With heavy dirt moving equipment as a backdrop, Salado ISD broke ground July 29 on the 250,000 sq. ft. high school on Williams Rd.

Dirt work on the project has already begun and the new high school will be ready for occupancy for the 2026-27 school year, according to Dr. Michael Novotny, who welcomed a crowd of more than 50 for the short ceremony.

Dr. Brad Buckley, state representative for District 54, told the crowd that “Salado ISD has incredible student outcomes,” which is why people are choosing to move their families here.

In addition to strong academics, Salado has “outstanding extra curricular programs.”

“The facilities we are breaking ground on today will reflect the high quality of work that is being done in the classrooms.”

Dr. Novotny told the crowd that the ground breaking was a result of work by the facilities planning committee during the 2022-23 school year that resulted in a Nov. 2023 election in which voters approved two bond proposals totaling $270,450,000.

Proposition A was $235,960,000 of bonds by the SISD for a new high school; renovations at Thomas Arnold Elementary School; re-purpose existing high school for an intermediate school; information technology infrastructure and HVAC replacements.

Proposition B was $34,490,000 of bonds by the SISD for a new stadium complex.

The new high school and stadium complex are expected to open for the 2026-27 school year.

Work will then begin on the current high school.

Food drive nets 1,809.5 lbs., $1,652 for Heart and Hands

Brookshire Brothers had a food drive July 19-21 to benefit Heart and Hands Ministries.

“Thank you Village of Salado for turning out and blessing your neighbors in need by contributing so very much,” said Pat Scarborough, director of the local food pantry.

Heart and Hands Ministries received 1,809.50 pounds of food during the three-day drive. The food bank also received more than $1,652 in donations.

“Brookshire Brothers wanted to help more than once a year (they also sponsor the Food for Families Food Drive in November),” Scarborough said. Cindy Gregoire organized the promotional support and worked with closely with Jason Noske to organize the weekend-long food drive. They are both extremely giving to our community!”

Each month, the Food Pantry is distributing food to 120 units, amounting to 4,800 pounds of food each month.

“We are humbled and overwhelmed at this goodness to our ministry,” she said.

The food pantry was alive with volunteers on July 22 sorting and shelving all this food.

“Because of this increased need for food, we have had to disband the Clothes Closet to allow more storage space for food,” Scarborough said.

The added space “allows us to purchase more frugally in larger quantities,” she said. “Thank you, Salado, for your generosity!”

Written by the late Jackie Mills and chosen by the Library of Congress to serve as a record of American life in the mid 1800’s. It is the story of Scottish settlers, Tonkawa Indians, and Spanish explorers as they cross paths in the heart of Texas.

Indian legends, frontier life and war are interwoven throughout the play along with a touching love story, delightful music, and dance. History truly comes to life as you watch the McDougal family navigate their changing world as the Civil War gets underway, the love interest between the young students at Salado College unfold and the Tonkawa Indian legend of Sirena is told in vivid detail. It is all the action you expect from an iconic frontier story.

This year’s cast includes Jack Cabannis as Scottish immigrant Andrew McIver coming to Salado to go to the Athens of Texas, Salado College. His love interest is the lovely Cadence Avila as Lucy McDougal. Newcomer Hank Hearn is playing the mischievous McDougall son, Douglas. Cam McDougal is played by Cody Chi-

The Tonkawa tribe includes Max Ogas as the chief, Georgio Graf as the Chief’s son and friend to both Cam and Andrew, Other members of the tribe include Hannah Montgomery, Lily Hernandez-Ogas, Brandon Dugger, Daisy Klassy Dugger, and our youngest cast member Kimberly Elva Dugger, Marc Vacarro, and Ty Ramstedt.

The Culture Ladies this year are played by Marcia Chiarelli, Amber Muniz, and Gabby Vacarro. Howard Horton continues to play Sam Houston. Miss Texas will be played by Megan Daniell and her sister Bonnie Belle will be played by Megan Combs. Comedic Cowboys Troy Thedford and David Demaree are returning this year to enliven the pre-show and the numerous scenes in the play. Playing

US economy grew at 2.8% in second quarter

The Markets
Our dearly beloved, if sometimes befuddled, old Standard and Poor's 500 Stock Index (SPX) had a bit of a hard time this week as the mighty, magnificent 5 AI-related stocks continued to descend back to reality from their recent stratospheric highs. The NASDAQ, where those Large-Growth AI Stocks are truly the drivers, had its worst day since 2022 on Wednesday as it fell 3.6%, led by Tesla and Nvidia. The SPX declined 0.83% to 5459.10, a bit of a let-down after last week's 5505.00 record, but it is still up 14.45% year-to-date, 19.54% from last year at this time, and is up 23.44% from three years ago. To once more put that in perspective, for the last three years, the SPX has had an average annual growth of 7.27%, but inflation has run along at about 4.97% for the same period, leaving the Index with a net compound price gain of about 2.3% per year. To be completely transparent about that rate, we do have to include that dividends have averaged between 1.24% and 1.78% over that period, so the total for someone reinvesting those dividends would have been about 3.7% per year after subtracting inflation. The other index we follow, the CRSP US Mid-Cap Value Index, rose 1.23% for the week to close at 2727.98. What we are seeing is what is known as a "market rotation" as the large, well-known, AI-related, growth stocks are being sold, and investors are buying into mid and smaller-sized "value" stocks, driven more by their current earnings rather than the hope and speculation that has been the motivation to buy the large-cap growth stocks that have recently dominated the market. This is a healthy sign in a bull market that it may well have room to run.

On the other side of the markets where debt is the prime subject of interest, the benchmark 10-year U.S. Treasury note ended the week with a yield of 4.20%, down just a bit

Market & Economic Update

by Jeffrey W. McClure

from last week but much higher than the 3.88% yield we saw as the year began or the 3.86% a year ago, and a lot higher than the 1.29% yield of three years ago. The Treasury yield curve remains severely inverted, with one- and two-month Treasury bills still providing an annualized yield of around 5.5%. The price for West Texas Intermediate crude oil (WTI) slipped backward about 4% to $76.82 per barrel.

The Economy
There were two big news stories for the week of July 26. First, our beloved Bureau of Economic Analysis (BEA) announced that the U.S. economy grew at a very surprising annualized rate of 2.8% in the second quarter. The consensus forecasts among economists were around 1.25% to 1.4%. That report becomes even more impressive when measured in "current dollars" unadjusted for inflation, showing the U.S. economy growing at a whopping 5.2% annualized rate. Looking beneath the surface, there were even more surprises. Both the sales of goods and services were up substantially. The other pleasant surprise from the BEA was that the Personal Consumption Expenditure (PCE) price index only rose 0.1% from last month, with goods declining by 0.2% while services prices increased by 0.2%. One year ago, the PCE price index increased 2.6% from the same month. At the same time, personal savings held steady at 3.4%.

What does all of that mean? In short, the U.S. economy appears to be growing roughly twice as fast as was generally expected or forecast while inflation continues to decline. Unemployment remains around 4%, generally considered to be the definition of "full employment." Consumers, the foundation of our economy, continue spending healthily. That ability to keep spending is founded on an average annualized wage growth reported by the BEA to have averaged about 3.6% per year over the last five months. Meanwhile, worker productivity also continues to grow, which looks more and more like a solid long-term trend.

All that good news comes from the past, so what about the future? Moody's Economics reported that if we exclude the volatile transportation sector, new orders for durable goods picked up strongly in the second quarter and were broad-based, with primary metals, machinery, and computer/electronics posting solid gains. As we have written before, durable goods orders are an excellent predictor of how the economy will be faring over the next two quarters or so, as they are long-term investments. One of the most reliable indicators of an incipient recession is a substantial reduction in that area, just as one of the most reliable indicators of more growth is a rise in durable goods orders. Additionally, a substantial part of that surprisingly high second-quarter GDP number came from "investment," defined as money being spent on improvements in real estate and equipment. The one sour note for the week was that house sales continue to decline even as new records are being broken for average house prices.

Once more, the bottom line appears to be that we are enjoying the best of times, with sufficient economic growth to keep most people who want to work employed and wages increasing faster than inflation. To paraphrase the old beer commercial, "It just don't get much better than this."

Thank you, Mr. President

To the Editor:

I watched as Joe Biden took the oath of office to the presidency on Wednesday, January 20, 2021. ("It was the best of times; it was the worst of times") I have followed the progress or lack of progress for these 3-1/2 years. To me, President Biden kept his promise and his vision to make the USA a better home for all its people and I'll add not at the expense of other peoples in our shrinking globe. The die is cast, he will not return to office after his full one term is served. So, we move on and wait. I hope that this letter is printed so I can send a copy to the current occupant of the White House.

Thank you, Mr. President: I won't even try to list the positive influence you have had on this nation, but I will mention COVID-19 and the clear and unobstructed vision you and your staff had in defeating this giant killer of mankind. I will mention the border and your effort to bring law and order to that on-going problem while remembering those are human beings, not cattle.

Good luck and may God continue to bless you and your family

Housing First won't solve the homeless crisis

By MIKE COFFMAN

More than 650,000 Americans experienced homelessness on any given night in 2023 -- a 12% increase since 2022. Chronic homelessness is also worsening, with over 143,000 people homeless for at least a year in 2023 -- an all-time high.

I've been the mayor of Aurora, Colorado for five years. In my first term, I went undercover and lived among people experiencing homelessness in Aurora and Denver for a week. I wanted to understand why Colorado's homeless community was growing and how my city could best help.

The leading policy approach to homelessness, and the one that attracts the lion's share of government funding, is "Housing First." Essentially, it prioritizes placing individuals into permanent housing as quickly as possible without addressing other issues like untreated mental illness or drug addiction.

No one can doubt the sincerity of "Housing First" advocates. But its proponents have been seduced by an illusory "silver bullet."

After spending time in encampments, it became clear that solving homelessness won't have a one-size-fits-all solution. Many individuals were battling addiction and had little chance of holding down a job. Others dealt with mental health challenges.

That's why a broader approach is necessary.

In its worst iteration, Housing First is a no-strings-attached approach. Beneficiaries receive housing and don't need to attend job training programs or agree to a sober lifestyle. It's a well-intentioned approach, but it simply isn't working.

Since 2019, California has spent $24 billion on homelessness programs, even mandating all state-funded programs to adopt the Housing First model. Yet chronic homelessness in the state keeps climbing.

In Utah, Housing First has been the de-facto approach since 2005. Yet from 2017 to 2022, the number of chronically homeless skyrocketed 328%.

Despite these failures, Housing First remains the priority for federal and state funding.

This preferential treatment stunts programs that address underlying causes of homelessness. One study showed that over 60% of chronically homeless individuals reported drug or alcohol abuse.

Yet there is hope.

Step Denver provides free housing, addiction recovery programs and peer recovery support for hundreds of men each year. The program includes career counseling, twelve-step meetings and life skills classes. After leaving, 84% find a full-time job and 80% report sustained sobriety.

The Chapman Partnership in Miami creates an individualized Housing Stability Plan for each client who seeks housing, providing workforce development programs, social services and long-term housing opportunities. They've achieved an 80% outplacement rate.

In Phoenix, the nonprofit St. Joseph the Worker provides transitional housing and financial literacy resources for clients who work full-time but are at risk of homelessness. Since the program began, around 250 clients have moved on to permanent independent housing.

Aurora is following suit and launching a Navigation Campus as early as next year. The center will provide mental health services, recovery programs, health care and workforce development. Emergency shelter will be available to anyone who needs it, but long-term private housing will be reserved for clients who seek employment and engage with a case manager.

Aurora is taking action to invest in people and establish the infrastructure needed to have a lasting impact. I hope it can serve as a model for cities nationwide.

MIKE COFFMAN IS THE MAYOR OF AURORA, COLORADO.

They had two children, one son; Michael Chris Fulford, of Temple and one daughter, Lisa Michelle Laird, of Salado.

He was a Marine Corps Veteran, a retired auto mechanic and a tow truck driver.

He is survived by his wife Marjorie Sue Smale Fulford, of Killeen, his son, Michael Chris Fulford, his daughter Lisa Michelle Laird and her husband Roger, three grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

A memorial service will be held 2 p.m. Aug. 3 at 3C Cowboy Fellowship in Salado. Burial of his remains will follow the memorial service with Military Honors at Salado Cemetery.

The Bell County Museum presents a lecture presentation and Pinning Ceremony honoring Vietnam War veterans 6-8 p.m. Aug. 8.

The special evening features a pinning ceremony by the Association of the United States Army and a presentation titled "The Vietnam Veteran: A Long Overdue Thank You" by First Gentleman of Baylor University.

The event is held in conjunction with Bell County Museum's newest exhibit "The Vietnam Experience" which features artwork by Naval Artists on the ground during the Vietnam War (courtesy Naval History and Heritage Command). The exhibit also features artifacts and stories from Vietnam Veterans from Bell County. Admission is free. Baylor University First Gentleman Brad Livingstone has dedicated his professional career to secondary education. Brad and Linda Livingstone met at Oklahoma State University, where both played Division I basketball and were involved in Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

A native of Okmulgee, Oklahoma, Brad was a three-year letterwinner at Oklahoma State and toured Europe in 1983 as a member of an Athletes in Action basketball team, sharing the gospel and building bridges between cultures.

Brad earned a bachelor's degree in business management and a master's degree in education from Oklahoma State. He currently serves as a history teacher at Vanguard College Preparatory School, where he also taught in the 1990s and early 2000s when the Livingstones first lived in Waco. In fact, our current Bell County Museum Executive Director, Mr. Coleman Hampton, was one of Brad's star students back in the early 2000's. Brad and Linda moved to Malibu, California where he taught history for 12 years at Oaks Christian School in Westlake Village, California and then moved to Washington, D.C. where he was a High School Principal, Dean of Students and history teacher at Trinity Christian School in Fairfax, Virginia. Linda and Brad moved back to Waco in 2017 when Linda was named President of Baylor and Brad started teaching again on a part-time basis at Vanguard College Preparatory School.

One of Brad's academic passions is the study of the Vietnam War and World War II. At each stop in his career in education he has taught a class on the subject in which veterans visit the classroom to share their stories with students. He started the course well over 30 years ago at Vanguard, and he's taken it with him to Southern California and to D.C. Although very few WWII Veterans are still with us today, Brad has had hundreds of WWII Veterans in his classroom over the decades sharing their amazing and unforgettable stories with his students. He is currently in the process of writing a book on 25 of these WWII Veterans.

New Life Methodist Church services move to Salado Middle School on Aug. 4

New Life Methodist Church of Salado, beginning Aug. 4, will be gathering at a new location: Salado Middle School, 1169 Williams Rd.

"This move marks a significant milestone in our journey of faith and growth," said church lay leader John C. Perry.

Sunday School and Bible Study will meet at 9 a.m.

The worship service will be led by Pastor Tom Lathem at 10 a.m.

Founded in Oct. 2022, New Life Methodist Church began to meet at the Salado Museum on South Main St.

"In 2023, we proudly joined the Global Methodist Church, becoming the only congregation of its kind in the Belton-Salado area," Perry said. "Our rapid growth has necessitated this move to a larger venue, directly across from the property we are acquiring for our future worship center."

"We are so very excited about our move! The Middle School will give us much more space to hold Sunday School classes for our youth," Lathem said. "We greatly appreciate the Salado Museum, and all that they have done for us, but we just needed additional room to accommodate our growth."

PASTOR TOM LATHEM

"This is exciting, our new meeting location puts us in immediate proximity to the property we are purchasing and where we will eventually build our new church," Perry said.

"As a proud member of the Global Methodist Church, New Life Methodist Church is committed to the mission of 'making disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly, and witness boldly,' Lathem said. "Guided by fervent prayers, faithful discernment, and a hopeful vision for the future, we are part of a Holy Spirit-inspired movement."

"Join us on this exciting new chapter as we continue to grow and serve our community with love and dedication," Perry said. "We look forward to welcoming you to our new home at Salado Middle School!"

The result is the new book by Bergfeldt: A Good Day to Die: What 276 Executions Taught a Death Row Chaplain About Life.

Bergfeldt is an award-winning, best-selling author, journalist, and one of the most popular TV hosts in Sweden.

Bergfeldt rose to prominence as a reporter at Aftonbladet, Sweden's biggest daily newspaper, and then went on to become the US correspondent for SVT, Sweden's public service broadcaster.

The Lone Star FFA Degree is the highest degree bestowed by the Texas FFA.

The Lone Star FFA Degree recognizes FFA members who have received the Chapter degree, been active FFA members for at least two years, completed at least four semesters of agricultural science at or above the ninth grade level, maintained a supervised agricultural experience (SAE) program, demonstrated their leadership skills, and have shown a commitment to the FFA through involvement at the chapter level and above. Atchison, Burgos, Edwards, Lane, Rakowitz, and Sutton were six of more than 2,300 FFA members to receive this esteemed degree.

The 96th annual Texas FFA Convention recorded approximately 16,000 members and guests. Members of the state's largest agricultural youth leadership organization spent the week attending leadership workshops, participating in events and activities, being recognized for their achievements, and serving as the legislative body for the Texas FFA Association.

The Texas FFA is the nation's largest state FFA association with a membership of more than 177,000. FFA gives students the opportunity to apply practical classroom knowledge to real-world experiences through local, state and national competitions. SHS places 5th in UIL 2024 Lone Star Cup Salado finished in fifth place out of the 213 high schools in the 4A size classification in Texas in this year's Lone Star Cup competition. The UIL Lone Star Cup is awarded annually to six high schools, one in each of the six UIL classifications (1A, 2A, 3A, 4A, 5A and 6A), based on their team performance in district and state championships. The winning schools in each classification will receive the UIL Lone Star Cup trophy and a $1,000 scholarship. Honoring the best overall athletic and academic programs in Texas, the UIL Lone Star Cup is open to all UIL participant high schools.

Salado High School won the Lone Star Cup in 2008, 2013, and 2014 when we were in the 2A UIL size classification. Of the 1,391 high schools in Texas, only 48 of them have ever won a Lone Star Cup and only 13 of them have won more Lone Star Cups than Salado High School.

We are one of the smaller 4A high schools as we have 721 students at the high school level and the 4A size classification ranges from high school enrollments

Superintendent's Corner

- Decatur = 1,163 students
- Canyon = 1,095 students
- Canyon Randall = 1,084 students

Happy Belated Birthday, Hulda Horton!

Hulda was born Hulda Margaret Sanders on July 29, 1929 in Memphis, Texas.

She graduated from high school in Clifton, Texas in 1947. She married M.D. (Donnie) Horton in Temple in 1949. In 1964, they bought a "lot" in Mill Creek to golf on the new golf course. In 1977, they built their home and moved to Salado. They were avid golfers until he passed in 1990. She was the first women's champion of Mill Creek. Hulda gave up golf after becoming a widow and started striving to serve Salado and others in any way she could. And at age 95, she is still at it! When she was secretary for the Salado Civic Center, a sign hung in her office: "If you don't know, ask Hulda!" She was a President of the Mill Creek Ladies Golf Association. Hulda was named Chamber Person of the Year and Chamber Hall of Fame, as well as the Stroll Parade Marshal. She volunteered several years at the Salado Art Fair and was twice the Chairman for the event. She was named Salado Historical Society Person of the Year and was presented with the Salado Masonic Lodge #296 Community Builder Award. Hulda is a member or a past board member of just about every organization in Salado, a list too long to enumerate here.

She even babysat Royce and Jenny Wiggin on Friday nights so Tim and Marilyn could cover Salado sports for Salado Village Voice!

As has become their custom, Steven and Mary Catherine Ervin took Hulda out for lunch and dessert for her birthday.

With her longtime friend Jane Wilmer now living in California, Mill Creek is need of a new Queen. We nominate Hulda!
