

22-hour walk Sept. 21-22 for suicide prevention

Every day, 22 veterans commit suicide. Members of high school and surrounding communities have seen their own suicide numbers rise in recent years.

To raise awareness, Salado High School Band is hosting a 22 Hour Walk for Suicide Prevention, starting at 4 p.m. Sept. 21 and ending at 2 p.m. Sept. 22.

A small ceremony will begin approximately 3 p.m. at Provecho, 109 Royal St. in Salado prior to the first wave of walkers. Mayor Bert Henry and other guests speak at the event.

A projector screen will continually present pictures of loved ones lost to suicide. If you like to have a picture of a loved one displayed, send it to saladobandboosters25@gmail.com.

Following the ceremony, band and community members will keep the American Flag walking for 22 hours straight. They will also have flags from all five branches of service available to honor Scan this QR code to support the 22-hour walk.

Posters along the route will educate people about suicide prevention. They will consist of graphs, statistics, foods to improve mood, and crisis hotline information.

For a $5 donation through Venmo, you can walk the two-mile walk for the hour as part of a group, or individually. You may also write a loved one or friend's name on a white bag. These bags will line the beginning of the path in remembrance of the battle some have lost.

Around sunset, band members will place glow sticks inside the bags to illuminate those names.

If you are not interested in walking, you may donate and one of the band members will walk in your place.

There will be flyers, cards and information on suicide prevention available throughout the walk.

The band will donate 10% of the proceeds to a Suicide Prevention Program of the Band Boosters choice in honor of the work these organizations do.

"As a community, we can come together and bring awareness to this growing epidemic," said Bunny Pierce.

To donate or sign up via Venmo, scan the QR code. If you are interested in participating, include your name, number in party and the timeslot you will walk in the notes of your Venmo payment. You can also note if you prefer a band member to walk in your place.

Village to amend budget to show $1.14 mil deficit

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Village aldermen will face some hard truths when they adopt the final amended 2023-24 budget at their 6:30 p.m. Sept. 19. Even though income is $294,473.70 higher than originally budgeted, expenses are $1 million more than originally budgeted, creating a $1.14 million deficit this year.

Income is higher because the Village took in $180,000 more in building permit fees and $143,173.70 more in property taxes than budgeted.

Driving the overage in expenses were the $394,000 in expenditures this year for the All Abilities Playground and $886,000.00 in street projects (most of which was funded by the American Rescue Plan).

As of Aug. 31, the Village has $805,272.33 in checking accounts and another $200,928.58 in receivables (sales tax, franchise fees, property tax and mixed beverage). The Village lists $221,072.98 due from the waste water operations fund and $13,684.27 from hotel motel fund to bring total current assets to $1.25 million.

The Village has $1.18 million in current liabilities, including $945,615.08 in development escrows.

In other business, aldermen will consider action on the following items:

- Support of the 22 hour walk for suicide prevention on Sept. 21-22.
- Close off part of Pace Park Rd. on Halloween 6-9 p.m. Oct. 31 for fifth annual Jack O'Lantern Blaze.
- Review, measures, collection of data and approval of application for Hotel Occupancy Tax funds.
- Digital billboard contract renewal.
- Ordinance to amend

Ordinance 2023-12-A to amend Ordinance 2023-12, which set a property tax rate of $0.39470 for the 2023-24 fiscal year.

Village administrator Manny De La Rosa, Police Chief Allen Fields and Tourism Marketing Manager Deanna Whitson will give reports.

The village will receive petitions for release from the Extra Territorial Jurisdiction from Salado Airport, LLC of approximately 49 acres in five tracts; and from Eagle Nest Holdings, LTD., Stephen M Clarke II individual and Stephen Monteith Clarke II Trust of 380.198 acres.

The village will authorize Sanctuary Development to post a cash performance bond of $130,952.35 for the Salado Sanctuary Phase 1B and authorize Village administrator to execute the performance agreement.

Village sees 16.5% uptick in Sept. sales tax rebate check

The Village of Salado is among the 10 Bell County cities to see an increase in sales tax rebates for September 2024, when compared to 2023.

The Village will receive $74,568.53 an increase of 16.49% compared to last September's payment of $64,007.61. For the year, The Village is running 6.65% over year-to-date payments in 2023: $665,500.05 compared to $623,970.04 through September 2023.

Rogers was the only Bell County city to show a decline in sales tax rebate in September. Sales tax rebates to Rogers were $13,060.78, compared to $43,090.07 in September 2023.

Several Bell County cities are running in the double digits ahead of last year-to-date, including Nolan-ville (17.04%), Little River Academy (14.72%), Holland (13.26%), Troy (13.01%), Morgans Point Resort (10.31%).

Bell County showed a 23.40% increase in sales tax revenues compared to the previous year. The County's September payment is $3.18 million, compared to $2.58 million last September.

The Village is one of three Bell County cities to levy a 1-cent sales tax, while seven other Bell County cities levy a 1.5 cent sales tax and Rogers levies a 1.25 cent sales tax.

The Salado Public Library District and Bell County each levy a half-cent sales tax.

For that half-cent tax, Salado Public Library District received a $67,152.57 September check, which

CPI rose by 0.2% in Aug., 2.5% in the last year, inflation is disappearing

The Markets

Our dear old familiar, if flawed, S&P 500 Stock Index (SPX) staged an impressive reversal of last week's sag, even topping it off on a Friday the 13th, rising 4.06% to 5626.02. That leaves the SPX 17.95% higher than it began this year and almost 26% higher than last year at this time. The other stock index we follow as it seems to provide a better indication of the mainstream market, the CRSP US Mid Cap Value Index, rose 2.60% for the week to 2824.82, is up 12.69% year-to-date, and over 21% higher than a year ago. On the bond side of the market, the benchmark ten-year U.S. Treasury note ended the week yielding 3.66%, about 1.6% lower than last week and almost 14% lower than last September. West Texas Intermediate crude oil (WTI) slipped upward 1.53% to $69.22 per barrel, about 21.6% lower than a year ago.

The Economy

There was no question about the headline economic news leader for the week. The Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) at the U.S. Labor Department (DOL) took the prize with the release of the August Consumer Price Index (CPI). The CPI rose by 0.2% in August and 2.5% during the last year, although the annual rate declined one-tenth of a percent from the previous month. Doom-sayer investors were spooked because the so-called "core" CPI, which excludes the often-volatile prices of food and fuel, rose 0.3% rather than last month's 0.2%. Since the reading rounded to the nearest tenth of a percent, that change could have been caused by a few hundredths of one percent shift, making the rise merely "noise" rather than a real change. The data continue to tell us that high inflation has been put to bed.

There are several relatively straightforward reasons why inflation is disappearing. First, inflation is either caused by too much money chasing too few items or a reduction in items available to buy while the money to buy them does not decline, or both. The consensus among economists is that the primary cause of the burst of inflation we experienced during and immediately following the COVID-19 pandemic was a shortage in goods available. At the same time, the U.S. economy did not slide into a severe recession, leaving demand close to constant, then growing. The source of that supply-side shortage can largely be traced to China, where the draconian measures to slow the spread of the pandemic effectively shut down supply chains for weeks at a time. The following goods surge overwhelmed transportation systems and took over a year to normalize. The supply contraction was compounded by Russia's invasion of Ukraine, cutting off some of the world's largest suppliers of grain and petroleum and causing food and fuel prices to soar. During the crisis, U.S. governmental and Federal Reserve actions kept the U.S. economy on a solid footing. Still, prices increased because our economy did not tank, keeping demand high while our suppliers were not adequately supplying. The Law of Supply and Demand remains immutable.

Market & Economic Update

Ironically, probably the most significant danger was that if rising prices appeared to go unchecked by actions by the Fed, the expectation of future high inflation could take hold, as it did in the 1970s, triggered by a supply-side shock, as OPEC reduced the oil supply. When that happens, rising prices spiral upward as employers raise wages to keep up with inflation, creating a rising demand that takes on a life of its own. The Fed seems to have learned from history, and we appear to have dodged a severe recession while bringing inflation down to acceptable levels.

Affirming that conclusion, the BLS also reported U.S. Producer Price Index (PPI) for final demand, a measure of wholesale prices being charged to retail establishments, only rose 1.7% from a year ago. At the intermediate level, further up the supply chain, the Core Prices are only up 2.1% from last year. Moving yet further up the supply chain, U.S. import prices declined by 0.3% in August, suggesting even lower price increases and perhaps even price decreases in the future. Again, a significant cause of lower inflation appears to be China, where deflation is setting in, resulting in lower export prices. For better or worse, much of what is manufactured across the planet is made in China. As we attempt to wean ourselves from China's labor force and demand falls there, accompanied by a speculative collapse in real estate, deflation is the natural result.

Meanwhile, here in the U.S., the question is no longer whether the Fed will lower rates at its September meeting but how much lower they will go in the short and long term. New unemployment claims essentially held steady, staying close to their moving average and giving no indication that businesses are shrinking their workforce. From our perspective, the U.S. economy remains solid, and the reductions in economic data measures are merely a return to sustainable growth.

Tax code rewards corporate price gouging, let's change that

By RAKEEN MABUD

We have to make one of the most important decisions about the future of our economy. Will we hand more power and wealth to big corporations and the rich — or invest in a healthy and resilient economy that works for all of us?

In 2017, Republican lawmakers passed tax loopholes and cuts that primarily benefited the wealthy and big corporations. President Trump signed these giveaways into law, spiking inequality and setting off a wave of corporate profiteering.

Next year, parts of that law will begin to expire, which gives us the opportunity to make changes.

For decades, both parties have created an economy where big corporations and the wealthy aren't pitching in like the rest of us. We've been sold a bill of goods known as "trickle down" economics. Trickle down goes like this: Feed the rich the best cut of meat and maybe we'll get a bit of gristle that falls on the floor — and we'll thank them for it.

The rich and most profitable corporations aren't just contributing less and less to our collective coffers. They're using their power to enrich themselves further while more of us struggle. Senator Elizabeth Warren recently described this as a "doom loop" for our tax code: the wealthy and corporations get richer from tax giveaways and then use their wealth and power to boost their profits — and then lobby for more tax cuts.

For example, the 2017 Trump tax cuts dropped the top corporate tax rate to 21 percent from 35 percent (compared to 40 percent in 1987). Supporters argued this would lead to better wages and supercharge economic growth. Instead, economic growth continued at about the same pace as before the tax breaks. And while 90 percent of workers did not see a raise, billionaire wealth has doubled.

In the same period in which corporations have enjoyed lower taxes, they've also raked in record profits. As my colleagues at Groundwork Collaborative have highlighted, lowering corporate tax rates actually incentivized corporate profiteering in the wake of the pandemic, as companies that overcharged us got to keep more of their winnings.

Trickle down theory says these windfall profits and lower taxes should encourage companies to invest more in workers and innovation. But in an economy run by big corporations with enormous market share, that money ends up being funneled to shareholders instead of increasing worker wages, investing in new or more productive technologies, or holding critical inventories in case of a crisis.

If we want corporations to invest more in wages and productive investments, we should raise their taxes, since wages and research are mostly tax deductible.

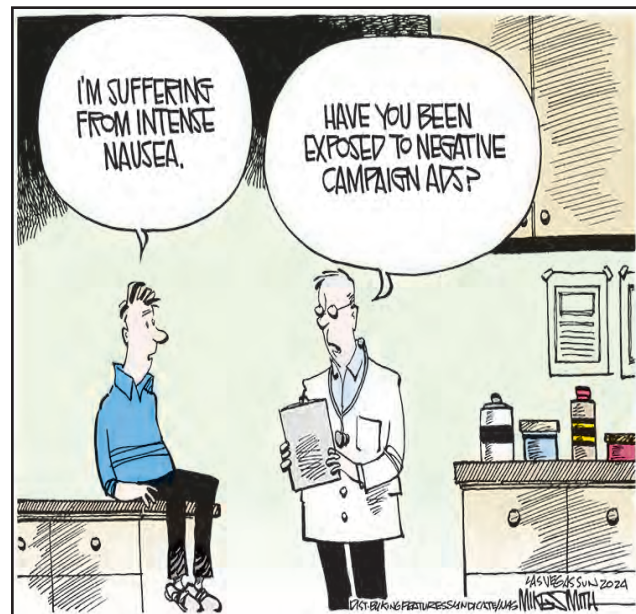

In other words, corporate profiteering is not a foregone conclusion. Raising corporate taxes has the potential to boost investment, productivity, and economic growth — and get Americans some of their money back.

The Biden administration has taken critical steps to push back against failed trickle down economics and corporate profiteering. It capped the price of essential drugs like insulin, empowered regulators to go after corporations abusing their market power, and made historic investments in a green future. But more can be done by raising taxes on the largest, most profitable corporations.

Fundamentally, the coming tax debate is about who holds the reins in shaping our economy: mega-corporations and their wealthy shareholders, or the everyday people who keep the economy humming. Next year is an opportunity for Congress to stand firm against the rich and powerful and build the economy that we want to see.

Democrats gaming Medicare costs this election year

By JOEL WHITE

In the theater of American politics, few performances are as masterful as the Democratic Party's current sleight of hand with Medicare costs. As we approach the election, listen closely to the well-rehearsed lines: President Biden, the valiant warrior, battling "Big Pharma" to lower costs for the common man. Vice President Harris, echoing this heroic narrative on the campaign trail.

It's a captivating story, but one that conveniently obscures an inconvenient truth.

On July 29, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) unveiled a startling revelation: Medicare Part D "bid" rates -- essentially, the monthly cost of providing coverage to the average senior -- were poised to leap from $64.28 in 2024 to a staggering $179.45 in 2025. That's a 180 percent increase in one year. As bid rates surge, seniors' premiums inevitably follow suit. The timing of this revelation, just months before a presidential election, was a political catastrophe.

The culprit? The much-lauded Inflation Reduction Act (IRA), the crown jewel of the Biden-Harris administration.

The law was supposed to cap premium increases at 6 percent. So what happened? The authors of the law designed the cap to only apply to a portion of the premium, not what seniors actually pay for coverage. But the Democratic magicians have a trick up their sleeve: a "demo" program that will make these premium hikes mostly disappear -- at least until after the election.

This magical act of fiscal trickery involves a three-year, $72.5 billion taxpayer-funded bailout program. It's a dazzling display of creative accounting, complete with a $15 add-on payment to insurers for each senior they enroll in a participating plan, a limit on annual premium increases, and reduced risk for insurers.

It's a win-win for the Biden-Harris Administration and Part D plans -- but an absolute loss for the American taxpayer. This trick transforms the Medicare program from a carefully balanced risk-sharing arrangement into a taxpayer-funded safety net for plans.

The IRA, in its zeal to "fight Big Pharma," has inadvertently become a sprawling mechanism for raising taxes and expanding subsidies, turning the well-loved, privately managed Part D benefit into a government run nightmare. This "demo" is nothing more than a multibillion-dollar band-aid, desperately applied to mask the true costs of the IRA from seniors -- and voters -- until after the ballots are counted.

Because as any seasoned observer knows, in politics as in magic, what vanishes must eventually reappear. The premium spike hasn't been eliminated; it's merely been postponed.

This "demo" program is not just a stopgap measure, though. It's a tacit admission of policy failure. If the IRA was the fix it was promised to be, why the need for this elaborate, costly workaround?

The answer is clear and damning: the IRA, in its current form, is unsustainable without massive, ongoing government bailouts. Congress must work towards a long-term solution to fix the law and rebalance risk across taxpayers, insurers and Medicare beneficiaries.

Betty Martin DAR celebration held Sept. 28 offers scholarships and benefits Veterans

By NANCY McBRIDE

On September 28, the Temple Railroad Museum will be host to a 120-year celebration of service to the greater Temple area by the Betty Martin Chapter, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution. Education and service to veterans are two areas of focus for the chapter.

Graduating college-bound students seeking scholarship information will be able to get information on dozens of scholarships available for multiple disciplines including nursing, forestry, math, science, agriculture, history, English, teaching, law enforcement, and music as well as general studies. There are also numerous graduate scholarships available. Last year the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) gave out over 1.4 million dollars in scholarships. The Betty Martin Chapter of the DAR also offers two scholarships for local high school seniors.

Veterans can register to be considered for an Honor Flight.

The Honor Flight program flies veterans from Austin to Washington D.C. for a weekend. The program, free to the veteran, includes a tour of the memorials, an overnight stay in a hotel and meals. Upon arriving back in Austin, there is a celebration in honor of the veterans. The Betty Martin Chapter is raising funds for the Honor Flight which will be scheduled as soon as the goal is met. The first 100 veterans will receive a free pocket flag.

The celebration will also have activities for children, a photo booth, musical entertainment, and displays on the history of the chapter. The celebration is “come and go” from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Railroad Museum, 315 W Ave. B, Temple, TX.

Stillhouse Hollow Dam Project caused relocation of cemeteries in 1960's

The Bell County Historical Commission is hosting a program Sept. 23 on cemeteries and graves moved to provide additional water resources for Bell County.

There will be a reception at 5:30 p.m. and the program/meeting will begin at 6 p.m. in the Commissioners Court Room, on the second floor of the Bell County Courthouse, 101 E. Central Ave., in Belton

The presentation is being give by Joseph “Keith” George, a local historian. The relocation of 14 cemeteries and 311 graves was a very complex operation to include ensuring respect for the deceased as well as the families who had maintained the cemeteries and graves.

His love of history has taken him all over the country from Wounded Knee, Fort Reno Oklahoma to Fort Robinson Nebraska. He is currently working on the final stages of the lives of Chiefs Little Wolf and Dull Knife. Salado Cub Scout Pack 1115 hosted a Bike Rodeo on Sept. 15. (COURTESY PHOTO)

Salado Cub Scout Pack 1115 hosts Bike Rodeo Sept. 15

By JAY BRADLEY

Salado's Cub Scout Pack 1115, chartered by the Salado Lions Club, held an exciting Bike Rodeo that showcased the cycling skills of over 35 enthusiastic Cub Scouts. The event, held at the Salado United Methodist Church on Sept. 15, was a collaborative effort involving Officer Jennifer Latta of the Salado ISD Police Department and Sun Country Cycle of Temple, TX, both of whom played pivotal roles in ensuring the success of the day.

The Bike Rodeo was designed to enhance the Cub Scouts' biking abilities, with a focus on technique, safety, and understanding the rules of the road. Volunteers from the Pack and community set up a series of stations, each designed to challenge the Scouts' skills in a fun and educational manner. Prior to navigating these stations, each bike underwent a thorough inspection by Sun Country Cycling technicians of Temple to ensure it was in safe working condition. Officer Latta provided invaluable insight into road safety by delivering an engaging talk on the "Laws of the Road." Her session was interactive, filled with energetic questions and lively discussions from the Scouts, who were eager to share and learn about biking safety and road rules. Officer Latta's stories and advice were a highlight of the day, adding an extra layer of learning to the event.

The successful Bike Rodeo demonstrated the Pack's commitment to not only fostering biking skills but also promoting safety and community involvement. Looking ahead, Pack 1115 will continue its adventure with a Fall campout at Camp Tahuaya next month, and a visit to the Table Rock Amphitheater to explore the arts in Salado.

For parents of kids interested in joining Cub Scouts, Pack 1115 is open to children from Kindergarten through Fifth grade. For more information or to get involved, contact Pack 1115 at saladotxpack1115@gmail.com.

Eagles make Friday 13th horrifying for Giddings in 55-14 road win

BY LARNCE BARKER
SPECIAL CONTRIBUTOR

Giddings: Friday the 13th would prove to be in the Eagles' favor on the night. The Salado Eagles came into Friday night's non-district contest 0-2, but their complete effort of football on offense and defense would show otherwise. The Eagles lost the coin toss and kicked off to start the game with the Buffaloes receiving. The Giddings Buffaloes expected to drive the field and score first. The Eagles defense played tough, stingy and sure tackling in the first Giddings offensive series and got the football for the Eagles offense.

Quarterback Lincoln Hossfeld engineered the drive for the first Eagles offense series, scoring on a 27-yard run. Townes Sather PAT at the 6:46 mark in the first quarter to make the score 7-0.

On the ensuing kick-off by the Eagles, Anthony Angel lit up the Buffaloes' return man, causing him to fumble, recovered by Devonte Foster.

With a short field, it didn't take long for Hoss-feld to connect with Luke Bingham for 12-yard pass at the 6:34 mark in the first quarter. Sather's kick increased the lead to 14-0.

The Eagle's defense was like a team on a mission with 14 point lead after the kick-off to the Buffaloes. Giddings return team had a good return, but defensive play of Eagles would stifle the Buffaloes offense with great form tackling and total team effort to force the Buffaloes to a Field Goal attempt on fourth down in Eagle territory, but the attempt would be no-good. So, with a turnover on downs by close-fisted Eagles defense after the field goal attempt, the Salado Eagles were back in business on offense.

The next Eagles offensive series, Hossfeld would lead the Salado offense down the football field to the redzone and link a 6-yard TD pass to #16 TE Landon Noske at the 11:18 mark in the 2nd quarter with a Sather PAT to improve the Eagles score 21-0.

The Eagles defense would play tough against the Buffaloes offense to give the football back to the Salado Offense. Hossfeld would expand the Eagles lead by connecting with tight end Landon Noske for 62-yard touchdown pass and the PAT failed to bring the score 27-0.

Cade Fenoglio intercepted a Giddings pass with 0:19 seconds left in the first half to give the Eagles the football back and run the clock out to have a 27-0 lead at halftime.

Salado would set up the start of the third quarter on offense and strike quick. Hossfeld would execute and perfect TD pass to the speedy Brendan Wilson for 62 yards and with the Kicker Townes Sather PAT to surge the score 34-0 with 11:49 left in the third quarter.

After getting the football back for the Salado Offense, Wilson and Hossfeld would unite on a 26-yard TD Pass and with the Sather PAT the score would be 41-0 with 8:53 in the third quarter.

Giddings would take their next offensive series after the Eagles kick-off and maneuver their offense down the field to score their first touchdown of the game and with the point after touchdown the score would become 41-7 with 1:11 left in the 3rd quarter.

After receiving the Buffaloes kick-off, the Eagles offensive line (Center Brooks McLane, quick guard Robert Grant, strong guard Tyler Blackwell, quick tackle Daniel Flas, strong tackle Ethan Van De Plas and Noske) provided great run and pass blocking. Hossfeld scored again on a 23 yard TD run and a Sather PAT with 9:31 left to play and a lead of 48-7.

Giddings would muster-up one more touchdown and PAT with 4:31 left to play.

The Salado Defense tightened up on their next defense series with to keep the Buffaloes out of the endzone for the rest of the game with effort throughout the game with total tackles from Devonte Foster 14 tackles, two tackles for loss, one fumble recovery and one forced fumble; Michael Edmondson 12 tackles and one forced fumble; Cade Fenoglio 10 tackles with one interception; Anthony Angel six tackles with one forced fumble; Caine Crudas, Luke Bauser, Justin Blackwell, four tackles each, Gabe Hughes, two tackles; Dylan Jimenez, a TFL; Ethan Robledo with a fumble recovery.

The Eagles had a change of Quarterback Devonte Foster who threw a strike to Gabriel Merriman for 70 yards. Sather would tack on the extra point for the final score of 55-14.

- Hossfeld: Threw for 304 yards and four touchdowns, and rushed for 89 yards and two touchdowns
- Wilson had 116 receiving yards and two touchdowns.

- Giddings' record: Drops to 1-2, with their fifth straight loss at home

- Salado's record: Snaps their ten-game losing streak, and they also have a 1-2 record

Next up for Giddings is a game against Rockdale, and for Salado, it's a game against Little River Academy on the road Sept. 20. The Bees are 0-3.

Opening lead — king of clubs.

A slam was reached at more than half the tables, but whether it was made depended on whether the contract was six hearts or six diamonds.

Those pairs who got to six hearts had no chance. They had to lose a spade and a club and go down one. The temptation to play in six hearts (worth 1,430 points) rather than six diamonds (worth 1,370 points) proved irresistible to these pairs, and they paid a heavy penalty for their greed. But those who opted for six diamonds — on the sequence shown or one similar to it — were well-rewarded.

Making six diamonds was no problem. With 11 tricks to start, all declarer had to do was to ruff a club in dummy to produce a 12th trick.

This extra trick was not available to the pairs who played the hand in hearts. The trump suit with nine cards in the combined hands thus did not prove as propitious as the trump suit with only eight cards.

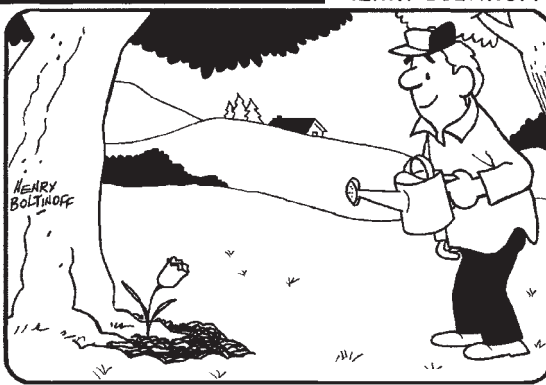

There is nothing extraordinary about this, as it is axiomatic that hands with a 4-4 trump fit are generally more productive than those that offer a choice of an alternative 6-3, 5-3 or 5-4 trump fit. One frequently gains a trick by playing in the 4-4 fit.
