Water's Edge apartments to open Jan. '23

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

The first 60 units of 300 apartment units at Water's Edge will be ready for rental by January 2023.

Phase 1 of the Water's Edge development is being built by RREAF Holdings south of College Hill Circle to FM 2268. It will be 210 apartments in seven buildings of 30 apartments each.

The apartment buildings will be three or four-story, depending upon the topography.

Vertical work will begin as soon as roads are asphalted to meet fire safety standards during the construction period.

Entrance and exit will be off of South Main Street and FM 2268. There will be exits from the complex onto College Hill Circle and onto Santa Maria.

After the first set of buildings are completed, a new unit of 30 apartments will be completed every 30 days for a six month period.

Once occupancy reaches 50% in Phase 1, work will begin on Phase 2, which include the construction of 53 townhouses for sale and an additional 90 apartments.

Water's Edge will include a new road, Nottingham Street, that enters onto South Main Street. Edinburgh Street will connect College Hill Dr. to Santa Maria.

Phase 1 will have nine studio apartments, 77 one bedroom apartments, 92 two-bedroom apartments and 32 three-bedroom apartments.

The studio apartments are 610 sq. ft. One bedroom apartments are 724-788 sq. ft. The two-bed apartments are 1,108-1,170 sq. ft. and the three bedroom apartments are 1,331 sq. ft.

All parking is interior of the complex, not outside the footprints of the buildings themselves.

Water's Edge is one of three possible apartment complexes that may be developed in the Village. Another may be built on the Sanctuary South Tract near I-35. Another apartment complex may be built off of FM 2484 and voluntarily annexed into Salado to tie on to the sewer system.

No plans have been submitted to the Village for either of these projects.

In other Sanctuary-related news, the Planning & Zoning commission met in a special session on May 25 to consider the final plat of the Sanctuary Phase 1A Residential Subdivision, which has 70 lots with the smallest lot being 3,944 sq. ft. (0.09 acre).

The P&Z Commission also considered the final plat for the Drake's Landing residential subdivision.

The meeting was held after presstime for this edition.

Memorial Day Service held at Cemetery

The Salado Cemetery Association will host the annual Memorial Day Service at 9:30 a.m. May 30 at the Historic Salado Cemetery on Baines Street. Everyone is invited to honor our veterans on this special day and pay tribute to their service to our country.

The purpose of the Memorial Day ceremony is to remember the veterans buried not just in Salado Cemetery but in all of the Salado-area cemeteries, including family and church cemeteries, by a roll call of their names by LTC (Ret) Stephen Peters. All Veterans' grave sites will have flags placed on them before the service by Cemetery Association Board members. The Veterans are from the Texas Revolutionary War, Early Day Rangers, Home Guard, Indian Wars, Mexican War, Confederate and Union Armies, Spanish American War, WWI and II, Korean War, Vietnam War, and from peace time service.

Bell County Sheriff's Posse will again present the colors at the start of the service. Remarks will be given by Army MAJ (Ret) Nick Linville, RN. Taps will be played by Iole Quichocho at the conclusion of the service.

Light refreshments will be served following the closing of the Memorial Day ceremony. Seating will be provided by the Village of Salado.

In case of rain, the Memorial Day service will be held at Pace Park pavilion. If it is raining at 8 a.m., the service will be moved.

The weird is becoming new normal for markets

The Markets

The week ending on May 20 was another weird one in the markets. If this keeps up much longer, weird is going to become normal. The S&P 500 Stock Index (SPX), the quite flawed but possibly best indicator for the U.S. stock market behaved like a plunging horse all week but finally ended at 3901.36, down 3.06%. That leaves it down 18.14% this year, down 6.12% from a year earlier, and 18.6% below its record January close.

The key was that it did not end the week down more than 20%, and thus into a bear market, despite having crossed that line in the early afternoon on Friday. Quite interestingly, it appeared that it was the short dip into bear market territory that sparked the rally that took the Index back to a gain for the day.

To put this in perspective, if we go back three years to May of 2019, before the last recession and bear market, and come forward to today, the SPX has gained a very respectable 37%, giving it an 11% average annual rate of return for that period. For whatever it is worth, that rate is about its average over the past 100 years or so. Thus, despite the panicky headlines, if you are a long-term investor the last three years of pandemic, recession, bear market, recovery, and now war and more pandemic have evened out to be quite average.

The other equity index we follow, the CRSP Mid-Cap Value Index closed at 2373.67, down 2.18% for the week, 8.61% from its high this year, and 3.39% from this time last year.

The yield on the 10-year U.S. Treasury note slipped back about 5% to 2.789% but left the Treasury yield curve still in positive territory, boding well for the future. The price of West Texas Intermediate crude oil (WTI) inched upward about 2% to $112.70 for the week, meaning the pain at the pump will continue.

The Economy

The decline in the various

Market & Economic Update

By Jeffrey W. McClure

indices that reflect the level of the stock market were the headline grabbers for the week. A dig into that event reveals that about half the of market fall is a result of the price plunge of just eight large growth companies, Microsoft, Apple, Amazon, Alphabet (formerly Google), Meta (formerly Facebook), Tesla, Nvidia, and Netflix. Several of those stocks were down well over 40% from six months ago with Netflix leading the way, down about 72%. On the other side of the coin are the somewhat smaller, value-oriented stocks from the index we mentioned above, down only 7.61% in the last half year. Whether a given investor is staring a bear market in the face or has yet to cross over into a "correction" depends entirely on where they are invested.

This rather severe market correction is serving its purpose well. Among the worst hit issues are the Special Purpose Acquisition Companies (SPACs), initial public offerings that took in money without stating where it would be invested in the economy, but with a promise to find something, somewhere. Another cleanout was in cryptocurrency issues. Some have simply vanished while the most popular are down more than half.

A little heralded landmark was crossed during the week as the official U.S. death toll from COVID-19 rose above 1 million. That puts the total U.S. COVID deaths higher than the total from AIDS plus the 1918 influenza pandemic and all in the span of just over two years. Meanwhile, infections in the U.S. are rising once more and the economic effect is being felt across the world as about 300 million people in China, the equivalent of the entire U.S.

population, are in lockdown because of the virus.

Meanwhile, the underlying U.S. economy keeps driving forward. The Conference Board released its index of Leading Economic Indicators (LEI), and, in the words of its Senior Director of Economic Research, "Overall, the US LEI was essentially flat in recent months which is in line with a moderate growth outlook in the near-term." The Labor Department reported that unemployment remained steady at 3.6%, 2.4 points lower than a year ago as continuing unemployment insurance claims fell to the lowest level in 50 years. The Federal Reserve reported that U.S. industrial production increased 1.1% in April, the fourth month of increases greater than 0.8%, and was 6.4% ahead of where it was a year ago. The Commerce Department chimed in with a report that retail sales in the United States rose 0.9% in April at an annualized rate of 11.35%. The average U.S. home price hit a new record high, $391,200, although the rate of home sales has begun to moderate in the face of those high prices and rising mortgage rates. To top off the good economic news for the week, Bloomberg Economics is forecasting that U.S. economic growth in 2022 will come in higher than that of China for the first time since 1976. The forecast is for U.S. GDP to grow 2.8% while China's will only be 2%.

As we have written before, we were overdue for a correction and now we have one, in spades! Despite the market numbers, we remain optimistic. Real long-term stock valuations tend to be driven more by what is happening on Main Street than on Wall Street and Main Street looks pretty good from here.

So, where do we go from here?

Dear Editor:

I chose Salado to be my home 26 years ago. I have witnessed and been a part of just how "Salado Strong" we are enduring many challenges. Though we are a community with many opinions, when need arises we step up to support.

We seem to be in an ongoing process of recovery in many areas. And like other parts of the country, we are in the process of recovery while dealing with shortages and excessive pricing. Most recently many of us were spared major damage and loss when the tornado turned before heading right in to the historic and more populated area of Salado. The initial response to our neighbors was great but it is important to realize they still need our support. The funds raised by local businesses and organizations are generous; however, the needs are widespread and ongoing. We seem to quickly get caught up in our own challenges (a natural human flaw) and trust, because we do not hear otherwise, that other people are doing fine. Many are still recovering from the experience and are still trying to piece together moving forward.

So...where do we go from here? Perhaps we continue to grow a renewed sense of community. The last couple of years have been tough. Because we are Strong, we sometimes fail to realize the emotional impact of what we have been through. Sometimes we are so caught up in our own stress, we fail to consider what others may be experiencing. Recently, at my company's 50th anniversary celebration, one of our company leaders reminded us to look up. Look up from our electronics and view the world around us. Somehow being dependent or addicted to electronic communication has impacted our ability to just be present with one another and experiencing the beauty of where we are.

As we move forward, let's all consider ways to engage more as a community. Explore Salado more and all she has to offer. Become active in community groups, stroll our wonderful sidewalks, stop in to get to know business owners and look up to be aware of and support others needs. Savor the present and look for ways to make a better tomorrow.

Don't Weaponize Demographic Change

The horrific massacre in Buffalo, New York, has created a debate about the "great replacement theory," the rancid theory adopted by white supremacists that Jewish people are conspiring to destroy the influence of white Americans by importing non-white immigrants.

The Buffalo shooter was in thrall to the theory, as have been other racist and anti-Semitic killers.

The theory should be denounced by all people of goodwill and, indeed, it thrives only in the most sewerish precincts of the internet.

Yet, there is an attempt to tar Republicans more broadly with the theory and somehow attribute responsibility for the atrocity in Buffalo to them on this basis. The argument is that the likes of Elise Stefanik, a Republican congresswoman from New York, have warned that the Democrat party views immigration as a way to change the electorate in their favor, and so are mainstreaming the hateful replacement ideology.

This is a smear, and especially perverse since Republicans sounding the alarm about this Democratic view have been unquestionably correct. There hasn't been any secretive cabal at work -- it's all been out in the open, discussed by progressive political operatives and think-tank analysts, and celebrated in the press.

The left-wing Center for American Progress issued a report in 2013 titled "Immigration Is Changing the Political Landscape in Key States." It summarized its argument thusly, "Supporting real immigration reform that contains a pathway to citizenship for our nation's 11 million undocumented immigrants is the only way to maintain electoral strength in the future."

Books were written about this idea. The widely cited (and over-interpreted) 2004 book, "The Emerging Democratic Majority," by John Judis and Ruy Teixeira, called the Democrats "the party of transition" as "white America is supplanted by multi-racial, multi-ethnic America." In 2016, Steve Phillips wrote "Brown Is the New White: How the Demographic Revolution Has Created a New American Majority." The website for his publisher says the latest edition of the book contends that "hope for a more progressive political future lies not with increased advertising to middle-of-the-road white voters, but with cultivating America's growing, diverse majority."

Donald Trump's victory in 2016 suppressed some of this sentiment since it made it clear that white working-class voters didn't appreciate being spoken of as if they were a relic of the past; and the 2020 election and its aftermath made the assumption that Democrats will own Latino voters forevermore seem increasingly shaky.

But the left wants to create rules that define it as perfectly acceptable for Democrats to advocate high levels of immigration as a means of gaining political power, and out of bounds for Republicans to call them on it.

Washington Post writer Greg Sargent slammed New York Rep. Elise Stefanik for allegedly flirting with the great replacement theory in Facebook advertisements last year. They warned that Democrats want a sweeping amnesty for undocumented immigrants in order "to overthrow our current electorate and create a permanent liberal majority in Washington."

Never mind that Stefanik could have drawn her warning directly from various left-wing writers and advocacy organizations. Or that Sargent himself wrote after Barack Obama's victory in 2012 that the election had been "all about demographics" and that the outcome showed the electorate wasn't "reverting to the older, whiter, more male version Republicans had hoped for."

What makes Sargent's basic view different than Stefanik's, other than the fact that he welcomes how immigration trends have changed our politics and she doesn't?

Immigration has been hotly contested throughout our history, and is an inherently highly emotive issue, involving the composition of our polity and core questions of national identity. It can only inflame the issue further to explicitly weaponize demographic change, as the left has for decades now. We should have an immigration policy that serves the national interest, not the narrow interest of one political party.

Yes, by all means, further shun and marginalize replacement theory, but don't support high levels of immigration for partisan reasons and expect the other side not to notice.

Museum donates Texas book collection to Library

Salado Museum and College Park, formerly known as Central Texas Area Museum, closed its library in 2017 after over four decades of collecting books on a wide variety of topics.

It was decided by Sterling Ambrose, the descendant of the Robertson family who collected the books, to donate the books relating to Texas and local history to the Salado Library if they would be kept as a collection.

The Library accepted the donation as a collection, then catalogued it and had them shelved in a special section of the Library. It has taken several years after the donation to complete the cataloguing of the 675 fiction and non-fiction books and put the titles on the Library website. To see the list, please go to <https://salado.biblionix.com/catalog/>. Some books in this collection pertaining to Salado history are rare and out of print.

Special thanks are extended to the following for making this collection possible: Sterling Ambrose for his forethought to realize the importance of preserving this collection of Texas books in the Salado Library for all interested persons to access. Bill Kinnison for receiving the books and moving them into storage, then to the library for the cataloging and shelving. Jeanie Lively, Salado Librarian, who sorted through the books to organize the Texas collection and prepared a special section for shelving them. And, to Rachel Gerik, Pat Hart, Julie Hoy, Elizabeth Lively, and June Lubowski for carefully cataloging each book in the collection so it can be found in the electronic catalog collection online.

A ceremony dedicating this collection and acknowledging its donor's gift will be held on Friday at 3 p.m. on June 10, at the Salado Public Library, 1151 N. Main St., Salado, TX. The public is invited to the dedication.

The earth lost a vivacious, intelligent, enthusiastic woman on May 20, 2022, in the form of Sue Taylor Vest. She attended Baylor University, Waco, graduated from North Texas University with a Bachelor's Degree in speech therapy and graduated from Sam Houston University with Master's degree as an Education diagnostician. After several years in the school system in Humble, Texas, she accepted a job with DOD, moving with her young son to the country of Panama. This moved allowed an opportunity for growth in career, a beautiful place to live, and live-in child care. Twenty years in Panama was a major high-light of her life, where she could indulge her talent as an actress in local theatre, paint beautiful landscapes, and entertain her friends and family from both Texas and Panama, and achieve training in her chosen career beyond what was available elsewhere.

Sue loved her dogs, Chihuahuas, Poodles and Yorkie's, beautiful clothes, and jewelry, shopping, dancing and good food. She was an excellent cook and hostess.

She moved to Salado in 2007 to help her friend, Barbara waters, whose husband, Richard had been in an accident. Her training as a speech Therapist helped his condition.

In Salado she started attending St. Joseph's Episcopal Church and wanted to be confirmed. Bishop Payne gave his approval for Tyler Fletcher to conduct the confirmation class, which became and ever growing and more popular weekly dinner party in Tyler's library.

She is survived by her son, Rondy, his wife Mirna, their sons Rondy and James. Brother and sister in law, Ross and Beverly Taylor, their children and grandchildren, and friend Barbara Waters.

Graveside service will be held 1 p.m. Saturday May 27, 2022 in Moody, TX cemetery. Attendant Celebrant is Rev. Dr. Lynn Osgood.

(254) 947-7117
Monday thru Saturday 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Farming for Future brings sustainability, community to the table June 1-2. Sustainability is becoming a daily and household topic it seems, especially in the agricultural community. Farmers are turning towards regenerative practices for the better of their own operation during these changing times. But starting these practices can be overwhelming for some when you don't know where.....

or even how to start. Farming for the Future brings just that to the table. A once in a lifetime opportunity you won't want to miss, held in sunny Salado, Texas. Farming for the Future, brought to you by Soil Regen, will give farmers, ranchers, and ag professionals a boots-on-the-ground educational experience from a number of regenerative ag experts with shop talk and keynote sessions. This two-day workshop June 1-2 at Shady Villa Hotel in Salado will focus on topics such as increasing profitability on your farm or ranch operation using diversity, nutrient management, and implementing soil health practices.

The lineup of speakers will include Dr. Rick Haney, retired USDA research scientist and the developer of the Haney soil health test, Lance Gunderson, owner of Regen Ag Lab and soil testing expert, Rick Clark, internationally respected organic regenerative farmer and rancher from Williamsport, IN, Jimmy Em-mons, rancher and farmer from Leedey, OK, Adam Chappell, regenerative cotton, rice, soybean and corn farmer from Cotton Plant, AR, and Russell Hedrick, first generation regenerative farmer from Hickory, NC.

Salado High School Lady Eagles golf team placed 10th overall at the 4A State Golf Tournament played May 16-17 in Kingsland at Legends Golf Course. Lydia Burleson shot a personal best score, 85, to lead the Lady Eagles to a team score of 396 on day one. That put the ladies in 11th place overall. Day 2 saw the girls shoot the ninth best overall score, 384, to move up one spot and finish in 10th place. Again, the ladies were led by Burleson's 88 but the day also saw freshman Madeline Rakowitz shoot her personal best 106. "I am very proud of these girls and their accomplishments at the state tournament. They battled through some pretty hot temperatures to improve the second day," Coach Scott Ringo said. "I am looking forward to next year as all five ladies return. The girls had the following scores: Lydia Burleson, 85, 88, 173; Cooper Meyer, 91, 94, 185; Reese Rich, 107, 96, 203; Elliot Self, 113, 117, 230, Madeline Rakowitz, 125, 106, 231. Shown above are (from left) Lydia Burleson, Cooper Meyer, Reese Rich, Claire Kunders, Elliot Self and Madeline Rakowitz.

Opening lead — five of spades.

appropriate for his high-card values and distribution.
This deal occurred some years ago in the Blue Ribbon Pairs. At most tables, North got to four hearts and made four after East led a club to West's ace and ruffed the club return.
But our story concerns itself with the table where South, playing Flannery, got to be declarer at four hearts and West led his singleton spade. South played dummy's eight, which held the trick. Then, unaware of the catastrophe about to befall him, declarer led dummy's queen of diamonds, at which point the roof caved in.
East took the diamond with the ace and returned a low spade, ruffed by West. West then led the ace and another club, ruffed by East. East played another spade, ruffed by South with the nine and overruffed by West with the ten.
The debacle continued when West led another club, ruffed by East, and East then returned a fourth round of spades. Declarer ruffed with the four, overruffed by West with the six, and South's agony was finally over.

It is true that declarer could have made the contract by simply drawing the opposing trumps at the start of play. But instead, he went down four — 400 points — all because of his seemingly innocuous play of the queen of diamonds at trick two!

Sales Tax Holidays for water-efficient, Energy Star® products set May 28-30

(AUSTIN) — Texas Comptroller Glenn Hegar is reminding families and businesses that they can save on the purchase of certain water- and energy-efficient products during the state's Water-Efficient Products and ENERGY STAR® sales tax holidays.

The holidays, created by the Texas Legislature, both take place Saturday, May 28, through Monday, May 30. The Texas Comptroller's office estimates shoppers will save about $14 million in state and local sales tax.

"Anyone who's lived through a Texas summer knows triple-digit temperatures, outdated water systems and inefficient appliances can put a strain on our water supplies and power grids," Hegar said. "By taking advantage of these sales tax holidays, Texans can make upgrades that will help alleviate those pressures and lower their utility bills — while saving money on state and local sales taxes."

This is the seventh year for the Water-Efficient Products Sales Tax Holiday. Products displaying a WaterSense® label or logo can be purchased tax free for personal or business use. These include showerheads, bathroom sink faucets and accessories, toilets, urinals and landscape irrigation controls.

The sales tax holiday also applies to lawn and garden products that help conserve water outdoors. Items qualifying for the exemption include soaker or drip-irrigation hoses; moisture controls for sprinkler or irrigation systems; mulch; and plants, trees and grasses. These items can be purchased tax free for residential use only.

There's no limit on the number of water-efficient or water-conserving products you can purchase tax free. For more information on the Water-Efficient Products Sales Tax Holiday, visit the Comptroller's website.

During the ENERGY STAR Sales Tax Holiday, certain energy-efficient products displaying the ENERGY STAR logo can be purchased tax free, including air conditioners priced at $6,000 or less, refrigerators priced at $2,000 or less, ceiling fans, compact fluorescent light bulbs, integral LED bulbs, dishwashers, dehumidifiers and clothes washing machines.

Visit the Comptroller's website for more details about the ENERGY STAR Sales Tax Holiday.

Estimated annual energy and water savings for eligible products are listed below.

ENERGY STAR® Appliance vs. Conventional
APPLIANCE TYPE	ENERGY SAVINGS	WATER SAVINGS
Central Air Conditioners	8%
Room/Window Air Conditioners	10%
Refrigerators	9%
Freezers	10%
Ceiling Fans/Light Combination Units	60%
ENERGY STAR Certified Light Bulbs	90%
ENERGY STAR Certified Fixtures	90%
ENERGY STAR Certified Decorative Light Strings	75%
Clothes Washers	25%	33%
Dishwashers	*	**
Dehumidifiers	15%
WaterSense Products - Showerheads		17%

* Costs about $35 per year to run.
  Can save an average 3,870 gallons of water over its lifetime.
