Village approves PID assessment for Sanctuary

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Following a public hearing on the matter, Village aldermen April 4 approved an assessment roll for the Sanctuary East Public Improvement District and levying assessments against property within Improvement Area #1 of the District.

The PID financing ordinance was approved unanimously on a motion by Paul Cox that received a second from Jasen Graham.

The value of improvements to be financed by the PID assessment is $5.5 million for Area 1.

The total assessment for Lot Type 1 is $31,549.99. A 30-year payout will have an annual assessment of approximately $2,400. Over the life of a 30-year assessment, a total of $71,903.00 will be paid.

The total assessment for Lot Type 2 is $34,507.80. A 30-year payout will have an annual assessment of approximately $2,620.00. Over the life of a 30-year assessment, a total of $78,643.91 will be paid.

The total assessment for Lot Type 3 is $38,287.33. A 30-year payout will have an annual assessment of approximately $2,900. Over the life of a 30-year assessment, a total of $87,257.29 will be paid for Lot type 3 properties.

The total annual assessment for properties in the PID is more than $419,000.

According to the PID attorney, for properties that have not been sold, the developer will be accountable for the annual assessments.

In other business, aldermen unanimously approved a Conditional Use Permit to Correcaminos Tejas LLC Provecho Tejas to allow for mixed beverage sales on property at 109 Royal St.

within the Historic District.

Aldermen also approved a Conditional Use Permit for an accessory building identified as a pool house at 730 Baines St.

Aldermen also issued conditional approval on the public improvements of Drakes Landing Phase II with the stipulation that the developer enter into a 10% maintenance bond, sidewalks will be constructed by the builders and street lights will be installed by Oncor. The approval came on a motion by Jasen Graham receiving a second from Bert Henry.

Aldermen approved a motion by Bert Henry receiving a second by Jasen Graham declaring March 29 to be annual Vietnam War Veteran's Day. The last combat troops left Vietnam March 29, 1973.

Aldermen approved a motion by Rodney Bell (second by Henry) for an Advanced Funding Agreement for the Royal Street between Main St. and Smith Branch Rd. rehabilitation project. The total cost of the project is $2,241,750. The Federal funds for the project are $1,680,000. State funds for the project are $99,750. Village $462,000.

On a motion by Rodney Bell and second by Paul Cox, aldermen approved the release of a 125.003 acre tract of land from the Extra Territorial Jurisdiction of the Village. The property is located at FM 2268 and connects to I-35 service road south of Bloomer Trailer manufacturing.

It took three motions with Mayor Michael Coggin casting the deciding vote to approve the consent agenda, which included minutes of the previous meeting and the appointment of Lynette McCain Jones and Glen Bowen to the Tourism Advisory board.

American economy is charging ahead

The Markets

The good old S&P 500 Stock Index (SPX) managed to pull most of the fat out of the fire for the first week in the second quarter, closing at 5204.34, down 0.95% after being further down in the dumps following a sheaf of good economic news. A series of reports indicating that the U.S. economy is doing well and far better than economists expected this year set the traders back who were hoping for some bad news that would encourage the Fed to cut rates sooner rather than later. We are of the opinion that good news is good, but we seem to be in small minority. That decline leaves the SPX up about 9.11% this year, and almost 27% since this time last year. As we have seen consistently, the total three-year gains in the Index are about the same as the one-year return. The CRSP US Mid-Cap Value Index, our other followed market indicator, ended the week at 2651.58, having dropped 1.6%. It is up 5.44% this year and about 16% in the last twelve months.

The benchmark ten-year U.S. Treasury note wound up the week with a yield of 4.39%, its highest yield since November of last year as the 20-year bond yield rose to 4.65%. The highest yields remained in the very shortest maturity bills with, as usual, the 2-month maturity bill paying an annualized rate of 5.50%. West Texas Intermediate crude oil (WTI) slid upward all week to $86.71 per barrel, once more driven higher by an expanding U.S. economy.

The Economy

Some weeks there is so little economic news that economists and economic writers have little to read. Other weeks the data come pouring in like a tsunami. This week was one of the latter. The Bureau of Labor Statistics reported on Friday that U.S. employers added a seasonally adjusted 303,000 jobs in March, net of layoffs, quits, and the like. Considering that the American economy needs to only add about 150,000 per month to remain static, that it doubled that number

Market & Economic Update

by Jeffrey W. McClure

is not a small thing. The unemployment rate declined from last month's 3.9% to 3.8% while hourly earnings rose 4.1% from a year ago. As we have mentioned before, the key to understanding how the unemployment rate could remain less than 4% while employees are being hired in mass, is an immigration-based growth rate in our national labor force. This has happened before, notably in the mid-1920s when masses of immigrants poured into the United States, mainly from eastern and southern Europe. Despite the unexpectedly high number of new hires, there are still about 8.8 million unfilled job openings in the nation. Many of the new employees are working in healthcare and hospitality, where about half of all newly filled jobs were so far this year. That news reinforces Goldman Sachs' announcement that one of the prime reasons we are not in a recession while the rest of the world is either in one or nearly so has been our relatively high immigration numbers.

Despite the robust economic growth over the last sixteen months, the manufacturing sector has been slipping. That reversed in March as the Institute for Supply Management (ISM) manufacturing index rose from 47.8 to 50.3 on a scale where numbers at 50 or above equate to expansion. The change in direction appears to have been driven by production increases and is being reinforced by expanding new orders. Meanwhile the ISM non-manufacturing index fell to 51.4 from last month's 52.7. While that is still an indication that economic expansion is underway, it has now fallen to a level that is historically sustainable.

All that good news was, of course, reported as bad news by some news media companies who have a lot riding on the economy doing badly or are fearful that the Federal Reserve will not cut interest rates soon. Many commentators continue to insist that the Fed will make three or even four interest rate cuts soon, but Fed Governor Bostik warned that he believes there will be no interest rate cuts before the fourth quarter.

The theme in the American economy remains solidly different from anything we have seen in the past half century or more. Interest-rate sensitive sectors remain in a slump while the services sector, which is 80% of our economy, is still growing strongly. Corporate America appears to be doing well, particularly in those companies that have publicly traded shares. The Philadelphia Fed's Survey of Professional Forecasters indicates a consensus of a 3.8% growth in GDP for 2024, while equity analysts appear to agree that average public company earnings will rise about 11.5%. Despite the clear evidence of expansion, including average wages being up about 4.1% from a year ago, many consumers report they believe we are in a recession. Despite the near record low unemployment levels, and increases in wages, and orders, the belief persists. It also appears that what a person believes is happening in the economy is highly dependent on how they get their news. Generally speaking, those who depend on politically focused television sources believe we are in bad shape, while those who read the news, either in newspapers, or online, have a much more realistic and optimistic view of our current economic situation.

We are pleased to report once again that the American economy is charging ahead at or even a little ahead of its long-term capacity. It just doesn't get much better than this.

Colorblindness is America's most transgressive idea

Writer Coleman Hughes went on "The View" and was greeted almost as though he had shown up wearing a white hood.

Hughes, a soft-spoken black intellectual who is a political independent, was talking about his new book, "The End of Race Politics: Arguments for a Colorblind America."

Once upon a time, colorblindness was an uncontroversial idea. It was considered a core American ideal and worth aspiring to, even if we were failing to live up to it. In recent decades, though, it has run into a buzz-saw of opposition. It clashes with the Left's near-theological commitment to racial preferences, especially on college campuses, and with fashionable new forms of left-wing racialism.

So it is naive, out-of-date, and, worse, even a tool of oppression used by sneaky racists to hide their malignant designs in lofty rhetoric. This was the attitude of co-host Sunny Hostin when Hughes showed up on set. She declared that colorblindness has been "co-opted" by conservatives and that the widely respected Hughes is a "charlatan." For the offense, mind you, of arguing that people should be treated equally regardless of their race.

Thoughtless even by the standards of a panelist of "The View," Hostin was easily outmatched by Hughes, who pushed back without getting flustered or raising his voice. He even won occasional applause from the studio audience for ideas that still, despite all that has been done to belittle them, have strong common-sense appeal in America.

As Coleman notes in his book, a devotion to col-orblindness runs through some of the most honored writers and activists in American history, the likes of Frederick Douglass, Wendell Phillips, Zora Neale Hurston, A. Philip Randolph, Bayard Rustin and, of course, Martin Luther King Jr.

Rich Lowry

The Left always wants to retroactively enlist MLK for woke racial causes and thinking, but Hughes convincingly locates the great civil rights leader firmly within the colorblind tradition.

In a statement that might now earn him an unfriendly reception on college campuses (or on the set of "The View"), King maintained, "Black supremacy is as dangerous as white supremacy, and God is not interested merely in the freedom of black men and brown men and yellow men. God is interested in the freedom of the whole human race."

Such a majestic belief in what unites us as persons and Americans can only scandalize today's so-called "anti-racists," whom Hughes deems, more accurately, "neo-racists." They have much in common with the white supremacists that they array themselves against. "They both deny our common humanity," Hughes writes. "They both deny that all races are created equal. They both agree that some races are superior to others, and they both agree that not all people deserve to be treated equally in society."

The neo-racist project is nonetheless ascendant in America's elite institutions, and a narrative of racial conflict has gained more traction in recent years. Hughes attributes the sense of worsening race relations since 2013 to the rise of social media and the accelerated spread of racially charged false stories and myths. We've talked, and clicked, our way into believing we are in a state of racial crisis.

The neo-racists fan the dissension by attributing any racial disparity in America to racism and ignoring the influence of demographics, geography and especially culture. They disregard, or disparage, all the indicators of racial progress, which are inconvenient to their simplistic condemnations of American society as fundamentally and irredeemably racist.

For Hughes, the alternatives are "a grim world in which whites and non-white eternally swap the roles of the oppressor and the oppressed," or a world where we "recommit ourselves to the principles that motivated the civil rights movement." This wouldn't seem a difficult choice. Yet, the very notion of colorblindness is now anathema to much of progressive America. Sunny Hostin is sadly representative in her reflexive hostility to the belief that we should -- and can -- treat one another without regard to race. So much the worse for her.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Would you, Salado Villagers, ever build a million dollar plus home on someone else's property? We cannot imagine ever doing that... however, our Mayor and BOA is fine with doing this very things using the taxpayers' money from the sale of the current Village office AND the Salado Police station building. Along with taking out a large commercial loan (to be paid with taxpayer monies).

The proposed new 6,200 SF building, with seven bathrooms, would include both the Village office and the police station. We agree that a new police station, with an area to service police cars and equipment, is needed. We doubt our Village, which currently has 4 office workers, is in need of a new building, however. It is rarely filled with people. It would be entirely possible, on the existing land, to demolish the current police building and build a new two-story police station... maybe even one with a parking garage below. A rooftop billboard, advertising to IH-35 traffic Village events, could save us over half a million over the next 10 years AND better market our business district.

The Bell County Health Department was contacted concerning whether or not the existing Event Dr. septic system would even support the new 6,200 sq. ft./seven bathroom Village building. The Director told this writer that it had not YET been evaluated, so why is our Mayor and BOA continuing to spend tax dollars on engineering and architecture fees for that specific site? If the plan is to extend our existing sewer to the Bell County building, then tell us the price that us taxpayers will have to fork out for that, too... instead of repairing our roads? There are other options for building sites that ARE in town. I guess that when it's other people's money. There is no concern for due diligence.

Sincerely,
Michael and Darlene Walsh

Temple Masons honor Saladoan with Community Builder award

King Solomon Masonic Lodge #1427 of Temple, presented Salado resident John C. Perry with its 2024 Community Builder award. The award was presented to Perry in the lodge room April 1.

Perry has been very active in the Temple-Belton community. He served for many years in various volunteer capacities with the Temple Chamber of Commerce, including serving on the Board and serving as Board Chairman. He also was active in service organizations including the Optimist Club, serving as its president, and Temple Rotary South after the Optimist Club disbanded. He served on the Railroad & Heritage Museum board and served as its Treasurer. He has been a volunteer at the Body of Christ Community Clinic for 11 years, serving on its Board and its chairman for three years. He currently serves on their Executive Committee. He restarted the Temple chapter (called camps) of the Sons of Confederate Veterans and served as its first commander. He also has served as the Texas Division Commander and as the Army of the Trans-Mississippi commander. He is the author of four books on Civil War related history. He was one of the founders of the New Life Methodist Church in Salado and currently serves as the church's Lay Leader and Treasurer.

The Community Builder Award has been designed to enable a Lodge to recognize outstanding non-Masons who have distinguished themselves through their service to the community, to the local, state or national government, to their Church or Synagogue, or humanity. Thus, the award will be made available to be presented to individuals who, although they have never been initiated into Masonry, have followed the same precepts, ideals and standards that have been established for Masonic behavior.

"Every community has individuals who have earned the Community Builder Award over and over again," stated Doug Stephen, master of King Solomon Lodge #1427. "We may find them in service clubs, in the public schools' system, in religious activities, in public office, in military or patriotic organizations, in all sorts of volunteer work, everywhere we look but often do not see."

King Solomon #1427 meets at 7:30 p.m. on the second Monday of each month in the Temple Masonic Center, 16 W. Central

Ave. in Temple. The Lodge was chartered in 1921 by the Grand Lodge of Texas AF&AM

RE-ELECT MICHAEL COGGIN FOR MAYOR

We are pleased to support Michael Coggin for Mayor of Salado. A long-time resident of Salado, Mike is running for his third term as Mayor. He is a man of integrity who works on behalf of all the citizens of Salado. Mike's personal faith injects a moral compass into all his decisions and we can attest to his good character.

Mike's career as an engineer enables him to apply analytical reasoning and risk assessment to issues brought before the Board of Aldermen. As mayor, he has effectively dealt with the changing dynamics caused by growth in Salado. Mike understands the importance of Salado's historic identity and the value it brings to the community and strives to protect and preserve our historic district. He is a strong proponent of Salado's:

- Businesses
- Chamber of Commerce and community organizations
- Arts and music community
- Native Plants Society and its recommendations to use native plants and grasses in Salado.

We believe that Mike Coggin is by far the most qualified mayoral candidate and confidently support his re-election as Mayor of Salado.

Salado Museum exhibit April 12-May 10

Vaquero: Genesis of the Texas Cowboy

“He piled his chaps on his saddle and we sat down. For how long, I wanted to know, had he been a vaquero. For a time of twenty years, he told me, from the age of six years.

Your father also? I asked.
Si. Un vaquero.
And your grandfather?
Un vaquero.

There was a silence. Vaqueros siempre.

Vaqueros always, he said finally. Desde el comienzo. Since the beginning.”

— Bill Wittliff, Mexico, 1972.

In the early 1970s, noted Texas historian Joe Frantz offered Bill Wittliff a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity—to visit a ranch in northern Mexico where the vaqueros still worked cattle in traditional ways. Wittliff photographed the vaqueros as they went about daily chores that had changed little since the first Mexican cowherders learned to work cattle from a horse’s back. Wittliff captured a way of life that now exists only in memory and in the photographs included in this exhibition.

Vaquero: Genesis of the Texas Cowboy features photographs with bilingual narrative text that reveal the muscle, sweat, and drama that went into roping a calf in thick brush or breaking a wild horse in the saddle. This exhibition is available in wall-hanging and abridged freestanding versions.

The traveling exhibit will be at the Salado Museum, 423 S. Main St. April 12 through May 25, with viewing open Mondays through Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. There is no charge to view the exhibit but donations are welcomed at the door.

Vaquero is an exhibition produced by the Wittliff Collections, Texas State University, presented in partnership with Humanities Texas, the state affiliate for the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Vaquero is made possible in part by a We the People grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Lady Eagles beat Life Waxahachie in Region I Final

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Salado Lady Eagles are making their third trip to the 4A State soccer tournament after they beat Life Waxahachie 2-1 in the Region 1-4A Championship earlier today.

Salado took an early lead when Izzy Blancaflor took Shelby Hollywood's pass from the right side and headed it into the goal with 33:50 left in the first half.

Shortly after, Taylor Dabney made a save on a Life Waxahachie shot with 31:00 left in the first.

A minute later, Lexi Rice threatened to score for Salado, but was called for a foul in the Life Waxahachie penalty box instead.

Five minutes after that, Shelby Hollywood booted a shot at an empty goal from 25 yards away, but the gusting winds pushed it left of the mark.

Dabney made her second save of the first half with 21:30 left. Two minutes later, Life Waxahachie missed a shot.

Hollywood set up right of the goal with an attempt to pass to Blancaflor as she did earlier in the half, but the pass went over Blancaflor's head to turn the ball over with 13:40 left in the half.

With 5:00 left in the first half, Sydney Lange missed a shot at goal for Salado and the Lady Eagles carried a 1-0 lead into the half.

It didn't take long for the Lady Eagles to extend their lead as Hollywood took an assist from Sydney Lange to put Salado up 2-0 with 32 minutes in regulation.

About a minute later, Lange needed between defenders for a shot that was taken away by a foul against Salado.

Skylar Gardner had a booming free kick from 25 yards out that hit the crossbar, denying Salado once more with 27 minutes left in regulation.

Kenadi Smith's shot went just left of the goal with 15:20 on the clock.

Life Waxahachie's Zanae Nylund's shot went just beyond the outstretched arms of Cambry Edmondson to close the score to 2-1 with 13:00 left in regulation.

Wheaton made another save, this time on Hollywood's shot with 11:17 left to play.

A few seconds later, Smith took her next shot on goal, but Nylund was again there to keep the score within reach.

Life Waxahachie threatened to tie with 2:30 left to play but Nia Ruiz kicked the ball over the crossbar.

With 50 seconds left in regulation, Life Waxahachie defended a corner kick by Salado, but could not advance the ball, giving Salado its one-point win.

Lady Eagles shut out Wichita Falls 4-0 in semi

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Shelby Hollywood put a pass from Izzy Blancaflor into the back of the net with 13:22 left in the first half and it was all the Salado Lady Eagles needed to win the Region 1-4A Semi-final April 5 at Northwest ISD.

But the Lady Eagles -- and Izzy Blancaflor for that matter -- were not done as they added three more goals in the second half to beat Wichita Falls 4-0.

The Lady Eagles face Waxahachie Life in the Region final 10 a.m. April 6. Waxahachie Life beat San Elizario in the semi-final round.

This is the second straight year for the Lady Eagles to get to the finals in Region 1.

The Lady Eagles had a goal by Blancaflor scraped from the board for an off-sides call seven minutes into play. Four minutes later, Wichita Falls had a goal wiped out for the same call.

The Lady Eagles were on their heels for most of the first half as Wichita Falls attacked the goal nine times. Taylor Dabney made three saves while the Lady Coyotes missed six shots at goal.

On the other hand, Salado had just three shots on goal, missing one. Coyote goalkeeper Priscilla Torres made a save in the first half.

The Lady Eagles dominated the second half.

Wichita Falls missed three shots early in the first 13 minutes of second half and the Lady Eagles defended against a corner kick with 34:15 left in the match.

With 26:51 left to play, Lady Eagle goalkeeper Cambry Edmondson made the second of four saves (on another corner kick) to keep the Lady Coyotes scoreless.

Torres made a save against a shot by Hollywood with 22:40 left in the match, but three minutes later, Sydney Lange fed Blancaflor the ball for the second goal of the match with 19:41 left on the board.

Four minutes later, Blancaflor put a pass from Hollywood into the net for a 3-0 lead and the writing was on the wall to put an end to Wichita Fall's season.

The final goal came on a booming kick from 10 yards beyond the penalty box by Emily Lemus with 5:23 left to play.

Edmondson made her final save of the match with 38 ticks left on the clock to keep the shut out in tact for Salado.
