipping executives are still warning that the traffic jam will likely persist until at least February of next year but with both the commodity dry shipping rates and those for the big intermodal boxes declining, it is apparent that the pressures are going down.

The good news on shipping prices was reinforced as Wal-Mart, Home Depot, Macy's, and Kohls all reported that both sales growth and profits were much higher than analysts expected in the third quarter and that they had plenty of inventory to take them through the Christmas season. They uniformly reported that sales continued to be strong in October and were accelerating as the fourth quarter progressed. Wal-Mart appears to have circumvented the logistics logjam by the extraordinary method of chartering a fleet of smaller container ships that could utilize ports along the gulf coast and having its own fleet of trucks waiting at the ports to carry the containers to the Wal-Mart distribution centers.

Sales have risen about 6% since last year and appear to be ahead of where they were in 2019 before the pandemic hit.

In a parallel but larger data point, the Conference Board released its prophetic Index of Leading Economic Indicators (LEI), confirming what CEOs have been saying. The U.S. LEI rose 0.9% in October, following a 0.1% increase in September and 0.7% in August. The Conference Board forecast that fourth quarter economic growth would be around 5% on an annualized basis and would moderate to a still very healthy 2.6% in the first quarter of 2022. The report also indicated that the indicators were nearly unanimous with one of the only negatives being a reported decline in consumer confidence.

In a confirmation of the positive forecasts, the Commerce Department reported that October's retail sales rose by a seasonally adjusted 1.7% compared with September. Online sales were in the lead, up an astounding 4% for the month. Even auto-dealers reported a gain with their sales up 1.8%. As has often happened in the past, when consumers report they are concerned about the economic future and plan to cut back on spending, they then go out and spend record amounts of money on retail purchases.

The bottom line is that not only is the U.S. economy going strong, but it also appears to be accelerating as consumers shrug off rising prices. At the same time, we may be seeing the first economic indicators that that surge in prices is finally abating.

THANKS for GIVING

Reader still concerned about library taxes and reporting

To the Editor

I would like to thank Mrs. Miller for correcting some of my inaccuracies in my last letter to the Editor. I am still concerned about the taxing issue with the library and the reporting to the public to get information that should be on the website however the citizen has to contact the executive director to get the information.

Granted it was voted on and is now active. That being done now. According to the September 30, 2021 statement not published on their website (you have to call the executive director to get copy of it as well as the sales tax revenue from the state). I ask all of the citizens of Salado to call and get a copy. Just to hit a few points to get your interest...Sept 21, $48,775.. Oct 21 unreported ...Aug 21 $52,192 tax cumulative for FY 20-21 $528,967. Assets CD $255,627. CD $157,589..

Is it time to reevaluate this taxing entity? This will be the last letter I am sending to the Editor concerning this issue. There needs to be more interest and response from the taxed citizens. Please call the executive director and ask for the Treasurer's report and Fund Balance reports... this will help your understanding of the issue...

America needs Thanksgiving

By GLENN MOLLETTE

America has been through a tough time. A national election separated friends and family, divided churches and took over our media. We've been intoxicated with poisonous rhetoric and toxic street gatherings that led to more division, injuries and even death.

Americans horrifically viewed the murder of George Floyd by a Minneapolis police officer and said we aren't going to take that anymore.

Over 762,000 people have died from Covid-19 in America. Over 47 million of us have been sick. Families who have buried loved ones don't need convincing about the realities of Covid-19. Americans who have spent weeks in hospital intensive care units know they are fortunate to be alive. However, in the midst of America's pandemic nightmare, Americans have debated with each other over vaccinations, masks, school and business closures. We have watched our businesses suffer. Our government's finances have been further strained to supply money to hurting unemployed people.

Americans watched our departure from Afghanistan in horror. We argued among ourselves about how we should have left, the timing of our departure, and whether we should have left at all.

We continue to struggle with racism in America. People who have experienced it know the reality.

At all levels of society we must rise above any and all words or actions that denigrate others.

We continue to have other crises impacting our nation. People pouring over our border illegally, an ongoing drug epidemic, homelessness, rising costs of medical treatment and insurance, unaffordable college tuition, unaffordable housing and unaffordable and sometimes unavailable groceries. Americans are now facing the fire of growing inflation. Groceries are becoming even more unaffordable for poor Americans. The cost of living adjustment coming for America's retirees in January, which is reported to be 5.9 percent, might buy a small bag of groceries, maybe.

America has gone through a tough time, maybe better said, we are going through a tough time. This is why we desperately need Thanksgiving.

In November 1621, after the Pilgrims' first corn harvest proved successful, Governor William Bradford organized a celebratory feast and invited a group of the fledgling colony's Native American allies, including the Wampanoag chief Massasoit. Now remembered as America's "first Thanksgiving"—although the Pilgrims themselves may not have used the term at the time—the festival lasted for three days.

That first brutal winter, most of the colonists remained on board the Mayflower ship, where they suffered from exposure, scurvy and outbreaks of contagious disease. Only half of the Mayflower's original passengers and crew lived to see their first New England spring. In March, the remaining settlers moved ashore, where they received an astonishing visit from a member of the Abenaki tribe who greeted them in English.

Several days later, he returned with another Native American, Squanto. Squanto taught the Pilgrims, weakened by malnutrition and illness, how to cultivate corn, extract sap from maple trees, catch fish in the rivers and avoid poisonous plants. He also helped the settlers forge an alliance with the Wampanoag, a local tribe, which would endure for more than 50 years and tragically remains one of the sole examples of harmony between European colonists and Native Americans. (from History.com)

The early settlers who came to America suffered hardships that few Americans can comprehend. In the midst of so much death, sickness and starvation they found a way to stop and express gratitude. The friendship and humanitarian aid given to them by native Americans stand out as to what really makes America great. We all need to learn from the first Thanksgiving. This year maybe we all could take time to be grateful, and do something to help each other.

The Gov. Samuel Mathews Chapter, Colonial Dames XVII Century recently met at the Bell County Museum in Belton.

David Yeilding presented the program, "17th Century Fine Dining." For 200 years women cooked meals in the fireplace. Most utensils were made of iron. The largest kettle held 15 gallons of food, as food was consumed, more vegetables or meats were added to the pot. The father sat in the only chair, while the mother sat on a stool or bench while sharing a meal. The children stood while eating. Meals were served on a trestle table, using a trencher, a plate, for shared eating. The family either used wooden spoons or their fingers to pick up food. Beer was the drink of choice.

Guest were David Yeilding, Roberta Brooks, and prospective member, Joy Shirley.

The group collected $250 for the Temple VA Hospital Christmas, stamped Christmas cards for the veterans use, and socks were also collected.

Night at the Farm Dec. 3 benefits Centex Equine Rescue

CenTex Equine Rescue is the labor of love of Brittany Janes and Matt Kelly. The goal of the non-profit is the prevention, rescue and rehabilitation of neglected and abused performance horses.

Brittany Janes is an avid barrel racer and with her family operates Rising Above Equine, a boarding facility that is clean, secured and healthy for both the equine athlete and their rider.

Rising Above Equine is located at 602 Palomino Trail off of FM 2268 in Salado. They are located in the former Brazos Valley Equine Hospital Facility, while Brazos Valley Equine Hospital is located at 1920 FM 2268.

"They're up front, we're in the back," says Brittany.

In addition to the boarding facility, Janes takes in, evaluates and assesses the condition of every rescued horse that is brought to Centex Equine Rescue.

"I have always had a love for rehabbing and bringing the less fortunate performance horses back to their potential," Brittany said.

They have had successes in rehabilitating and rehoming horses, most recently with Sugar Bear, a 26 year old sorrel mare that once competed in barrel racing and roping.

Sugar Bear came to the equine rescue facility with two other mares, Lilly and Tilly in June. "Their owner needed help and was not quite knowledgeable or capable to help these girls get back to healthy weight. We had to pay $200 each to get them out of their current situation," Janes says.

After Sugar Bear started gaining weight, she was put into the lesson program for a few months "to help her get exercise as she could no longer be out on pasture with fresh grass due to testing positive for Cushings," Janes said. "We changed her feeding program to lower sugar and starch intake."

Once healthy, Sugar Bear now has a home with children "to live the rest of her life out," Janes said.

While Janes is experienced in working with horses, partner Matt Kelly is a relative newcomer to the equestrian world. He has seen the impact a horse can have on a person's life. It was through his son Colby, who passed away, that Kelly saw "how the spirit of a horse can tough someone deeply and establish a deep bond like no other animal can," he said.

Kelly got involved in equine rescue "because of these moments of peace with Colby and horses," he said.

He currently owns two horses, Reba and Belle.

Centex Equine Rescue learned earlier this month that they are a 501(c)3 charitable organization. The first fund raiser for the rescue is "A Night on the Farm," a charity dinner at Rising Above Equine facility beginning at 6 p.m. Dec. 3. The charity dinner is $60 per person and includes a preview of the Cowboy Christmas Market Days that will be 11 a.m.-5 p.m. Dec. 4-5 at Rising Above Equine, a catered western dinner by the "G" Wagon BBQ, an acoustic performance by Ryan Wright, silent auction items, a horse plop, a 50/50 raffle and a Wine Wall.

Historic cabins on Homes Tour

The Salado Historical Society Tour of Homes Dec. 4 will feature five private homes and the two historic log cabins owned by the Salado Historical Society on the grounds of the Salado Civic Center.

The Boles-Aiken Cabin was discovered between the walls of a house on Center Circle that was being demolished.

Disassembled, its logs carefully numbered, the cabin was stored until acquired by the Salado Historical Society and rebuilt on its present location.

Believed to have been constructed before Salado's founding, the structure is known to have had three different "lives."

It has served as a stagecoach stop, later as a post office - possibly Salado's first - and as a school. Presently, those three phases are represented with appropriate furnishings.

The Moses Denman Cabin, though not original to Salado, has a justifiable place in history as it was the home of the late Robert Denman's great-grandfather. Built in the 1860s, it was discovered by Denman and moved to the site of the Barton House, a well-known historic home in which Robert and Doris Denman had lived for many years.

When they sold the Barton House, they donated the cabin to the Historical Society. The building was moved without any disassembling, except the chimney, to become a neighbor to the Boles-Aiken cabin. With the chimney restored, it was furnished with primitive antiques provided by the Denmans.

Tickets for the Homes Tour are $20 in advance and can be purchased online at centraltexasitickets.com. Tickets can be purchased in person at the Salado Public Library 9 a.m.-2 p.m. Dec. 4 for $25 per person.

For the Cahoons, Tablerock's Christmas Carol is a family affair

Laurie Cahoon will reprise her role as Mrs. Cratchit in the 29th annual performance of A Christmas Carol at Tablerock Amphitheater.

Cahoon is the Vice President on the board of director's at Tablerock Theatre and co-owner of Belton's Milo Technologies, computer services, with her husband Mike.

home for over 20 years. "She is a kind and giving friend to all who have the blessing of knowing her," says Tablerock's Jackie Mills.

The bidding:

Table with 4 columns: South, West, North, East. Bidding sequence: 1♦ Pass 3♦ Pass, 3♥ 4NT(!) 5♦ 5♠, 6♦ 6♣ Pass, 7♦ Huddle Pass, 7NT Pass Pass.

Opening lead — five of spades.

This deal occurred at a national championship in Phoenix in 1962. At one table the bidding went as shown. West's four-notrump bid was conventional and asked partner to bid either clubs or spades.

East obliged with five spades, which West raised to six after South bid six diamonds. When this came around to South, he decided to chance seven diamonds.

At this point, West was considering the possibility of sacrificing at seven spades when East doubled out of turn and then led the ace of trump.

Naturally, the tournament director was called. He ruled that West was barred from the bidding, that North-South could still bid if they wanted to, and that the ace of diamonds was a penalty card that would have to be played at the first legal opportunity.

South thereupon bid seven notrump! He realized he was dead at seven diamonds and thought he might have a chance in seven notrump with the aid of the penalty card.

After East doubled again, West led a spade. Declarer finessed the jack, led the nine of hearts, which held, and continued with the queen. East covered, and South cashed the A-J-10. Declarer was hoping that East would show out of hearts and thus be forced to discard the ace of diamonds, but he had no such luck.

South next played a club to the king and cashed the A-K of spades, but East continued to follow suit.

Finally, South played a club to the ace, ready to concede the rest of the tricks for down four. But South's last chance now came home to roost when East turned out to have no more clubs! East had no choice but to discard the ace of diamonds on the ace of clubs, so South made the doubled grand slam!

Darnall Army Medical Center offers COVID-19 vaccines to children ages 5-11 years old, Flu Shots for kids Dec. 4

FORT HOOD, Texas – Carl R. Darnall Army Medical Center vaccine team will begin administering the Pfizer COVID-19 vaccine to beneficiaries 5 to 11 years old 22 Nov.

The COVID-19 vaccine will be administered by appointment only.

Parents can schedule a vaccine appointment online at www.tricareonline.com or by calling the appointment line at 254-288-8888.

The appointment line is available from 7 a.m. – 4 p.m. weekdays.

Beneficiaries should bring a valid DOD ID card to their scheduled appointment.

The vaccines will be given at the CRDAMC, building 36065, Wratten Dr., and in Hematology Clinic 1 on the 2nd Floor.

The vaccine site is open from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. The site is closed on weekends and Federal holidays.

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) gave the Pfizer-BioNTech COVID-19 emergency authorization to use in children ages 5 to 15 years old and full approval to use in individuals ages 16 or older.

After two 10mg doses, the Pfizer COVID-19 vaccine was approximately 91% effective at preventing symptomatic infection in children age 5 to 11 and caused no unexpected safety issues.

CRDAMC Flu Shot Event held at Comanche Youth Center

FLU SHOTS

Carl R. Darnall Army Medical Center Army Public Health Nursing team will offer the flu shot to all Tricare eligible beneficiaries 3 years old and above at the Comanche Youth Center from 9 a.m. to Noon, Dec. 4.

Due to pediatric dosing guidelines children under 36 months should visit their Primary Care Manager for the flu vaccine.

The youth centers location is building 52021, Tank Destroyer Boulevard, behind the Comanche Express gas station.

Beneficiaries should bring a valid Department of Defense ID card.

The seasonal influenza vaccine is recommended every year for everyone 6 months of age and older with rare exception. People at high risk for influenza complications include infants, young children, pregnant women, adults 65 and older, nursing home or long-term care facility residents, and those with underlying health conditions.

Eligible Tricare beneficiaries may obtain a flu shot at a TRICARE-authorized pharmacy or in a network urgent care clinic. Beneficiaries are encouraged to check the policies and procedures of their preferred pharmacy prior to obtaining the vaccine. Some pharmacies require a prescription for children under 7 years old and may not provide flu shots to children under 4 years old. In such cases, parents can obtain a prescription from their primary care manager, visit a TRICARE network urgent care clinic, walk in to the CRDAMC pediatric clinic or attend any community or pediatric flu shot event.

Temple College receives grant to train Certified Nurse Aides

Temple College has received a $50,000 grant from Aetna Better Health of Texas that will fully fund the training of 30 Certified Nurse Aides (CNAs). With a shared goal of increasing the number of qualified healthcare workers in the Temple area, Temple College and Aetna have teamed up to increase training for additional CNAs at no cost to the students. CNAs play a vital role in providing care to older adults and individuals with disabilities living at home or in long-term care settings.

Temple College recently relaunched its CNA training program in response to the demand for healthcare workers and requests from local employers. "Many of us know from personal experience how amazing CNAs are and just how much they mean to our loved ones. It is our honor to partner with Aetna on this great opportunity," said DeDe Griffith, Vice President of Workforce Development for the college.

The grant will enable Temple College to offer full scholarships to 30 students seeking CNA training in 2022-2023. The scholarships will target individuals who wish to pursue a career supporting older adults or persons with disabilities, especially those with experience working in home or long-term care settings. The four-month program is offered through the college's Business and Continuing Education Division.

"Our collaboration with Temple College will help support the healthcare needs of communities in Texas," said Stephanie Rogers, CEO of Aetna Better Health of Texas. "CNAs are vital to our healthcare system and ability to care for those in our most vulnerable communities. Training additional CNAs will help people needing care at home receive the services that allow them to remain independent and living in their communities."

Each scholarship will cover all costs of completing CNA training and certification, including books, tuition, CPR course, background check, uniform, supplies and the state licensing exam.

The next Certified Nurse Aide class is scheduled to begin January 29 and run through May 7, 2022. It will be held Saturdays from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. For more information, or to register, call Temple College at 254-298-8625 or email bce@templejc.edu.
